J. P. GALLAGHER

Frank Woods, of Spencer, and the attorney for all parties concerned in the liquidation of the affairs of the Woods Credit Co., which failed to function after the failure of the First National Bank, at Spencer, which closed its doors about the 15th of July, were in consultation at the offices of Attorney J. A. Donohoe, Wednesday looking toward the settlement of the affairs. The attorneys from out of town were: C. H. Kelsey, of Norfolk, representing the Credit Co., G. D. Combs, of Omaha, representing the Federal Reserve bank, J. K. Sharp, representing a number of the creditors. J. A. Donohoe is the attorney for a number of the creditors, also.

On July 22nd Sheriff Duffy went to Wyoming township, on complaint of parties who reside in the township, and discovered a still in full operation. Charles Albright, better known as "Iron Mike" was arrested and brought to O'Neill, along with part of the mash. He was arraigned in Justice Campbell's court where he waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court under bonds which he furnished. The still was operated on a large scale, being located in a building built expressly for it, and the vat and cooling tank were "built in." The whole plant was complete with plumbing and other fixtures necessary to conduct the manufacture of "moonshine" on a large scale. About 250 gallons of mash was found. In order for the sheriff and party to remove the still it was necessary to tear down the building. The outfit was moved to the Fred Watson farm where it awaits further developments.

HAPPILY WED.
(Ewing Advocate.)
A very pretty home wedding occurred at the home of Mrs. Lottie Benson on Tuesday morning, July 25, at 7:30, when Miss Margaret Grace Benson was united in marriage to Mr. John Ward Dalton, of Chicago, Ill., Rev. J. B. Porter, of the United Presbyterian church officiating. Only the immediate family witnessed the ceremony.

The ring ceremony was used, little Phyllis Benson acting as ring bearer. Immediately after the ceremony, a bountiful wedding breakfast was served. The newlyweds left on the morning train for Monmouth, Illinois, for a short honeymoon, after which they will make their home in Chicago.

The bride is so well and favorably known here that it is useless for us to dwell upon her many virtues and accomplishments. She graduated from the Ewing public schools, and for the past two years has been a teacher in the same schools. She has been active in church and social circles here, and will be greatly missed by all her friends.

The groom is an expert accountant in Chicago, and he, as well as his new life partner, are both graduates of Monmouth. He is a young man of sterling quality, and we predict for this happy couple a long and blissful wedded life.

DECISIVE ACTION NEEDED IN COAL STRIKE SITUATION

Every week of which the parties to the strike take to "inquire" into the situation brings us that much nearer a crisis which threatens to destroy the recent national revival of business. The only fact which is changing with this passage of time is the amount of reserve fuel available in this country. Everything else is exactly as it was when the strike began more than three months ago. Fundamental conditions behind the strike are the same now as then, except for depreciation of reserves. Any investigation which may be undertaken today or next week or next month can reveal only the same material facts which would have been revealed three months ago. Obviously it is useless to delay longer.

The government should make that clear to miners and operators. If they still refuse to come together on the matter of wages and working conditions which will at the same time protect the rights of the consumer, they should understand that a government for the people must of necessity insure a supply of fuel which will keep the industries of the country in operation and provide heat for homes in the coming winter.

The President cannot be too emphatic upon that point. His recent statement that "labor and capital have rights, but above all else the American public has the right to be freed from these recurring anxieties" expresses nothing but the truth. But the direct parties to the strike have proved that they are unimpressed by the truth. If they maintain that attitude any longer, definite prepara-
