The members of the next session of the legislature have an opportunity to do something for the farmers of this state by passing some kind of a law that will make it difficult for the numerous chicken thieves to market their plunder. After the ceremony at the church the bride and groom, accompanied by relatives and a number of their intimate friends, repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was enjoyed.

DIFFICULT TO LOCATE THIS SILVERWARE COMPANY

The following article is taken from the Columbus Telegram of a recent issue. A large number of the letters were received by O'Neill people several weeks ago:

Mail addressed to the United, American or Universal Silverware company, of Montreal, Canada, is being intercepted by postal inspectors and returned to the senders, says Postmaster Scofield. Operating at different times under the three names mentioned, the alleged "silverware company" for some months past has been sending people at various points in the United States a notice to the effect that they had won a handsome set of silverware as a prize in a contest and the same would be shipped at once if they would send 98 cents to cover cost of packing and postage. One Columbus man who received such notice says he had never participated in any such contest and doesn't believe one ever was held. "It looks to me like the 'company' relies upon the fact that people who receive those letters, even though they never participated in the alleged contest, will send the money, thinking the 'company' has made a mistake and it's an easy way to get a set of silverware, or will make the remittance thinking that some friend may have sent in their name." Uncle Sam is trying to lay his hands on the "company." Thus far he has not succeeded because of its frequent change of name, but in the meantime he is intercepting and returning the letters of susceptible people who swallow the bait.

(Lincoln Journal)

William Decker, of Page, Nebraska, may be the deputy secretary of state under Charles Pool, secretary of state-elect. Mr. Decker, who is a dirt farmer, actually engaged in operating his ranch near Page, had charge of automobile registration in Secretary Pool's office during the latter's previous incumbency of the office. He is one of the Democratic wheelhorses of eastern Holt county and to his effort is attributed Mr. Pool's carrying Holt county. Decker's friends already have begun to urge his claims with Mr. Pool.
