 Verdigre Citizen: Married, in Niobrara on February 9th, by Judge T. N. Paxton, Mr. James A. Forbes to Miss Lettie A. Wood, both of Paddock, Holt county. We congratulate our friend Forbes in this happy event of his life, and we know neither will regret this important undertaking, for it is said that "the man who marries early, and brings up a good family, does more than he who continues single and talks only of population."
 Inman Leader: Geo. Paxton, of Inman, and Miss Leona Herman, of Greeley, Colo., were married at Alliance, by the county judge on February 8th. The couple arrived here last week after a short wedding trip and have gone to housekeeping on the Gallagher Brothers ranch east of Inman where they will be at home. The groom is a brother of Irvin Paxton, and has visited here for several months during the past year.
 The County Court, Judge C. J. Malone presiding, was occupied Monday afternoon in the trial of the case of The State of Nebraska against Charles Green, charged with giving away intoxicating liquor. Mr. Green resides near Amelia and was charged with giving liquor to Herman DeGroff, also of that place. He was found guilty and fined $100.00. County Attorney Julius D. Cronin prosecuted and George Harrington defended.
 Chambers Sun: The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Van Conet, who run the Newboro postoffice, will be grieved to learn they had the misfortune to lose their home by fire last Sunday. Mrs. Van Conet filled a pitcher full of gasoline, and while attending to other household duties one of the children poured some of the gasoline into another vessel thinking it was water threw it into the stove. There was a tremendous explosion and the house was soon a roaring furnace. Mrs. Van Conet was severely burned on the arms and shoulders, the child was also slightly burned.
 Stuart Advocate: After a very enjoyable visit of more than four months with relatives and friends in Guentigfeld, Gelsenkirchen, Essen, Dusseldorf and other parts of Germany, Frank Holderberg returned to Stuart Tuesday evening. He reports his relatives as enjoying good health and are doing nicely in business in accordance with the pressing times there. According to Mr. Holderberg, with American money a person can live extravagantly at very low cost. When crossing the sea, the weather was ideal, with very few storms. He was in the Ruhr district when the French took possession of it, but no outbreaks had occurred up to the time when he left.
 Inman Leader: We notice by the Norfolk News that Lyman Arkfeld, who formerly lived in this vicinity, but of late years has been a residence of Norfolk has moved to Omaha where he has formed a company and will manufacture and place on the market his new invention, known as the Arkfeld Pig Saver. The new invention is intended to save the pigs from being crushed to death. Arkfeld made the discovery that many of his pigs were being killed in this manner. He made an iron band which he placed about the body of the baby pigs, the result was the saving of many litters. He then equipped the iron band with tiny spikes and has recently secured a patent on the device.
 Ewing had another fire last Friday morning. About three o'clock in the morning fire was discovered coming from the bedroom of the restaurant operated by Glen Davis and wife. From all reports the water was low in the supply tank and along with numerous complications that arose, the firemen were unable to control the fire until the buildings occupied by the Davis restaurant, Peterson soft drink parlor and the Jacobson shoe store and repair shop were totally destroyed. Very little of the contents of any of the buildings were saved. Some of the shoe stock was carried out but most of it was more or less damaged. We understand that the Davis restaurant and the Jacobson shoe store was partially covered by insurance, but that the Peterson soft drink parlor and the Trussell building which was occupied by the Davis restaurant were without insurance. Ewing and Emmet seem to be having their share of conflagrations.

 Mr. Wood is the son of C. L. Wood residing one and one-half miles southeast of Page and is a hustling young man of good habits. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rutherford, who resides six miles southeast of Page, and is an industrious young lady who has earned her education by hard work while assisting in keeping the home fires burning.
 The happy young couple departed for points in eastern Nebraska where they will visit relatives for several weeks when they will return to their farm near Page where they will be at home to their friends about April 1st.

PASTOR STRICKEN AS SERVICE ENDS

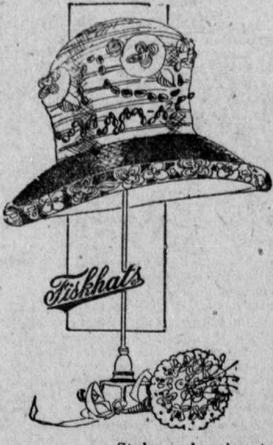

The following article appeared in Saturday's issue of the Norfolk News, and refers to Paul Green, who conducted revival services here at the Methodist church a few years ago:

"Merriman, Neb.: Revival meetings at this place were in full swing under leadership of Evangelist Paul Green, when the evangelist was suddenly stricken with what Dr. G. F. Bartholomew pronounced a paralytic stroke, lasting an hour and a half in which the evangelist was in a semi-conscious state. The Rev. Mr. Green had just closed an hour and half service and had pronounced the benediction. Stepping from the pulpit, he was suddenly taken with a severe pain in the head and a few seconds later he was prostrate on the floor. By morning he had so far recovered as to take some nourishment, and by noon was making preparations for the evening service.

O'NEILL WOMAN'S CLUB PRESENT OPERA "SHANEWIS"

The auditorium of the public school building was comfortably well filled last Friday evening to hear the musical program given under the auspices of the O'Neill Woman's Club of this city, who gave the entertainment for the purpose of raising money which will be applied upon the purchase of a piano for their club room in the city library basement.

The first part of the program was given to the presentation of the story and musical excerpts from the opera "Shanewis." Miss Anna O'Donnell read the story while Mrs. H. J. Reardon and Miss Irma Stout sang and Mrs. Clifford B. Scott played the musical excerpts.
 Following the story of "Shanewis" Mrs. F. J. Kubitschek gave a classical dance; Miss Loretta Phalin gave a reading; Miss Ruth and Mr. Clifford B. Scott gave a violin selection; Mrs. J. P. Gilligan gave one of Bess Streeter Aldrich's Nell Cutter stories; the entertainment was closed with an interpretative dance "The Shiek," by Mrs. F. J. Kubitschek.
 The program throughout was very entertaining and worthy of the generous applause which it received.

COUNTY ROAD MONEY TO BE PROPERLY DIVIDED

The county road money will be divided differently this year from what it has been in former years. Under the new program one-half of all the money collected in each road district in the county will be placed in the road fund in that district while the other one-half will be placed in the county general road fund. All the money collected in the different township for road purposes will be placed in the road fund in the township in which it was collected; one-half of the said money must be expended in the road district in which it was collected, while the other half may be spent anywhere in the township. County Attorney Julius D. Cronin advised the county board that this was the proper method of disposing of the road money and they have ordered the county treasurer to so distribute the funds.
