THEODORE FRANCIS SHERMAN.

Theodore Francis Sherman, one of our oldest and most beloved citizens, passed away at the Old Soldier's Home at Grand Island, Nebraska, after an illness of nearly ten years. He was born at Rochester, New York, in 1837, and departed this life on February 27, 1923, at the age of eighty-six years. He moved with his parents from Rochester, when a small boy, to Mineral Point, Wisconsin, where he grew to manhood. He was united in marriage to Mary Galbrith in 1861. To this union were born eleven children, three boys and eight girls. Mr. Sherman has known all of the hardships of the early settler. He with his family came here in a covered wagon and homesteaded at Mineola in 1881. Here he made his home until in September, 1887, when his wife passed away, since then he has made his home with the children until two years ago when he went to the soldier's home.

He leaves to mourn his departure five daughters: Mrs. Viola Morgan and Mrs. Rhoda Mesner, of this city; Mrs. Jessie Bright, of Los Angeles, California; Mrs. Flutie Barnes, of Cody; Mrs. Phoebe Davis, of Page; three sons: Harry, of Springfield, Henry, of Sparks, and Charles, of Cody; and twenty-three grand children, sixteen great grand children.

Funeral services were held at the M. E. church on Friday, March 2nd, conducted by Rev. J. A. Hutchins. Interment being made in the Mineola cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our most sincere thanks for the assistance and sympathy tendered us during the death and burial of our beloved father, Mrs. Viola Morgan.

Mrs. Rhoda Mesner and brothers and sisters.

WOMAN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES.

The Literary Department held one of the most interesting meetings of the year on Wednesday, February 28. The theme for the day was Willa Cather's most remarkable story of early Nebraska life "My Antonia." Mrs. Malone gave a review of the book, giving many interesting details, and sketching in the scenes and characters in such a way that those who had not read the book lost nothing of the important points.

Mrs. B. Helen Gallagher gave the discussion which was most highly enjoyed. Mrs. Gallagher's discussion contained several remarkable character sketches, which caused the personnel of the story to stand out in bold relief, until her listeners could almost see the characters in her vivid portrayal.

Next Wednesday, March 14th, will be "Smile Day" in this department. A "Smile Program" will be rendered, followed by a social hour, and light refreshments will be served. A large attendance is desired.

The Frontier, only $2.00 per year.

BAG TWO GOOD GAMES

The Spencer Legion team was defeated by the local Legion basketball team at the High school gymnasium last Friday evening, 17 to 11. The Chambers Legion met defeat at the gymnasium Wednesday evening, the score being 32 to 12 in favor of O'Neill.

"THELMA"

For years Miss Novak with true feminine leanings longed to appear in picture where she could discard outdoor apparel and attire herself in accordance with fashion's latest edicts. "Thelma" gave her the first chance. In this production, which has been constructed upon a lavish scale, she wears a varied assortment of Parsian gowns, shoes and imported furs that would make the attire of a former Russian Princess seem mediocre by comparison. Gowns valued at more than $40,000 and furs costing in excess of $25,000 were worn by Miss Novak and several professional models in one of the big scenes of "Thelma." The scenes were staged in a London modiste's shop, where Miss Novak, as "Thelma," goes to try on some gowns for the grand ball, making her debut in London society.

THE PLOT.

Act I. Six little sisters are in their playroom on a rainy afternoon. Growing tired of their books and toys they all go to sleep except Anita, who tries hard to keep awake, hoping there will be a rainbow. As they sleep, the sun comes out; the Rainbow Queen, who in her Fairyland home, "Over the Rainbow," has heard the children's conversation, hangs out her rainbow, and crossing it, comes with her Maids of Honor to awaken the children and invite them to her home.

Act II. In Rainbow Land, in the palace of the Queen the Sunbeams and the Moonbeams are busy making light for the world. The Queen and her attendants arrive. For the entertainment of the visitors all the Fairies, that is the Dewdrops, Snowflakes, etc., sing and dance. When the children decide to return home the Queen explains that no one will be worried by their absence. She warns them never to tell any grown-up folks of their visit, as it would probably be doubted and called a dream. After singing, they bid each other farewell and the children return to their home, "Over the Rainbow."

MASTERS-GROEUNBERG.

(Atkinson Graphic.)
Jerry Eugene Masters, of Atkinson, and Miss Elsie Mae Greenberg, of Stuart, were married at the Methodist parsonage in this city Wednesday afternoon, February 28. The couple will go to housekeeping on the Chas. Buckman ranch immediately.
