Although it built nineteen miles of roads in Grattan township south of the Elkhorn river and repaired and maintained roads in the entire township during the last two years, the retiring township board, composed of James Kelly, chairman, Joe McNicholls, treasurer; and James McDermott, clerk, conducted its operations carefully and economically that it was able to turn over to the incoming board on March 6th, an unexpended balance of township funds totaling $9,094.97. The board during 1922 expended $3,663.97 on roads outside of O'Neill and $469.65 within the city limits, or a total of $4,133.62. The two other boys of the party having taken their departure before the sheriff arrived. The parents of the boys were notified and W. C. Davis, father of one of the boys, came up and took the Norfolk lads home with him; Chief of Police Pilger came along and took charge of the Gordon boy.

O'NEILL HIGH DEFEATED AT STATE TOURNAMENT

The High School basketball team participated in the State High school basketball tournament which was held in Lincoln last week, March 8th, 9th and 10th.

The O'Neill team was classified as a Class E team, which was a very high rating for our team. This class included some of the best teams of both the Wayne and the Peru tournaments.

Two of the team left O'Neill Tuesday noon, going to Lincoln with Mr. Mayfield, who was hauling his household goods. They did not arrive until Thursday afternoon because of the bad condition of the roads.

The boys were scheduled to play Lyons in the first round. This game was won by a forfeit, Lyons failing to appear. In the next round the boys played Gretna and were beaten 14 to 0. Inability to locate the basket was probably the cause of their defeat.

The score at the end of the first half, 3 to 0, indicates a fairly even game. The teamwork of the O'Neill boys was good, the work of Mellor deserves mentioning.

Even though the trip was not a success from the basket ball point of view the boys did derive a great deal of good and enjoyment in taking the trip. On Saturday evening the boys were invited to a party given by Mrs. Mills, 621 So. 18th at whose home the boys were staying.

KIRWAN'S BAD EGG MAKES HIT WITH FISHERMEN

When a merchant over at Lake Andes, South Dakota, slipped a couple of ancient and spoiled eggs into an order he was filling for fishermen at the great black bass resort last summer he handed one of them a fortune, unaware. The next day, out on the big lake, Mike Kirwan, O'Neill sportsman and naturalist discovered them, hard boiled, in his lunch basket and tossed them peeled into the water. The big bass were not biting particularly good that day on the wobblers and fluted baits the fisherman was using, but as the eggs sank slowly into the depths two big bass darted out from their concealment in the moss and swallowed them, which is why Kirwan now is threatened with becoming a millionaire. That night in camp he whittled out a couple of plugs in the shape of eggs and hung a couple of treble hooks to each of them. The next day the bass became hysterical over the new bait and Kirwan caught his limit long before the other members of the party had raised a strike. More of the baits were made for other members of the party the next evening and later some for fishing parties to the lakes of Cherry county, and some went south and west last fall and this winter with a couple of fishermen in the more advanced and violent stages. There the editor of one of the outdoor magazines ran across them and felt called upon to write a story of their merit. Now Kirwan is kept so busy making Kirwan Bad Egg plugs and supplying mail orders for them that he has found it necessary to set up a shop and employ several assistants.

Sunday Ira Moss caught the first bass of the season, with a casting rod and using the Kirwan bait, in the Elkhorn river. The fish weighed four and one-quarter pounds and is believed to be the first game fish caught with a casting rod and artificial bait in the state this year. Moss is being threatened with expulsion from the O'Neill Country club for thus early opening the fishing season while the club is engaged in a membership campaign and stock-selling drive for the new club house.

Golfers attending the northeast Nebraska tournament to be held at O'Neill next May will be afforded the comforts and conveniences of a brand new club house, one of the most modern and commodious of any outside of the country clubs of Omaha, Lincoln and Norfolk, in Nebraska. Decision to erect the new club house was arrived at by members of the O'Neill Country club existed as an informal club was incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000. The O'Neill country club existed as an informal social organization for a number of years and two years ago leased a new golf course adjoining the city on the west and which is pronounced by golf experts as one of the best natural courses in the state.

Since its lease of the property the club has made extensive improvements and this winter it was decided to purchase the property outright before completing the program of permanent improvements. Accordingly, a stock company was formed, the formal articles of incorporation being adopted at the Friday night meeting, at which an architect was also engaged to prepare estimates for the new club house and other things planned. The board of directors chosen for the ensuing year are James Donohoe, F. J. Dishner, H. E. Coyne, S. J. Weekes, Hugh Birmingham, John Hiber, and C. B. Scott. Following the meeting the board of directors met and elected the following officers for the club.

President, James A. Donohoe; vice-president, F. J. Dishner; secretary, C. B. Scott; treasurer, Hugh J. Birmingham.

All of the capital stock of $10,000, except 25 per cent, to be retained as treasury stock, already has been subscribed and paid in and the improving of the golf course will start at once.

"THE FLIRT."

More pictures like "The Flirt," at the Royal Theatre, Sunday and Monday, and there would be no motion picture censors.

Clean, brilliant and dramatic, "The Flirt" is one of the best pictures ever offered a public as an antidote for sin, sorrow and slumber.

Booth Tarkington wrote it as a vivid cross-section of American family life.

It was filmed at Universal City under the direction of Hart Henley, and is released as a Universal-Jewel production with a cast that is entitled to be called "all-star."

Eileen Percy, blonde and flippantly pretty, plays the title role. Helen Jerome Eddy, beautiful, of a type dis-

CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN HAS BEEN SUED FOR $20,260

George W. Egelston, a switchman, has filed suit in the Holt county district court, asking damages of $20,260 from the Northwestern railroad. The petition alleges that on January 30th of this year a plank fell from the top of a box car he was assisting to switch in the Northwestern yards at Fremont, striking him on the head and lacerating his scalp, causing permanent injuries to his scalp, head, brain and parts of the skull, as a result of which he is prevented from performing his duties. He charges that the car being switched had just been repaired and that a servant of the company had carelessly left the plank atop the car, which plank was jarred off and upon him while he was making a coupling. The damages asked are $20,000, with $160 for lost time and $100 for doctor bills and medical attention.
