A whale skull, so large that it had to be sawed into eight pieces for handling and crating, was recently found on the shore of Alitak bay, Alaska, by a representative of the biological survey, United States department of agriculture, who was in the territory investigating the fox farming industry. First aid was given by the skipper of a passing ship, who took it to a nearby cannery, from which place it was possible to send it to the states. In accordance with a co-operative understanding the skull was sent to the Smithsonian Institution, at Wash.

REWARD GOES TO COMMERCIAL CLUB

Nebraska Bankers Pay $1,000 to Organization at Decatur for Capture of Robbers.

Decatur, Neb., April (Special.)-The local Chamber of Commerce has received the $1,000 reward offered by the Nebraska Bankers' association for the capture of the men who robbed the State Bank of Decatur last June.

Because of the large number of citizens taking part in the capture it was agreed by the community to turn the fund over to the chamber to be used for civic purposes.

UNUSUAL SUIT OVER WAYNE COUNTY LAND

Lincoln, Neb., April Special.)-As one reason for not paying the $105,000 additional that he agreed to hand over to Edward Perry in a deal of 365 acres of Wayne county land, Charles Meyer, jr., told the supreme court, where his appeal from an adverse judgment was submitted, that a trust deed to the land made 52 years ago stands in the way of his securing a perfect title to the land.

Back in 1871, Willard Graves made a deed in which he put all of his holdings in a trust for the purpose of founding a college at which "liberal courses of study should be taught to persons of both sexes and of every race and faith." His one stipulation was that it be built along the Union Pacific railway. Dona-tions from others, including the town that got the college, were to be accepted.

The trustees were to rent the land, invest the proceeds, and at the end of 25 years, sell the land for the benefit of the college. The trustees never qualified, and the heirs brought suit to have the deed declared void. The trustees made only a nominal defense, and the heirs got the land. They sold it in the course of time, and now Meyer says that this was a public trust and is still alive because the public, the real defendant, was not made a party to the suit brought by the heirs.

Perry's lawyers told the court that after Meyer had paid the $30,000 down and executed notes and a mortgage for $105,000, the boom collapsed and value decreased, so that at present values he stands to lose $50,000. Meyer's wants his money back and the land returned to Perry, because he could not give a merchantable title. He pleaded that as Perry will get the land under foreclosure he ought not to complain.

BEET GROWERS SIGN NEW PRICE SCHEDULE

Scottsbluff, Neb., April -- A new scale of wages for workers in sugar beet fields was agreed upon here Monday subject to the approval of the Colorado headquarters of the Great Western Sugar Company, providing a minimum of $21 an acre for work on fields yielding 12 tons of beets or less, and 50 cents for each additional ton harvested. The rate paid last year was $18 an acre.

The agreement was made by the Co-operative Beet Growers' association and Edmund Simmons, Nebraska district manager for the sugar company, and Gus Heldt, agricultural superintendent.

The contract covers the price paid for hand labor in the beet fields. Under it workers agree to thin, hoe and top an acre of sugar beets for $21 an acre.

PERSHING SAYS WORLD NOT YET AT PEACE

Lincoln, Neb., April ,Special.)-In his address Thursday, at the dedication of a memorial avenue to the soldier dead of Lincoln, General Pershing, who made the principal speech, said it would be inapt to say these boys had not died in vain until the world is at peace. He praised their sacrifice and devotion and added "the world is not at peace. I hope the same displayed during the war will not be relaxed until peace comes to the world."

ADJOURNMENT IS BEING TALKED OF Nebraska House Members Become Restive-Appropriation Bills to Be Considered.

Lincoln, Neb., . . (Special.)-The legislature is beginning to talk adjournment in earnest. Heretofore hints of quitting soon were not entertained. The house has now been in continuous session for 68 days. Two years ago it was in actual session 91 days and the senate 82 days.

The final adjournment was April 28. The house will dive into the appropriation bills during the week. The action of the house committee on finance in cutting off $600,00 from the budget estimate of Governor Bryan will in all probability be approved. The legislature is committed to the utmost economy in public expenditures during the next two years.

The friends of the extension department of the university are much disappointed over the reduction of mearly $100,000 in the biennial estimates for maintaining that department. With this cut comes the loss of the corresponding benefits from the federal appropriation.

The house is against sending women to the state penitentiary at Lincoln. A house bill contains a provision that instead of sending wemen to Lincoln to send them to the woman reformatory at York.

The house has added a new set of teeth to the state prohibitory law. It has recommended for passage house rule 382 which provides that the possession in one's house of moonshine whisky shall be prima facie evidence that it was illegally secured, and the burden of proof is on the person who has it. The second amendment provides that if a person about to be arrested for violation of the law shall in the presence of a state or federal officer pour out, throw away out of a vehicle or shall break any bottle jugs or containers when under suspicion this shall be prima facie evidence that he was violating the prohibitory law and he must prove that he was not.

EXAMINE RECORDS OF FAIR BOARD

Senate Passes Bill Including Board of Education and Highway Commission Start to Sift.

Des Moines, Ia., March (Special) -Today's fight in the senate was on the Buser bill to require annual state audit of the state fair board, the board of education and the highway commission. Buser charged that there were several things in the report of these institutions which looked suspicious and cited one specific instance when he said "the fair board built a $14,000 residence for its secretary out of state funds."

Later speakers revealed that this residence is on the fair grounds and is occupied by the person who acts as the custodian of the state property there.

The bill was passed by a close vote. Senators who opposed its argued that the present laws authorized examination of the departments in question by the state accountant, who is under orders of the state executive council. The only reason such examinations have not been made, they said, was that the legislature has always neglected to give him enough help.

The senate decided today to go on a sifting committee basis on April 5, next Thursday, and 12 days before adjournment. Under the rule adopted today this committee will take over all bills not then on the senate calendar and no bill will be brought up for consideration after that time except upon approval of the sifting committee.

The house passed a bill to prolong indefinitely the present salaries of county officers and their deputies. The only changes made by the bill as it was finally passed by the house are to increase the pay of assistant county attorneys $500 in Woodbury, Linn and Scott counties and to put Dubuque county into the 60,000 population class.

VETERAN SOLONS GET LESS THAN NEW ONES

Cheyenne, Wyo.-Experience and "seniority" are not compensated in the 17th Wyoming legislature, in session here, and 12 members of the present body who are holdovers from the 16th general assembly are receiving only $8 per diem, while 13 members of the senate and 60 members of the house are drawing $12 per diem.

The anomalous situation is caused by that section of the state constitution which forbids that the salary of a state officer shall be increased during his term of office a provision designed to prevent officers authorized to fix salaries from taking advantage of their authority to benefit their pocketbooks.

The increase in salary was voted in the last legislature.

WILL SHOWS HIS LOVE FOR WIFE

Paragraphs of Instrument Are Quite Out of Ordinary -Was Deply Religious.

Lincoln, Neb., March -- Excerpts from the will of the late r. J. Doyle, filed for probate in county court here, read like paragraphs from a love letter. He wrote tenderly of the profound affection he had for his wife. He wrote:

Now, dear Lide, something tells me I am speaking my farewell to you. Believe me, it is the hardest duty I ever had to preform. You have been all this world to me.

"The most serious regret in the thought of dissolution is the separation from you. Now, dear Lide, good bye. Should I speak fully the sentiments which thrill my soul the world would mock me when I am gone. Believe me, with every fibre of my being I am intensely and uncompromisingly yours."

"Of his religion Mr. Doyle wrote: I believe in the immortality of the soul, in future rewards and punishment, in the efficacy of prayer, in the absolute authority of the Catholic church in all things spiritual pertaining to this world, that the mass is the most efficacious appeal the world makes to the powers of heaven."

The will was drawn 10 years ago. "Let the tribute from my friends be a mask for the repose of my soul." he directed in asking a simple burial. "I desire the members of my family to recite the Rosary's five mysteries and invoke God's blessing on my

TO GET $37,500 FOR SIGHT LOSS

Railroad Company Held Responsible for Presence of Explosive In Car Load of Coal.

Lincoln, Neb., March ' (Special) .-Johnny O'Hara, 18-year-old boy, blind in both eyes as the result of an accident four years ago, is to get the $37,500 judgment that the supreme court some time ago held the road should pay. Friday afternoon it overruled the railroad's plea for a rehearing, and a mandate will issue requiring payment.

The boy was working on a coal car for the road, and in it he found a fulminating cap of the kind used in coal mining, which had not been exploded. In investigating it he pulled wire that sent the charge into his eyes. The company insisted that it was not part of the boy's job to investigate the character of objects found in cars, and while sorry for him insisted it could not be held liable. The court says it was clearly liable for the negligence that resulted in the deadly explosive being in the car.

REHEARING DENIED IN BANK TAXATION COST

Lincoln, Neb., March (Special.) -The supreme court Friday afternnoon entered a decree denying the application of the attorney general for a rehearing of the case in which it decided that the levy of state bank taxes for the full value of the stock was invalid. It appeared that when the legislature passed the intangible tax law, which says that moneys and credits shall be listed at 25 per cent. of their value, it made it impossible for the state, under a federal law, to tax national banks stock any more than 25 per cent. This, in turn, created a discriminative condition against the state banks, and let them in under the same provision, in spite of the fact that the state law clearly says they shall be taxed at their full

GASOLINE INSPECTION LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Lincoln, Neb., March -In an opinion handed down Friday evening the supreme court held unconstitutional the law providing for a tax of 6 cents a barrel for inspection of gasoline, the question being raised in the case of the Century Oil Company against the state department of agriculture. The court finds that "in practical operation under existing conditions a statutory fee of 6 cents a barrel for inspecting gasoline creates an excessive fund in the nature of revenue in addition to the expenses of inspection and for that reason violates the constitutional provisions relating to taxation."

In the district court where the case was tried the opinion held that the fee might be regarded as in the nature of an excise tax. The case was before the supreme court six years ago and the ruling is practically identical.

Lincoln will have a population July 1, 1923 of 58,761, the censusu bureau officials estimated. Its population, according to the 1920 census was 54,-

Populations of other Nebraska cities July 1, 1923, were estimated as Grand Island, 15,000; Hastings, 12,-478, and North Platte, 12,511.

BRAKEMAN GRABS CHILD IN TIME

Makes Heroic Rescue of Babe From Tracks In Front of a Heavy Train.

Grand Island, Neb., April 'Special).-Grabbing Carl Reinecke, 4 years old, from in front of a locomotive with but two feet to spare, Roy Miller, Burlington brakeman, sathe child's life. The babe crowled on to the track just as a freight of $5 cars entered the yards. Brakes were applied, but the weight of the long train prevented a stop. The brakeman took the lad home and then resumed his duties with the freight crew as if nothing had happened.

RADIO EXPERT BLAMES BIRDS FOR STATIC

O'Neill, Neb., April ' (Special) .-Responsibility for unusual static disturbances seriously interfering with radio receiving sets in north Nebraska the last few weeks at last is believed to be definitely located by Prof. M. H. Horiskey, local savant who has spent a lifetime in the study of electricity, at present engaged in radio research. The vast flocks of migratory fowl at present winging their way to the northward, are responsible, says he.

BIG CROW HUNT TO BE STAGED NEXT SUNDAY

O'Neill, Neb., April (Special.)-Farmers and sportsmen of Holt and Boyd counties will endeavor to reduce the visible supply of crows in the two counties in a mammoth crow hunt to be staged along Oak creek, near its junction with Eagle creek, in northern Holt county next Sunday. Hunters from Lynch, Bristow, Butte and Naper in Boyd county, and O'Neill, Atkinson, Stuart, Page, Inman and Emmett in Holt county are expected to participate and more than 200 gunners already have signifled their intention of being present. The hunt will be under the direction of James McPharlin and Ed O'Donnell, of O'Neill, president and secretary respectively of the Holt County and North Nebraska Crow Extermination association and will meet at the Stevener crossing over Eagle creek Sunday morning. Oak creek enters the Eagle a short distance from the meeting place and extending for several miles immediately above it mouth is located one of the largest rookeries in the state. Hunters also are to be stationed along the flyways and a slaughter numbering into the thousands is expected. Every one who can or who thinks he can shoot crows is invited to participate in the affair.

MOTHER AND CHILD DIE FROM SUFFOCATION

Newton, Ia., April -Mrs. Arthur Watt, 38 years old, and her 3-yearold daughter, Mary Jean, died of suffocation from the smoke of a fire which destroyed the upper story of their farm home, eight miles south of Neighbors discovered their bodies in a bed downstairs when they went to the place to put out the flames. Mrs. Watt was dead. Efforts to revive the child, who showed slight signs of life, failed.

Mrs. Watt and her daughter were alone. Mr. Watt had gone to Newton and the maid had not returned from Ira, where she had gone to visit friends on Easter Sunday.

The cause of the fire has not been ascertained, but neighbors believe that it resulted from sparks from the chimney.

The mother and her daughter are believed to have been taking an afternoon nap. Mrs. Watt has been in ill health following an attack of the flu three years ago, and has been subject to paralysis. The theory that she had an attack of paralysis and might not have been able to seek safety after discovering the flames was indicated by slight signs of struggle.

"Can you find a stolen house?" a man asked at Milwaukee police headquarters. The house was a model bungalow, 2 by 3 feet, used recently at a lumberman's exhibit. It was taken from the baggage room at a hotel.

South Carolina may collect a million or two dollars through her proposed occupation tax of $2 on each laborer in the state, but the levy seems hard to justify. Special taxes are presumably assessed because of special privileges or special protection of some sort. The average man who goes out to earn his living with his bare hands enjoys the privileges of schools, the benefits of law and order and all public improvements as fully as the heavy tax payers.

POSTMASTER ALSO IS BUSINESS MAN

His Jobbing Trade Served by Parcel Post and Receipts of Office Increase · Greatly.

Alma, Neb., April ' (Special)-Claude Grace, postmaster at Mascot, Neb., through his own business enterprise has advanced the postoffice from fourth class to the presidential class. A year ago the salary was $250 a year. Now it is equal to that of any other office in Harlan county. Grace started jobbing a standard brand of tires and tubes from Mascot. Shipment was made by parcel post and to supply the 500 dealers in Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Colorado and Wyoming, parcel post receipts jumped until one day 600 tubes and 274 tires were mailed, requiring almost the capacity of a mail car to carry them. Postal receipts are now more than $4,000 a.

BRAGGED OF MOONSHINING, WOMAN BEING HELD

Omaha Neb., April -Louise Vinciquerra, 23, who announced through local newspapers. Wednesday that she was retiring from the bootlegging business, after cleaning up $45,000 in 17 months, was taken into custody today by federal prohibition agents and a deputy United States marshal on a warrant charging her with illegal possession of liquor. "That's what I get for talking too much," she said, as she was being arrested.

"Internal revenue agents, attracted by newspaper publicity given Mrs. Vinciquerra, have discovered that neither she nor her husband filed returns last year and are investigating their failure to do so. In refusing bond offered by an uncleof Mrs. Vinciquerra, Assistant United. States Attorney Keyser declared, "I am investigating to ascertain if we can close her home as a public nuisance. She can't expect to violate the law and then come out openly and boast to newspaper men how clever she was. That doesn't go with the government."
