J. Parnell Golden is the golf champion of Nebraska. Mr. Golden won the title Wednesday, in the concluding play of the second annual invitation golf tournament of the O'Neill County Club, which began last Sunday, by defeating P. J. O'Donnell, the runner-up, two holes in a thirty-six-hole contest. The concluding play was witnessed by a large gallery. The same day F. N. Cronin won the president's consolations by defeating Ed Campbell one up and W. H. Harty won the secretary's consolations by defeating Dr. L. A. Burgess three up and two to go.

The tournament was an unqualified success from every standpoint, and much credit is due to Directors John W. Hiber, secretary of the event, F. J. Dishner, superintendent of the course, and Dr. L. A. Carter, for its so being. Visiting golfers declare that they had the time of their lives and all promised to come back next year. A surplus of about twenty dollars was left from the tournament fund and Director Hiber immediately declared a mow-fund with the amount as seed. Wednesday evening he increased the amount by subscriptions thirty dollars, making a total of fifty dollars.

Prominent among the visitors was John P. Mann of the Midlothian club of Chicago, winner of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce cup in the Chicago handicap tournament of 1920. Mr. Mann, who also is a member and stockholder in the O'Neill club, was the only outside golfer from a great distance present at the tournament. Norfolk, Neligh, Wayne, Inman, Atkinson and many other towns in the north territory had delegations here and regrets were received from others delayed at the last minute by the failure of the weather bureau to furnish a more desirable brand of its product.

The course was in excellent shape, but owing to the wetness the balls didn't roll much and consequently scores were higher than ordinarily. This does not apply, however, to D. T. McKennon of Norfolk, a mud runner of exceptional merit, who copped off the silver cup given for the lowest score in the qualifying round, with an 83. P. J. O'Donnell and Eddie Gal-agher of O'Neill were tied with a 90 for a like cup to be given to the local medalist.

C. H. Fisher and W. C. Hunter of Wayne, and Harry Snyder of Atkinson, each won a golf ball, for a birdie, they making the only ones of the day. F. G. Morgan, also of Wayne, with the low score for No. 2, won a safety razor.

The goodfellowship banquet at the Hotel Golden Monday night was in every way what its name implied. The spread was one of those for which Landlord Hubbell is justly noted and after the big feed short talks were made, with President James A. Donohoe of the club presiding as toastmaster. T. V. Golden as dean of North Nebraska golfers, told how golf made the old young and kept the latter juvenile, and Art Breyer of Norfolk, humorously discussed the trials of a club manager. James Ahern of the Wayne visitors, Joseph Spirk for Neligh, Harry Snyder for Atkinson and several others also made addresses, and then came the treat of the evening, a heart to heart talk by John P. Mann of the Chicago Midlothian and the O'Neill Country clubs, in his most pleasing and inimitable style. At the conclusion of his remarks Mr. Mann presented the club a framed and autographed definition of golf by the noted banker and golfer, Mr. David Forgan, president of the National City bank of Chicago. Following the toasts Dynamite Mac McKennon of Norfolk was presented the silver loving cup won by him as medalist in the qualifying rounds Sunday, and F. W. Morgan of Wayne, a safety razor for making the low score on No. 2 Sunday.

Tuesday afternoon Art Breyer of Norfolk walked off with the prize of a dozen golf balls in the mashie contest, against thirty-six contestants, with a shot of fifty yards. H. J. Reardon won the long distance drive and a prize of a Putt-Putt game, with a drive of 274 yards. Edward Gallagher and P. J. O'Donnell, who were tied with 90's for the local medalist score in the qualifying round Sunday, cut for the prize, a silver cup, and Gallagher was the lucky man. Dynamite McKennon of Norfolk, Sunday won the silver cup for the medalist score for visitors, with an 83, a record which has not been beaten during the tournament.

Visiting golfers and members of the club enjoyed themselves Tuesday evening in tripping the light fantastic, at the annual ball at Knights of Columbus hall.

Following are the pairings for the several flights, with the qualifying scores of the various players:

Championship flight—D. T. McKennon, Norfolk, 83-F. J. Kubitschek, O'Neill, 93; P. J. O'Donnell, 90-Edward, O'Donnell 94; C. H. Fisher, Wayne, 86-J. P. CITIZENS MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS TO OPEN IN AUGUST

Omaha, Neb., June 14.—Realizing that, "An Army fights on its belly," the United States government is making every preparation to properly feed the 4,000 students, who will attend the third series of the Citizens' Military Training Camps, which will be held in the Seventh Corps Area during August. These camps will be held at Fort Snelling, Minnesota, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

There will be 360,000 meals prepared at these three camps and they will be such as to properly nourish students who are required to work hard and play hard.

The fact that these students flourish under the government's supervision is proven by final physical examination of the men who attended last year's camp. Their weight according to the government's examination was increased five pounds for each student.

According to the government's compilation it will require within the Seventh Corps Area, 65 tons of beef, 65 tons of bread, 75 tons of potatoes or other fresh vegetables, to say nothing of the numerous other articles required to feed 4,000 hungry boys.

Just as was during the World War, the students will be divided into companies and each company will have a separate mess. This mess will be under the supervision of the celebrated Army Mess Sergeants and Cooks.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 24 are eligible to attend these camps. Four courses will be offered, the Basic Red, Advance Red, White and Blue.

All training is for the purpose of preparing the candidates to be officers in the Officers Reserve Corps.

The War Department has supplied a representative of the Military Training Camps Association in each town, as well as the railroad station agent, and postmaster with full details of the camps.

Major General George B. Duncan, Commander of the Seventh Corps Area, Army Building, Omaha, Nebraska, will be pleased to give further details.

BOTH FROM THE SAME LITTER
TON-GORS
BUTTERMILK HOG BUILDER
DOES IT EVERY TIME!

Both these pigs came from the same litter; both were fed exactly the same, except that the big one had milk. A remarkable example—but Ton-Gors is a great health and growth producer. It is perfectly balanced with other foods that give it 33% greater feeding value.

HOGS TO MARKET 60 DAYS SOONER
Ton-Gors costs less than a cent a gallon of rich slop. It is the best feeding investment you can make. Though Ton-Gors is for market hogs, many fancy hog raisers use it for their best show hogs. The grand champions at the last Royal and International shows were Ton-Gors fed. There's a reason. Start feeding Ton-Gors right away. Have big litters, healthy hogs and fast growers. Get them on the market 60 to 90 days sooner at a lot bigger profit. Order a few bags today.
