We spent the most of our time at Marsh Lake, southwest of the town of Woodlake, which is considered the finest bass lake in the state. Mr. E. J. In the good old days Indian Chiefs decorated themselves with necklaces of bears claws, symbolic of their prowess as hunters. County Treasurer William Conklin, a mighty crow hunter, is thinking of making himself a handsome necklace of crow feet, but the necklace will not be composed of trophies of his own kill. At present Mr. Conklin is being inundated with shipments of crow feet from admiring constituents who evidently are under the impression that the last legislature provided for a bounty on crows. Henry Herber, of Stuart, shipped in a large bunch the other day, asking ten cents bounty a pair for them. Mr. Herber also offered to furnish the county treasurer with his crow eggs for fifty cents a dozen. Unfortunately the legislature failed to enact a law providing a bounty on crows or crow eggs.

VOICE MUST BE CULTIVATED

Teacher Asserts That Every Person Has Ability to Be More or Less a Good Singer.

It has been stated by a leading singing teacher that we all would have a good voice if it were cultivated, but still some voices would be better than others. There is a reason why we do not all have really fine voices. The "sound box," as it were, of our body is the larynx, or as most people call it, the "Adam's Apple." Across this stretch our two vocal chords, like the strings of a violin, thick for a bass, thin for a tenor, and so on. The "bow" that strikes these chords is, of course, our own breath, and the different notes are produced by the moving of certain muscles at the base of the larynx.

Just as the tone of a violin depends largely upon the body of the instrument, so even perfect vocal chords are of little use unless our body contains a sufficient space, properly laced, for their tone to echo in; resonating cavities, we call them. We therefore need for the best voice a perfect sound box and perfect chords, plus fully developed "resonating cavities," and good muscles to work the larynx.

Added to this, our mouth and tongue must be placed in precisely the best position for our particular notes. Perfect health is needed for the breath that is our "bow," a perfect ear to distinguish the slightest variation of tone, and finally a long and expensive training to enable us to work every part of our sound-machine to the best advantage. Given all these factors, we have the perfect singer. Short in any one of them, we have a less perfect singer! —Exchange.

REVEAL LIFE OF PAST AGES

Relics Gathered in Collection in Palestine Museum Are of Interest to All Civilization.

During the two years that have elapsed since the department of antiquities was founded at the instance of the high commissioner, 7,223 objects have been catalogued, of which a selection has been displayed, with due regard to date and provenance, and the Palestine museum in Jerusalem is now open daily to the public. The present accommodation is not altogether suitable, nor is it convenient for visitors; but the beginning has been made.

The total value of antiquities exported under license during this period amounts only to a few thousand dollars, says a Palestine letter to the New York Morning Telegraph. As the national collection becomes more complete, the proportion of antiquities released for export to foreign museums will automatically increase. In the province of the inspectors 1,467 historical sites and monuments have been formally registered, and measures have been taken to protect them, with the collaboration of the police and gendarmerie.

TREASURE SEEKERS GO SOUTH

Brazil Is New Land of Promise That Beckons Those Who Woo the Fickle Goddess, Fortune.

Treasure seekers are turning their eyes toward the old gold coast again. This time they are not thinking of the sunken hulks of overloaded ships three centuries under the sea that might by some mad miracle of luck still be salvaged. Nor have they heard another series of maudlin whispers of a hoard of pirate gold just found by the crew of a rum runner hunting a hidden harbor.

Yellow gold and flat slabs of feathered emerald engraved by Indians before the Spanish flag and the Catholic cross were carried into the Americas do not interest them.

It's the repeated news of new diamond fields that have been opened recently between the mouth of the Magdalena river and the headwaters of the Rio Grande of Brazil that is filling the veins of those who seek sudden wealth with a fever to find a fortune in blue clay beds or along the banks of streams that rise somewhere inland in mountain ranges that border jungles, the New York Sun states.

Footloose adventurers everywhere are looking up ways and means of reaching a likely port along the gold coast somewhere between Caracas and Cayenne, or of arriving in Brazil somewhere between Bahia and Sao Paulo.

Revival of the Bicycle.

There is a marked revival of cycling in England, and the cheapest known form of transport, which has never really waned in popularity, is finding additional support by reason of recent utterances by famous medicals. These gentlemen declare that the pursuit of cycling is healthier than any other; that muscular effort and regular breathing, which are the double-barreled steeds of cycling, are more conducive to health than the remedial physio of the medical profession. The Olympia show reveals a magnificent range of British pedal cycles.—British Commercial News.

GOVERNOR SMITH SLAPS

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN ON WRIST

Governor Al Smith, of N' Yawk, is peeved at the criticisms directed at him by W. J. Bryan for signing the bill to increase the humidity of New York. Answering Mr. Bryan's criticisms on the repeal of the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act, the governor closes his remarks as follows:

"Mr. Bryan speaks about my candidacy for public office. Unlike himself, I am not a candidate. When I have been, in the past, I have usually been selected by the people, but in Mr. Bryan's case, a wise and discriminating electorate usually takes care to see that Mr. Bryan stays at home."

EDNA FAY DAILEY.

Edna Fay Dailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dailey, of Dorsey, died at the Parker House Thursday, shortly before noon, after an unsuccessful fight of several weeks duration by local physicians to counteract the effects of a dose of poison taken, by mistake, on Tuesday, May 29. She was nineteen years, eleven months and twenty-six days of age. Miss Dailey was stopping at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Welsh where the sad accident took place. She had been undergoing medical attention for some time previous and on the afternoon of May 29 purchased bi-chloride of mercury tablets at a local drug store, which it is thought she later confused with her other medicines. Physicians immediately were summoned when the error was discovered and since had kept up an unceasing battle to save her.

The funeral service will be held from the Methodist church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. J. A. Hutchins officiating.

Send it to the Laundry

Modern Dry Cleaning Methods

Such as ours—do much more than remove the surface dirt and stains. We go right down into the heart of the fabric and draw out the embedded "soil" and grit.

This fine embedded "soil," if not removed, gradually cuts and rots the texture of the material and shortens the life of the garment.

With our kind of dry cleaning—requiring highly developed and expensive equipment—you'll find it very practical to have your garments dry cleaned regularly—at least three or four times a year. They'll look fresher and better, and besides, will give months of extra wear—repaying many times the small cost of the service.

Real News Paramount

In the country newspaper, sensations, scandals—the recording of human misery—is almost taboo. At least it certainly is secondary to the printing of real news about people and things.

For the province of the country paper—your HomeTownPaper—is to give community interests first place, printing the more or less sensational personal items only when necessary to keep faith with subscribers who pay for ALL the news.

Therefore, your Home Town Paper can give you, in full measure and overflowing, 100 per cent pure news about the people in whom you are interested—your relatives and friends of the Old Home Town.
