C. camps to be held there during the coming summer. Capt. Brennan returned from Germany last February and while there was stationed in the famous Fortress of Ehrenbreitstein overlooking the Rhine. He, with his company, will instruct the young men who attend the training camps during August of this year.

Neligh Register: Wm. F. Schultz says that the people of this part of Nebraska ought to rejoice, that we don't know what hardships are and to appreciate the conditions here we should travel over the space between here and California through which he and his wife and daughter have just come. He says the people out west are all broke. Most of them bought land at high prices and they cannot get money with which to develop the land or carry on the work of producing a crop. There is comparatively no stock in the big pastures and the people are very discouraged. In California it is different. An immense amount of building is going on there, but he believes it is eastern capital that is doing the work.

On Wednesday of last week District Deputy Grand Master Ray Snell, of Page, accompanied by his corps of assistants were present Wednesday evening of last week and installed the officers of the I. O.
