Mr. Bergstrom says that Bauman removed his collar and tie and laid down in the seat preparatory for a night's sleep sometime after midnight and he also dropped off to sleep. When he awoke Bauman was gone. Mr. Bergstrom thinks that his prisoner had been gone about an hour and a half when he awoke. WILL INVESTIGATE OLD CITY

American Archeologists to Delve into Site of Ancient Punic Stronghold of Carthage.

While the world is waiting with bated breath for the complete revelation promised by Lord Carnarvon's discovery in the sands of Egypt, it learns of the intention of a number of American supporters of archeological excavation to expend a substantial annual sum for ten years on the investigation of the ancient Punic city of Carthage. Half historical and half mythical, Tyrian Carthage—which must not be confused with the later and flourishing Roman city of the African fathers, the Donatists, and of Bellisarius—stands as no city of sweetness and light, but rather as a type of the commercial and, for all the splendors which poetry and art have woven about its fabric, of the commonplace and the banal. Archeology, however, may correct this impression, though, when the spade has performed its task, it may be questioned whether, after all, Carthage as seen through the eyes of Virgil, Turner and Flaubert does not yet present the more entrancing spectacle. Despite Schliemann, the Scenae gate is still nearer to us in Homer than in the ground plan of Hissarlik, and Agamemnon's palace is still rather to be sought in the pages of Aeschylus than on the modern site of excavated Mycenae. But we would not underrate the spadework of scholars, or its results. What was Crete, with Labyrinth and Minotaur, but a myth a short time ago? What is it now if not Plato's Atlantis regained?—New York Tribune.

GUTENBERG BIBLE FOR SALE

Said to Be Finest Example Left of First Book Printed by Mechanical Means.

From Leipzig comes word that the copy of the famous Gutenberg Bible, which is said to be the finest example extant of the first book printed by mechanical means, is on the market, to be sold to the highest bidder.

The Bible for years has reposed in the Leipzig museum of books. Its sale at this time is forced because the museum is unable to continue its existence without new funds to cover its cost of maintenance.

This copy of the Gutenberg Bible was presented to the state of Saxony by a Dresden collector. The state, in turn, vested the title in the Leipzig museum, and this institution, at the present, is prepared to pass on the heritage to the highest bidder.

Artists of Germany, including Max Liebermann, Louis Corinth, and others, are attempting to raise funds to cover the deficit and save the book for Germany. The value of the Leipzig Bible is practically beyond appraisal. One copy, in bad condition, was sold in 1911 for $500,000. All other examples known are damaged. This Leipzig Bible alone is a perfect specimen, and, for that reason, is most highly valued of all these examples of the early printing art.

The Frontier, only $2.00 per year.

$2 puts an Estate HEATROLA In your home! Order it Now!

All over the country, Heatrola dealers are making this offer on a limited number of Heatrolas and for the period from July 22nd to August 12th. Last year so many people waited for cold weather before ordering their Heatrolas that the factory was swamped with more orders than it could deliver. To prevent this congestion this year is the reason for this very attractive special offer.

Installed in one of the living-rooms, the Estate Heatrola supplies moist warm air to all connecting rooms, upstairs and down, just like a furnace. Beautifully finished in grained mahogany enamel, it looks like a handsome cabinet phonograph. Beautiful enough to grace any parlor, in its handsome form and rich grained mahogany enamel finish.

And how it heats! Come in and read the book of letters testifying to its heating capacity. Read—not claims we make, or the manufacturers make, but what people who have Heatrolas say about this new-day heater.

The Heatrola heats by circulating warm, moist air—not by radiation. It is just the thing for small homes, bungalows, stores, offices, etc.—with or WITHOUT BASEMENTS. And it is economical. With the fuel needed for one stove it will do the work of a furnace. It is easy to keep clean. No iron to black, no nickel to polish. Just rub it and dust it with a cloth, as you do your furniture.

Join our HEATROLA CLUB now. The number of Heatrolas offered is limited, and the club closes August 12th. So act quickly. On joining you pay $2 down. The balance is payable in easy installments. We then make an installation of the Heatrola when you want it, and we deliver to you FREE ONE FULL TON OF COAL.
