

WANTS TO HELP OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I am willing to write to any girl or woman who is suffering from the troubles I had before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back always ached, so I could not go about my housework, and I had other troubles from weakness. I was this way for years, then my sister-in-law took the Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me. In the time I have been taking it and it has done wonders for me. I keep a house and am able to do lots of work besides."—Mrs. HELEN SEVICK, 2711 Thomas St., Chicago, Ill.

Women suffering from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, pains, bearing-down feelings and weakness should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years this same sort of experience has been reported by thousands of women.

Mrs. Sevick is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from such troubles, and answer any questions they may like to ask.

Human Machine.
"Brains" was the subject of a lecture the other day by Sir James Cantlie, the famous surgeon. As an object lesson of what brains could produce he began by showing a new machine which has been devised for the use of men who lost their arms in the World War. It is worked by the toes. With the aid of the machine an armless man ate a meal consisting of soup and meat course, with a drink at the end. He then lit a cigarette, washed his face, wrote a letter, folded it, and put it in an envelope, which he addressed and stamped. He also turned over the pages of a book, and performed many other remarkable operations.

Shave With Outicura Soap
And double your razor efficiency as well as promote skin purity, skin comfort and skin health. No mug, no slippy soap, no germs, no waste, no irritation even when shaved twice daily. One soap for all uses—shaving, bathing and shampooing.—Advertisement.

Simple Proceeding.
"This apartment is too small to turn around in," said the prospective tenant.
"You have a car?" asked the agent.
"I have," the applicant replied.
"Which you keep in a garage?" the agent inquired.
"Yes."
"And the garage is too small to turn the car around in?"
"Of course."
"Yet you get along nicely. Apply the same principle here. Back out when you want to turn around."

SPECULATORS SCRAMBLING FOR DOLLARS

New Plunge Toward Oblivion Follows Reichsbank Action—Sixty Printing Houses Still Issuing Big Output.

BY KARL H. VON WIEGAND, Universal Service Correspondent
Berlin, Aug. 6.—The German mark plunged heading into unknown depths Monday. It is nearing oblivion.

With one jump it reached the official quotation of 1,670,000 to the dollar and shortly after the bourse closed the demand for the American dollar, which is in a fair way of becoming the national currency of Germany, became so great that 2,000,000 marks was bid.

With the daily doubling and trebling of prices keeping pace with the depreciation, 60 printing establishments are printing notes day and night. Eight trillion marks was the daily output for the last few days.

But There's Still Shortage
Even with that extraordinary output there is a tremendous shortage of money, owing to the huge quantities necessary for the transaction of any kind of business.

"The death dance of trillions" is what the National Zeitung calls the situation Monday night. Bank notes of the denomination of 50 million marks each will be issued soon.

Monday's plunge was attributed to the fact that the reichsbank took the lid off by rescinding its decree which prohibited the buying and selling of foreign exchange except at the official exchange rate fixed by the bank. The result was an extraordinary scramble for dollars and pounds sterling, everybody trying to unload their worthless marks at any price.

Retailers Refusing Marks
The confusion and chaos increased through the refusal of many business houses to accept the mark in payment for goods.

Gasoline for automobiles is no longer obtainable except with the dollar.

The plunge of the mark confronts the cabinet with a new crisis which may reach its first climax Wednesday when Chancellor Cuno addresses the special session of the reichstag.

Germany's internal situation daily becomes more critical.

COOLIDGE CONSIDERS FARMER PROBLEMS

Hears Outline of Harding's Tentative Plans for Expansion of Credits

Washington, Aug. 6.—The question of federal aid to the farmer was one of the problems to which President Coolidge turned his attention Monday in formulating policies of his administration.

Fred Sarek, director of the War Finance Corporation, which has many millions of dollars of agricultural credit outstanding, conferred with the chief executive and gave him an outline of the steps President Harding had in mind for the benefit of agricultural interests.

The status of the finance corporation's business was described in detail to President Coolidge, who expressed deep interest and showed thorough comprehension of the activities and functions of the corporation.

Mr. Sarek explained that President Harding had begun to evolve a new scheme of rural credits a few months ago, designed to solve some of the most vexatious problems which from time to time confront and confound agriculture and its affiliated interests as well as the government. Mr. Harding had intended to give further thought to this project upon his return to Washington, with the expectation of being able to submit definite recommendations to congress next winter.

ITALY'S STAND BACKS BRITISH ATTITUDE

Note on Ruhr and Reparations Made Public by Rome Foreign Office

Rome, Aug. 6.—The Italian note addressed to the British government, which was published Monday night, confirms the general understanding in Britain and Italy that Premier Mussolini is opposed to the German passive resistance, but is against any military occupation of the Ruhr.

The note insists that the gradual retirement of the Franco-Belgian troops begin at the moment an agreement is signed by the Allies and Germany.

The note reiterates the necessity of solving the questions surrounding reparations and inter-Allied debts at the same time.

Rome newspapers comment favorably on the disclosure that the Italian viewpoint is nearly identical with the British viewpoint.

Ames, Ia., Aug. 6.—The funeral train of President Harding passed through Ames at 7:30 a. m. today while a crowd of 7,000 thronged the station and right of way and fixed their gaze on the last coach in which the flower strewn casket and its guard of honor were visible.

Classes at Iowa State college were ordered suspended while the train is in the state.

KING DECORATES SPENCER WOMAN

Miss Glee Hastings Honored By Greece For Her Recent Work In The Near East

Spencer, Ia., Aug. 4 (Special)—Miss Glee Hastings, a Spencer girl, has been decorated a second time by European royalty in recognition of the fine work she has done as a worker in the near east relief. Her second decoration was the Cross of St. Xavier, received from the hands of King George of Greece for the work she has done in behalf of the Grecian refugees since the Smyrna disaster.

The first decoration Miss Hastings received was from the Sultan of Turkey, when she was stationed with the Near East Relief at Constantinople. She is now stationed at Athens with the Near East Relief, and was one of the 11 who were decorated.

Miss Hastings' work has been among the orphanages, where she has had the opportunity to show her fine executive ability.

DISTRICT CONVENTION OF WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS

Rock Rapids, Iowa, Aug. 4.—The annual district convention of the Woman's Relief Corps for northwestern Iowa will be held in Rock Rapids Friday, October 12th. Bender has received official notice of his appointment as postmaster at Spencer, to take effect Aug. 5, at which time the term of Earl Bronson, present postmaster, expires. Mr. Bender has been assistant postmaster for fifteen years. During the time Mr. Bender has been in the office the receipts have increased from $10,000 to $30,000 per year.

FARM BUREAU PICNIC DREW GOOD CROWD.

Westfield, Ia., Aug. 4. (Special)—The annual Farm Bureau picnic of Sioux and Hancock townships was held on Thursday at the C. L. Knapp farm on the Broken Kettle road. On account of heavy rains Tuesday night, it was necessary to postpone the affair one day and the crowd was not as large as in previous years. A number of the sports advertised had to be cut out and the county agent, who was to give the address, failed to appear, having a demonstration elsewhere. The evening program was of unusual excellence and was largely attended but on account of a threatening storm was not so well enjoyed, many of the audience leaving before its close.

He Was Well Off.

From the Detroit News.
Overheard in the locker room of the Lechmoor Golf Club a day or two ago:
Voice behind a row of lockers—What time did you get in this morning, Bill?
Bill—It was 3 o'clock, and gee whiz! my wife was certainly sore at me. She wouldn't talk to me and hasn't even spoken to me since.
Voice from other end of room—How would you like to trade her for one who would talk to you when you get in at 3 o'clock in the morning?

5,000 AT BOONE TO SEE TRAIN

Twenty-Minute Stop Made to Change Crews—Knights Tempar and American Legion Represented There

Boone, Ia., Aug. 6.—A crowd of 5,000 was jammed about the Northwestern station here as the funeral train carrying the body of President Harding to Washington stopped here for 20 minutes to change crews.

The train was 30 minutes late, arriving at 7 a. m. and leaving at 7:20. Only a few members of the presidential party were awake as Iowa paid homage to the dead president.

Cars from all parts of the state had thronged the roads Sunday and early today on their way to Boone.

Knights Templar of the western part of the state were at the station in full uniform and conducted their ceremonies in honor of the late chief executive. They presented a bouquet of roses for Mrs. Harding.

Battery A of the 185th artillery formed a guard of honor. Members of the American Legion were present in a body.

All along the right of way, as the train sped through Iowa, scattered groups had gathered through the night and through the day to pay a silent and reverent tribute.

The next stop was scheduled at Clinton, Ia., where the train will cross the Mississippi into Illinois.

G. A. R. Send Message.
A message from the Crocker Post of the G. A. R. at Des Moines was delivered to Mrs. Harding when the train halted here.

Remembering the visit of Dr. Geo. T. Harding, the president's father, to the National encampment last fall, the message said:

"Your loved husband was our son, the son of a comrade who, with us, in the dark days of the sixties, struggled to preserve the union; and now after the passage of more than 60 years, in the days of reconstruction following another great war, this, our son, the beloved president of the United States, has as truly given his life in the service of our country. His name will be accorded its proper place among the great men of the world."

AMERICAN SWIMS ENGLISH CHANNEL

Sullivan Establishes Endurance Record in Accomplishing Feat—Woman Swimmer Trying

London, Aug. 6.—Henry Sullivan, Lowell, Mass., swimmer, who left Dover Sunday evening at 5:22 o'clock in an attempt to swim the English Channel, successfully accomplished the feat, landing on the French coast at 8:45 o'clock Monday night.

The distance covered by Sullivan was about 30 miles. The water remained smooth throughout the journey. Sullivan was accompanied by a motor boat.

Sullivan's feat creates a new endurance record for swimming. He was in the water four hours longer than any other record shows. Sullivan will return to England Tuesday on the mail boat.

Mrs. Clemington Corson, nee Milta Gada, Danish wife of an American officer on the training ship Illinois, started from Dover Monday morning to swim the channel. Her husband, a famous oarsman, is rowing the course with her and will feed her during the trial.

At latest reports Monday night Mrs. Corson was five and a half miles out in the channel. She was drifting westward and was declared likely to fail.

Charles Toth, an American, who last year gave up his attempt after a 16-hour effort, will essay the feat again Tuesday.

INDIANS MOURN DEATH "GREAT WHITE FATHER"

Ponca City, Okla., Aug. 4.—Several thousand Indians representing seven tribes stopped their "pow-wow," near here Friday for 20 minutes as a token of mourning for their late "great white father." American flags floating over the group were lowered to half mast.

Chief White Eagle, of the Ponca tribe, who had visited the president at the White House while in Washington on tribal business, referred to him affectionately as the "big chief."

Swimming English Channel

London, Aug. 5.—Henry Sullivan, Lowell, Mass., began his attempted swim of the English channel at 5:22 o'clock Sunday night. He was reported as having covered a distance of five miles at 8:15 o'clock.

McMASTER TO ATTEND FUNERAL AT MARION

Pierre, S. D., Aug. 6.—W. H. McMaster has made plans to leave Pierre Tuesday afternoon for Marion, Ohio, to attend the funeral of the late President Harding. U. S. Senator Peter Norbeck, in Pierre en route to his home in Redfield from the Black Hills, said it would be impossible for him to attend the funeral.

One union suit will not accommodate two twins.

SECRETARY UNABLE TO PROBE HIM

Meanwhile, Head of State Department Will Avoid Reporters—Politicians Believe Republican Breach Widened.

BY H. H. STANSBURY
Universal Service Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 6.—Secretary of State Hughes caused to be issued on Monday an announcement that there were to be no further conferences between officials of the state department and newspaper representatives until some time next week, at the earliest.

Back of this announcement it is authoritatively known that Secretary Hughes has been unable in a number of consultations to obtain any definite indication from President Coolidge concerning the policies he proposes to adopt for dealing with pending foreign questions.

Mr. Coolidge's most intimate advisers assert that when the new executive is ready to define a program in connection with international problems it unquestionably will be based upon the consideration that he has been injected into the political situation as a candidate for the republican presidential nomination, and any policy he evolves now will be carried into the next national campaign. These friends of the president, most of them new to Washington, but recognized as close to Mr. Coolidge, admit that he has been inclined to agree with the arguments for participation by the United States in a world court. They do not hesitate to point out, however, that Calvin Coolidge is a most astute politician.

Believe Breach Widened
Mr. Hughes' action came at the height of another day of intensive political discussion in conferences of republican leaders with President Coolidge, and among themselves Monday night sentiment among the gathering politicians had pretty well crystallized on the following view of the present situation and the future outlook:

"That the political earthquake precipitated by President Harding's death, which put Mr. Coolidge in the White House and made him titular leader of the republican party, has widened the already existing breach between the reactionaries and progressives almost beyond hope of repair."

That Mr. Coolidge is a candidate for the presidential nomination, to succeed himself, and lined up behind him will be the same "old guard" group that nominated Harding. This element of the party is responsible for the enactment of the Esch-Cummins transportation act, it stands for the Fordney-McCumber high tariff law and it put through the present federal tax law—all of which are bitterly opposed by the progressives and largely constitute the foundation of the political revolt in the west.

Hopes of Unity Shattered?
That this situation, with Mr. Coolidge's own established conservatism, definitely ends any hope of bringing the progressives into line behind his candidacy, and thereby gives added strength to the third party movement, unless a progressive candidate is nominated.

That this lineup makes Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California an outstanding candidate for the presidential nomination, as representing the progressive elements. There is no cohesion between these elements now. La Follette, Brookhart, Frazier, Shipstead, Magnus Johnson, and Borah from the Rockies section, do not stand for identical programs. But they are together on enough things to make it an easy matter to combine forces against a common foe.

Extra Session Unlikely
Republican leaders predicted too, that President Coolidge would not call an extra session of congress except as a last resort in dealing with the coal situation, or unless he can prepare a definite program of legislation on vital domestic needs which will conform to his own conservative principles, and at the same time have some assurance of acceptance. Mr. Coolidge was declared by callers Monday to have stated that he had an open mind on the subject.

The impression is taking root that the new executive, following his historic stand in the Boston police strike, will attempt a ten-strike in dealing with the coal controversy, if he becomes convinced that a strike actually is threatened. It was suggested in quarters which had been in communication with him that he may call the anthracite operators and miners together and say to them that there shall be no strike, that the full power of the federal government will be employed to keep the mines in operation, and demand that they settle their differences.

HAMLETS VIE WITH CITIES IN TRIBUTE

Class Distinctions Put Aside Along Route of Harding Funeral Train—Into Ohio Monday Night.

BY JAMES R. NOURSE,
Universal Service Correspondent.

ON BOARD HARDING FUNERAL TRAIN, Aug. 6.—Through the green corn lands of Ohio state, where he was born, and into the cool valleys of the Shenandoah's winding courses, all that is mortal of the late President Harding was speeding Monday night on its way to the nation's capital.

Simple and reverent tribute to the departed chieftain was paid at every station along the route followed by the funeral special. The smallest hamlet vied with the largest metropolitan centers in expressing its respect for the dead and its regret for his passing.

Among all those who stood in respectful silence as the train shot on its way eastward, there was no choice, no class distinction, nor semblance of rank or preferred status of one above the another. All were just Americans, each striving in his own humble way to show the deep feeling which gripped the nation's heart when Warren Harding passed from busy life into his final sleep.

Widow Remains Courageous.
Mrs. Harding continues to stand the journey amazingly well. She has exhibited marvelous fortitude ever since the tragic announcement was made. Her strength of mind and spirit have been a cause of wonderment to all those about her.

Monday morning, Mrs. Harding slept late, as has been her custom since the journey from San Francisco was begun. She announced that she had slept well and felt much rested. The heat in the stateroom was somewhat oppressive, and when she had dressed she went silently into the rear section of the car where the casket rested.

There for a few sacred moments the grieving widow sat alone with her precious dead. What were her thoughts in those moments none can tell. There could be no doubt in her soul as to the place in eternity's sphere her loved dead would occupy. For her own future, perhaps, there may have been a fervent prayer for strength to carry on the tasks which her husband laid down when he passed from earthly consciousness into eternal sleep. Devotion to his memory will fittingly enable her to finish the work which he began.

Unanimity Impressive.
Among all the scenes which have attended the progress of the funeral special from the Pacific coast back to Washington, none has been more exalting nor more effecting than the unanimity of feeling among all those who have saluted the funeral cortege on its sad journey. Everywhere there have been the same silent groups, the honor guard of war veterans, the dipping of the colors, and the remarkable outpouring of men, women and children in every walk of life, standing in attention in solemn and humble reverence.

Laborers in overalls, train men with faces streaked with oil and grime, farmers and their wives who had driven from many miles out in the farm country, held just as prominent a place in these demonstrations of sorrow as did city folks whose fine houses could be seen along the shaded streets of the cities and towns. And the children, of whom Warren Harding was especially fond—thousands upon thousands of them, barefooted tots in overalls, infants in arms, and the clean-cut boys and girls of high school age—had a most important part in all the fine exhibitions of sorrow which were manifested as the train sped by.

Chicago Disappointed.
Chicago was reached shortly after 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, but the special did not enter the city proper. The train was switched from the Northwestern tracks to the Kedzie avenue station over the Belt line to the Baltimore & Ohio tracks, for the final journey from Chicago to Washington.

This was a source of sincere disappointment to Chicago, whose citizens had planned formal ceremonies of an elaborate nature to pay fitting honor to the late executive. Out of deference to Mrs. Harding's wishes, however, the train was switched around the suburbs of the city onto the Baltimore & Ohio tracks, thereby depriving the great mass of the city's population of a view of the funeral car.

The schedule after leaving Chicago called for a swift journey across Ohio, Indiana, and the trip of Pennsylvania, and on into the valley of the Cumberland in Maryland and so to Washington. The train will not pass through Pittsburgh, the nearest approach to that city being Laughlin Junction.

It is believed that all the time lost on the way will be made up so that arrival of the funeral train in Washington will be about 1 or 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

FIGHT ON COOLIDGE BRINGS BIG PROTEST

New York, Aug. 6.—A city convention of the socialist party of New York nearly broke up in a riot Sunday when a resolution denouncing President Calvin Coolidge as a "reactionary and a foe to labor" was read by William Karlem of the resolutions committee.

All over the convention hall delegates leaped to their feet with violent protests against it. The spirit of the resolution and the terms in which it was coached.
