EDWARD M. GRADY.

The following account of the death of Edward M. Grady, of Waterloo, Iowa, a former resident and jeweler of this city, appeared in the July 30th issue of the Courier and Reporter published at Waterloo, Iowa. Mr. Grady will be remembered by the older residents of O'Neill, having conducted a jewelry store here for a number of years in the early 90's. He was a cousin to Eli and Jake Hershiser.
Edward M. Grady 65, died at 3 p. m. Sunday, July 29th, at his home, 407½ Jefferson street, after a long illness of chronic rheumatism and complications.
He had been a sufferer for a number of years and of late had become so crippled that he walked with difficulty. Although realizing that he was failing physically and suffering greatly at times, he did not complain, retained his accustomed cheerfulness, and seemed hopeful to the last that the cause of his ailment would be discovered and a remedy found. He was partially paralyzed and in a state of coma for several days preceding death.

Deceased was born in Pocahontas, Somerset County, Pa., March 2, 1855, the son of Martin Grady and Lydia Lint Grady. The elder Mr. Grady came to the United States in 1854 from Zierenburg, Germany, landing at Baltimore. Mother of deceased was born in Somerset County, Pa.
Edward Grady came with his parents to Iowa in 1865, settling on a farm eight miles south of Waterloo. The family moved to Waterloo in 1872 and Mr. Grady had resided here since, with the exception of twelve years spent in O'Neill, Nebraska.
When eighteen years of age, he entered the shop of Balliett & Weld, pioneer jewelers, to learn the trade and became an expert watchmaker. In 1888 he went to O'Neill, where he conducted a shop of his own for twelve years. His summers in recent years had been spent in gold mining operations in Colorado.

Decedent was a Master Mason and a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge.
Surviving are five sisters, Mrs. C. F. G. Weiss, Cresswell, Ore.; Mrs. J. H. Hodgson, Booneville, Ark.; Mrs. J. B. Lichty, Tracy, Minn.; Misses Jessie and Elizabeth Grady, Waterloo. All of the sisters except Mrs. Weiss were with their brother when he died. The elder Mr. Grady died February 6, 1917, at Eugene, Ore.; and Mrs. Grady died June 24, 1911, in Waterloo.
Funeral services for Mr. Grady will be Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. from the Kistner chapel, in charge of Rev. R. E. Williamson, pastor of First Baptist church. Burial will be in Elmwood, in the family lot, beside his parents. Masons will attend in a body and have charge of rites at the grave.

GAS EXPLOSION BLAMED ON TANK WAGON STATIC
Butte, Neb., Aug. 6.—A gasoline explosion at Spencer last August in which Erwin Schulze, 7, was badly burned, is blamed on static electricity, generated within a tank wagon, according to allegations made in a suit for $50,000 started by the boy's father, against the Standard Oil company and William Braithwait of Spencer.

At the time of the explosion, Braithwait, agent for the Standard company, was pouring gasoline from a ground tank.
can into the intake pipe of an under-
In the petition claim is made that there should have been a chain attached to the tank wagon and dragging on the ground to carry off the accumulation of static electricity. Movement of the gasoline around in the tank generates the electricity, it is set forth, and the dragging chain is to conduct it off into the ground. It is also claimed that the bucket with which the gasoline was being taken from the tank wagon, was full of static electricity, generated by gas being poured from it all day.
A spark of the static electricity, it is alleged, ignited the gas vapor.
