Women Tell Each Other How They Have Been Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Perryburg, Ohio.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered, but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a lady I met on a car, and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was with pains and nervous troubles, and she took the Vegetable Compound, and it cured her. So then I went and got some, and I certainly recommend it for it is good. Whenever I see any woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ADA FRICK, Route 3, Perryburg, Ohio.

HALF POPULATION IN CITIES

Census of 1920 Shows That the World War Caused Men to Leave Rural Districts.

By reason of the restrictions placed upon immigration it makes it necessary for us to look to our overcrowded cities for men to fill our old and new farms. These men cannot be induced to leave their old life unless there is present the community life which, as a city dweller, they enjoy. One of the results of the World War was the exodus of men from the soil to the city, and for the first time in the history of our country the 1920 census revealed the fact that more than half the total population was resident in cities. Within the last year or so, however, there has been some indication of a "back to the soil" movement.

The total land area of our country is 1,908 million acres, of which about one-half is in farms, but of this farm area only about one-eighth is what is known as improved farm land. About 1,000 million acres of our land area may be classed as unfitted for profitable use on account of one or more reasons, insufficient rainfall, stony land, lack of transportation.—Milwaukee Journal.

GERMANY TAKES DRASTIC STEPS

Seizure of Foreign Currency One of Government's Emergency Regulations

BY S. MILES BOUTON
Universal Service Correspondent
Berlin, Sept. 7.—(11 p. m.)—Government seizure of the holdings of foreign currencies in private hands and the abolishing of private banking, telegraphs and communications, are the main features of the newest drastic emergency regulations issued by the government Friday night in a last desperate attempt to save the German financial structure from collapse.

The immediate effect of the news was to cause the dollar to drop from its high figure of 70,000,000 of Friday morning to 28,000,000 in unofficial dealings late Friday.

PROBE COLLEGE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Fraternity Orders for Booze Found in Raid on Des Moines Headquarters

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 7.—A rum peddler ring supplying liquor to students at Iowa State College, Ames, is believed by police to have been smashed Friday by a raid at 1230 Twelfth street, where the officers believe a large booze depot has been maintained for collegiate orders. Correspondence from fraternity houses at Ames, placing orders for liquor and furnishing instructions as to where on the Ames campus the purchases were to be left, were confiscated by police and will be used for investigation purposes.

Names of the fraternity mixed in the affair are expected to be made known shortly. Harry Coombs, alleged operator of place and leader of the ring, was being searched for Friday night by a squad of police.

Find Booze Assortment
Twenty-four quarts of gin, whiskey and grain alcohol were found in the raid, in addition to a collection of gin flavoring extracts which, properly worked into an alcoholic mixture, produced imitation gin. The liquor was found in a well concealed chamber beneath a closet floor. It was so built that a carload of booze could be stored in it with ease, police said.

Chief of Police Hammond declared he had ordered a sweeping investigation into alleged widespread operation of Des Moines bootleggers among Des Moines, Ames and Indianola college students. For some time complaints have been coming to him indicating such a situation, and Friday's raid is supposed to be a directed outgrowth of his quiet probing organizations have been the collecting agencies for group orders of booze which local bootleggers delivered to the college campuses, is reported.

More Raids Planned.
The chief declared further investigation would be conducted at once in order to top the alleged trafficking before the opening of colleges and universities this fall.

About two months ago, on complaint of city officials at Ames, the Polk county booze squad staged a raid on 15 places at Carney, between Des Moines and Ames, confiscating five stills and a large amount liquor. At the time deputies said they had complaints that Ames students made midnight motor pilgrimages to the little mining town, obtained suitcases of booze and peddled it among their college friends. Students were alleged to have been working their way through the state college by this means.

German Marks Continue Toward Vanishing Point

New York, Sept. 7.—German marks continued their rapid course toward the vanishing point in today's foreign exchange market being quoted at 1 1/2 cents a million, or $7,150,000 marks to the American dollar. Before the war, when marks were worth 24 1/2 cents each, the marks that could be purchased for $1 today would have cost $113,601,700.

The Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy

roll up his sleeves to wrestle good, little Ned Gnome jumped and tripped up his heels so that the big man fell right upon his nose.

"Wow!" the big man howled, "I won't wrestle you! You can wrestle too good!" And away he went, licker-split through the woods.

Then little Ned Gnome unlocked the closet door and let Betsy Bonnet String out. "Thank you for rescuing me, little Ned Gnome!" Betsy Bonnet String said. "Now we will sit down and try to think of a way to rescue Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy before the mean little Witches do them any harm!"

So Betsy Bonnet String and little Ned Gnome sat down and thought and thought and thought. Betsy Bonnet String and little Ned Gnome sat down in Betsy Bonnet String's house to think of a way to rescue Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy from the two mean little old Witches, Wanda and Winda.

Betsy Bonnet String was anxious to help little Ned Gnome rescue the Raggedys for little Ned Gnome had just rescued Betsy Bonnet String from a big man who looked Betsy Bonnet String in a gloze.

Then, to Betsy Bonnet String was a good friend of the Raggedys. She and Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy had been through a lot of exciting adventures together.

x50, after thinking a long time, Betsy Bonnet String finally said, "Little Ned Gnome, if we wish to rescue the Raggedys, we must hurry to the home of Wanda and Winda Witch, because they take all the nice clean white cotton out of the Raggedys and take the Wishing Pebble and Wishing Stick, before we get there!"

"The two mean little Witches have a flying broom!" little Ned Gnome told Betsy Bonnet String. "If you have a flying broom, we can get there a lot quicker than if we run!"

"I am sorry," Betsy Bonnet String said, "But I haven't a flying broom, and it would take me a long time to make one with magic! We had better start and run as fast as we can! Even then we may be too late!"

"I can fly!" little Ned Gnome said, "But I do not know if I can carry you, because you are so large!"

"If you can fly, little Ned Gnome, then you can carry me!" Betsy Bonnet String laughed, cause, I can make myself as light as a feather any time I wish! So it was easy for little Ned Gnome to pick Betsy Bonnet String up and fly with her towards the home of Wanda and Winda Witch.

Meanwhile, in the Witches' home, Wanda Witch had a pair of scissors and Winda Witch was holding Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy.

And Wanda Witch said, "Shall I snip Raggedy Ann's cotton stuffed body first or Raggedy Andy's?"

"Snip open Raggedy Ann's!" Winda Witch said, "She has the magical Wishing Pebble, hidden inside the nice clean white cotton stuffing!"

Graduate Nurse Finds "The Perfect Remedy"

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say Tanlac is nature's most perfect remedy," is the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. L. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach, not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects."

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients," said Mrs. Borden, "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal."

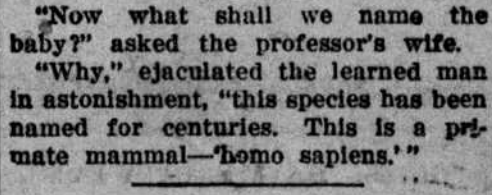

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work."

"These two instances are typical of the wonderful merits of the medicine. My confidence in Tanlac is unlimited. Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists."

He Hoards Old Hats.
"The majority of us have some certain article of wear which we just naturally hate to discard," said the hat store customer. "One of mine is hats. No matter how old or battered it may become, I can't bear to toss a hat into the discard, and the result is that in the attic at home I have a wonderful collection that goes back almost twenty years. Sometimes, usually at house-cleaning time, the wife gets into the garret, and then there is a family jar, which ends in the disappearance of some of the hats, but not all. My wife can't understand why I hang on to the hats any more than I can understand why she treasures a switch that was made twenty years ago from her own 'combs,' before her hair was gray."

Edible Oil From Egyptian Plant.
A plant belonging to the lettuce family, now cultivated in Upper Egypt and which can be grown with profit in certain parts of the Sudan, is a new source of edible oil. The seed yields under pressure from 37 to 39 per cent of oil and certain specimens of fresh seed from the Sudan, which contained less than 4 per cent of water, yielded more than 44 per cent. The oil is odorless, of a light yellow color and without disagreeable taste. The seed is so small that it cannot be handled with ordinary equipment, but the oil product is so valuable that new machinery will no doubt be built to do the work.
