Reports of the accident are to the effect that Ensign Nicholson and a fellow officer stationed with the Asiatic fleet recently had purchased a motor cycle for sight seeing trips at ports at which they touched. While riding the cycle near Sidney Ensign Nicholson was thrown and suffered a fracture of the skull.

When his gun accidentally discharged while hunting Saturday evening, Rolla Newton, 16 years old, of Atkinson, lost the thumb on his right hand and was badly wounded in the wrist. The boy had gone hunting with his two uncles and Fred Neibauer, a neighbor. Discovering he was out of shells, he went back to the automobile to replenish his supply. After letting the hammer down on the gun to prevent its going off, he stood the gun against the fender of the car and leaned over to get the shells out of the seat. He bumped against the gun, dislodging it. The gun fell to the ground, the hammer striking a rock or some other hard substance, discharging the shell in the gun, the full charge striking Newton in the thumb and wrist. He was rushed to Atkinson, where what was left of the thumb was amputated. About twenty shot remained in his wrist. He is getting along nicely.
