WALTON'S FATE UP TO SENATE

Governor's Friends Attempting to Gain Support of Upper House

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 7.-The political spotlight was swung around Sunday night and focused on the Oklahoma senate.

Legislators were flocking to the city in response to Gov. J. C. Walton's proclamation Saturday summoning a special session of the legislature next Thursday.

A dozen republicans will hold the balance of power when the senate convenes. Heroic efforts are being made on the part of Walton adherents to win senatorial support, particularly that of the republican element. They are being assisted, it is said, by a veritable mogul in G. O. P. state politics, who has his eye fixed on a high federal post

Senators approached Sunday stated emphatically that if impeachment proceedings develop they would be guided only by the evidence.

Military law has practically fizzled out. Courts are maintained in several points but nearly all the militia is either at home or on the way. Some of the soldiers are reported walking, others making home via box car routes.

The soldiers have been paid in deficiency warrants and in view of the state treasurer's recent warning against these, the boys could not

KILLED SELVES

Bodies of Besieged Felons Found - Stronghold Is Flooded With Ammonia

Universal Service

Eddyville, Ky., Oct. 7 .- Two of three convicts who held siege in the dining hall building here last week after a battle to escape from prison, died by their own hand, it was revealed Sun-

The bodies of the three desperadoes were found on the floor when a raiding party stormed the hall Saturday night. In the early stages of the battle the convicts had killed three prison guards.

Monte Walters, one of the most desperate of the three convicts, was found with a rifle ball through his head. He had been slain in battle.

Powder Burns on Bodies Lawrence Griffith and Harry Ferland were shot through the heart. They were stripped to the waist, lying near each other. Powder burns showed they had fired the fatal shots. Their pistols were still gripped in their lifeless hands. They had committed suicide when they found escape impossible.

Examination of the bodies indicated that all had been dead more than 24 hours.

The convicts made a break for liberty last Wednesday morning, killed three guards and then took refuge in the dining hall where they made their last stand.

Siege Lasted 81 Hours The storming party entered the mess hall at 8:19 o'clock, after the building had been flooded with ammonia fumes. Authorities succeeded in entering the disputed barricade after a spectacular siege of 81 hours, in the course of which the prison guards reinforced by two details of Kentucky guardsmen riddled the building with withering barrages of steel jacketed bullets from high powered rifles and machine guns; swept the interior of the building with the shrapnel formed by bursting riflle grenades and twice succeeded in placing tear gas in the building.

Irving Fisher's Weekly Index

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 16.—Last week's wholesale prices of 200 representative commodities averaged 157 per cent. of the pre-war level, according to Prof. Irving Fischer's weekly index number. The purchasing power of the dollar was 63.8 prewar cents, this week's index number shows.

Both the commodity prices and the purchasing power of the dollar are relative to the pre-war period of 1913.
Thus the "low" prices in January,
1922, for instance, exceeded pre-war prices on the average by 38 per cent.; that is, the dollar was worth 72.5 prawar cents.

A summary of conditions follows: Number Power 1922 January (low) 138 1923 1st quarter average. 163 1923 2nd quarter average. 163
