WM. GROTHE, OF EMMET, WINS ANOTHER PRIZE

It is said that if one does a certain thing for a considerable length of time, that thing becomes a habit. That is what has happened to Wm. Grothe, of Emmet, who has been winning the first premiums for the best corn at the Holt county fair, and in fact everywhere that he has exhibited his fine corn, for several years. Tuesday Wm. Grothe decided to go to the Tri-County Improvement Association met at Stuart where agricultural exhibits were to be shown, and of course, took along a few ears of corn which he hastily secured near the house that morning. Late in the afternoon Mr. Grothe was advised that he had the best five ears of white corn of the fifty one corn exhibits in Stuart that day.

If you want to know how to win the ribbons ask Bill.

Help Lift This Burden From Our Community

Too Much Capital Invested That Is Not Drawing Interest

Not all of the undersigned business interests subscribed to this system of broadcasting public opinions do a general credit business with their patrons, but it is a known fact that those who do are carrying thousands of dollars upon the books from which they get not interest at all. This loss from invested capital is not only a personal loss, it is a very great loss to the community. It means a loss on returns to the community that affects every farmer, every laborer and every citizen. The return from that investment of capital added each year to the community's assets would relieve many financial obligations.

Your merchant would be better able to buy and discount his bills and in turn he can sell his goods much cheaper, the doctor, the baker, the candlestick maker would be able to buy more liberally and pay with perfect regularity if they had what is due them.

If you have been extended a financial favor by the local business or professional men and cannot pay all of it at one time, do your best to liquidate a part of it, at least, and when you get it settled try and pay cash. It will help the community and help you.

Did you ever stop to think what a burden it would be to the farmers if they had to sell their hogs and cattle, corn and oats "on time?" The rent, the interest, the taxes and the living expenses would come due and everything tied up in perfectly good accounts, but no cash. Hard sledding we'll say. Well that is what brings the gray hairs to many business men's heads.

Get the cash habit and we will make this one of the best communities in the world.
