Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Eat, Sleep and Feel Better Every Day

Chicago, Ill.—"I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time, and dizzy, and could not sleep and had no appetite. I tried different medicines for years, but they did not help me. Then I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for other women and gave it a trial. I began to eat better and could sleep, and consider it a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to my friends and will never be without it."

—Mrs. M. OHLEN, 3640 S. Marshfield Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

It is such letters as these that testify to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This woman speaks from the fullness of her heart. She describes as correctly as she can her condition, first the symptoms that bothered her the most, and later the disappearance of those symptoms. It is a sincere expression of gratitude.

For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

WALTON FOUND GUILTY ON 11 OF 16 CHARGES

Applause From Galleries Greets Decision—New Trial Denied

WILL APPEAL VERDICT
Attorney Announces Case Will Be Carried to U. S. Supreme Court

BY H. W. FERGUSON
Universal Service Correspondent
Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 19.—John Calloway Walton, governor of Oklahoma, was impeached and removed from office late Monday.

The senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, was unanimous in its vote. Only one senator was absent. The deposed governor was found guilty of 11 of the 16 articles heard. Six additional charges were not taken up. They included unwarranted martial law, using armed forces to prevent a meeting of the house of representatives and censorship of the press. These articles were dismissed by the legislative board of managers which prosecuted him.

An outburst of handclapping in the galleries continued for several minutes after the result of the vote was announced before marshals attempted to restore order.

New Trial Denied.
Just before the court recessed Monday evening Walton's attorneys attempted to enter a motion for a new trial but it was voted down unanimously.

A motion to assess all the costs of the impeachment action against the deposed governor was introduced and will be considered Tuesday.

Mr. Walton will appeal to the United States supreme court, it was announced. He contends the action of the legislature was illegal, inasmuch as the call that he issued did not provide for investigation of his acts and an impeachment trial. He holds that a previous meeting, called by a majority of the members of the legislature, was unconstitutional and illegal and that none of its acts will stand in the searchlight of the supreme court.

Blames Klan For Trial
The deposed governor, who was elected on the farmer-labor ticket, charged that his impeachment was instigated by the Ku Klux Klan and political enemies. It was his fight to stamp out the Klan in Oklahoma that led to the action against him.

This charge was denied by spokesmen for the legislative body, who claimed his fight against the alleged Klan outrages had merely served to attract attention to the failings of his administration.

The removal of the governor occurred at 3:58 Monday afternoon, at which moment the vote on the first article presented by the prosecution for a verdict was formally announced by Chief Justice J. T. Johnson, of the state supreme court. The chief justice ordered that the judgment of the court be entered in the record immediately after the last article had been disposed of.

Abused Power Charge
The first article, and the one that brought defeat to the governor, was No. 19, which alleged abuse of pardoning power. The prosecution offered this article first, as it regarded the evidence irrefutable. The verdict for conviction was 41 to 0. Senator Jack Barber, of El Reno, was absent.

Each article was taken up as rapidly as possible. The vote on the different articles in the order in which they were disposed of, follows:

Article 19—Abuse of pardoning power, guilty, 41 to 0.
Article 2—Division of public funds to private use, guilty, 35 to 6.
Article 13—Padding of state payrolls, guilty, 38 to 3.
Article 3—Armed dissembling of grand jury, guilty, 39 to 1.
Article 4—Use of influence to acquire private property, purchase of executive mansion being cited in particular, not guilty, 23 to 18.

Cleared of One Charge
Article 5—Use of veto power to procure a bribe, not guilty, 26 to 14.
Article 6—Suspension of privilege of habeas corpus, guilty, 40 to 1.
Article 15—Unlawful issuance of deficiency certificate, for $10,000 guilty, 37 to 4.

Article 11—Unlawful issuance of deficiency certificate for $4,000, guilty, 40 to 1.

Article 12—Attempted prevention of a special election, guilty, 37 to 3.
Article 14—Abrogation of capital punishment, not guilty, 11 to 30.
Article 17—Appointment of gunmen, not guilty, 24 to 17.

Article 18—Falsification of campaign expenses, guilty, 28 to 13.
Article 20—Collection of money, after becoming governor for his private purse, guilty, 41 to 0.

Article 21—Appointment of legislator to judgeship, not guilty, 12 to 29.
Article 22—General incompetency, guilty, 37 to 4.

BAR JAPS FROM OWNING LAND

Activities in U. S. Further Restricted by Supreme Court Decisions

Universal Service
Washington, Nov. 19.—The security of California against Japanese encroachment was further assured when the United States supreme court handed down two additional decisions upholding the California alien land laws.

A week ago the court upheld the constitutionality of the state law in prohibiting aliens ineligible to citizenship to own or lease lands in the state for agricultural purposes. Monday's decisions deny these aliens the right to own stock in companies holding such lands or to enter into cropping contracts with owners for the cultivation of lands.

The effect of the three decisions, coupled with that at the last term of court denying Japanese the rights of owner, citizenship, make it impossible for Japanese to cultivate or share in the profits of California farms and ranches. Their agricultural activities are limited to that of hired workers.

The stock ownership question was raised in the case of Raymond L. Frick, a citizen of California and N. Satow, a Japanese subject, against U. U. Webb, attorney general of California, and Mathew Brady, district attorney of the city and county of San Francisco. It was appealed from the United States court for the northern district of California. The decision of the lower court was affirmed.

TAX REDUCTIONS MOVE ASSURED

Republican House Leaders Agree to Take Up Mellon Program

BY WINDER R. HARRIS
Universal Service Correspondent
Washington, Nov. 19.—All remaining doubt that tax reduction legislation will be taken up the coming session of congress was removed Monday.

Republican house leaders, after a week of silence, while studying the countrywide reaction to the Mellon program, accepted the demand of the people that action must be had.

Senate leaders already having taken this position, and President Coolidge having adopted Secretary Mellon's plan as an administration proposition, the fight now is for a sane and reasonable bill.

This means that the forces in the senate and house who favor tax reductions along the general lines laid down by Mr. Mellon must see that the opposition does not succeed in its avowed purpose of tacking on a lot of amendments which would increase rather than decrease the tax burden.

To Conduct Poll.
Senator Smoot, who will be the chairman of the senate finance committee, announced that he is going to make a poll of the senate at once to ascertain whether nine or ten democrats can be counted on to join the approximately 40 republicans who favor a measure in harmony with the Mellon program, so as to insure the passage of a bill within reasonable limits.

Court Denies Rehearing in Case of Rail Shopmen

Washington, Nov. 19. (U. P.)—The supreme court denied the petition of Barney McCourtney, Fred Burch and A. W. Pease, shopmen working the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, for a review of their convictions for contempt of court in violating an injunction during the shopmen's strike in 1922.

The petitioners based their plea for a review on the contention that the acts for which they were arrested occurred in Thayer, Mo., in the southern division of the western district of Missouri but that, against their will, they were brought to trial in the United States district court in the western division of the western district of Missouri.

Tammany Chief's Son Gets $160,000

Widow of Richard Croker to Appeal Case—Bank Balance Overdrawn

Universal Service
New York, Nov. 19.—Richard Croker Jr. tonight won the jury's verdict in his suit against the estate of his father, the late Tammany chieftain, for $160,000.

After deliberating for half an hour a jury in the supreme court returned the verdict against the New York Trust company and Mrs. Blua Edmonson Croker, widow of the Tammany leader. The case will be appealed.

After he married Miss Edmonson nine years ago at the age of 73, Croker did not give his children any money, it was brought out at the trial.

Young Croker brought suit in behalf of his brother Howard and sister Ethel. He charged that his father failed to keep an agreement under which he was to give $75,000 each to Howard and Ethel.

Toward the close of the trial, Max Steuer, attorney for the children, got the young widow to admit that when the former Tammany chief died in 1922 his bank balance had been overdrawn $100,000.

U. S. TO DEMAND FRENCH DEBT

Government to Force Show-down on Money Loaned for War

BY WILLIAM P. FLTHYE
Universal Service Correspondent
Washington, Nov. 19.—The United States will make an immediate demand upon France for the payment of her war debt of $4,000,000,000 or a definite declaration of her intentions, Senator Smoot of the war debts funding commission announced Monday.

Impatient with the attitude of the French government, Senator Smoot said that the time has come for a "showdown."

At an early meeting of the commission set up by congress to collect the vast sums loaned in the great war, he will ask that a sharp reminder be sent to France. France will be invited immediately to send a financial mission to the United States to make arrangements for funding the debt, such as already has been made by Great Britain. Failing this, an effort will be made to secure from the French a statement of whether they ever contemplate payment. It was stated.

Time for Action
With other members of the commission, Senator Smoot is said to have reached the conclusion that the matter of the French debt cannot safely be allowed to drift as it is now doing. This feeling has not been helped by repeated assertions of the French that they have no intention of paying, it was pointed out. While these repudiations have never been official, there is a suspicion that they reflect the attitude of the French government and it is Senator Smoot's idea to get a definite statement.

In taking this stand it is known that Senator Smoot will have the support of Representative Burton, Ohio, also a member of the debt commission, who with Senator Smoot, was in France during the summer. French financiers indicated that the government does not intend to pay and considers the money loaned merely as a contribution to the war.

Representatives Olney, Massachusetts and Crips, Georgia, democratic members of the debt commission, are known to entertain the same views as Senator Smoot and will support his motion to call upon France for an accounting. This leaves Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary of Commerce Hoover who have so far refrained from expressing their view.

Secretary Hughes was a visitor to the White House shortly after Senator Smoot called Monday. He remained closeted with the president for more than an hour, but declined to discuss the French debt situation. Secretary Hoover followed the secretary of state but he too declined to comment.

Secretary Mellon, it is understood, will not outline his views on foreign debts until the commission meets. He made a special trip abroad during the summer to study the situation and is understood to have formed the opinion that the French war debt will be collected only by taking a firm stand.

Business Men Who Defied Blue Laws Are Arraigned

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 19.—(U. P.)—Twenty-three Frankfort business men were arraigned in city court Monday following their rebellion against rigid enforcement of Sunday blue laws.

The city was wide open Sunday. Motion picture shows ran in the afternoon and evening and proprietors of garages, drug stores, restaurants, and soft drink and shoe shining establishments violated the order.

Mayor Keene's decision to enforce the blue laws followed an argument between a church faction and a movie owner when the latter attempted to operate his show on Sunday.
