

A Stylish Floor At Moderate Cost

With the beautiful new patterns in modern linoleum, you can have floors in your breakfast room, sun parlor, dining room, to be proud of, and at moderate cost. The best decorators today are advising the use of linoleum to put color into the floor, so it will harmonize with the rugs, draperies, wall paper and furniture.

Besides beauty, linoleum gives you a quiet floor, one that is comfortable to walk on and unusually easy to keep clean. No floor presents a finer appearance than,

Donovan, of St. Paul, and the children, returned to Sioux City Wednesday morning, from which place Mrs. Donovan and the children will go on to St. Paul.

Atkinson Graphic: Mrs. N. C. Lewis was the victim of a painful accident which might easily have been more serious. Starting home in a buggy with the children Friday after school they were met near the depot by Gib McCreath in a car. Driving against the sun prevented Mr. McCreath from seeing clearly and his car struck the back end of the buggy causing Mrs. Lewis to fall out. She sustained severe bruises and a shaking up but was not so seriously injured as at first feared.

Homer Lowery, of Emmet, aged about fifty years, was severely burned about the face, last Saturday evening, while pumping air into a pressure gasoline lantern preparatory to doing the evening chores. Mr. Lowery had filled the lantern with gasoline and was pumping air into it. The force of the air forced the gasoline through the burner which ignited from the blaze, the flames striking him fairly in the face. A little two year old daughter was standing near but did not get burned excepting a little hair singed. Some papers and other things near by were ablaze but were hastily removed from the room along with the lantern. Dr. Gilligan was called and dressed the burns.

August Troshynsky and son, Mike, of northwest of O'Neill, were in O'Neill Tuesday looking after business matters. Mr. Troshynsky owns one of the finest farms in Holt county and has it well stocked with the best grade of cattle, horses and hogs. Besides all this Mr. Troshynsky can well be proud of his seven large and stalwart sons who comprise the principal part of the Emmet base ball team. The boys are all excellent ball players and with the assistance of a couple of their cousins by the same name, we will wager that they can defeat any like aggregation in the middle west.

SOUTHERN HOLT HOLDS ENTHUSIASTIC HARVEST TRAIL MEETINGS

Residents of Lake and McClure townships in Holt county and of the north half of Wheeler county are enthusiastic in the promotion of the Harvest Trail, the national highway which enters Nebraska just below Fairfax, South Dakota, passes through O'Neill and Spencer and leaves the state south of Red Cloud. Meetings for local organization were held at Bliss and at the ranch home of B. B. Gribble Monday afternoon, at which local organizations to assist in the development of the highway were perfected. County Supervisors Elmer Gibson, John Sullivan and L. C. Mc Kim of Holt county and County Commissioner R. M. Burtwistle, of Wheeler county addressed the meetings, promising co-operation. M. F. Kirwan, official marker of the highway also was in attendance and explained the markings and emblems used along the Harvest Trail. W. L. Medcalf was appointed overseer for Lake township, R. M. Burtwistle for Francis township in Wheeler county and James Bartack for Deloit territory in Wheeler county. The work of marking the new highway will begin Friday and continue through the fall, winter and spring until the work is completed in Nebraska.

HOLT COUNTY HAS TWO NEW CHAMPION CORNHUSKERS

Holt county has two new champion cornhuskers. They are Peter Katzenberger residing three miles north and one half-mile east of O'Neill on the old Barrett homestead, and Harley Kennedy, of Page. Mr. Katzenberger unquestionably holds the age championship for cornhuskers. Aged 73 years, but in appearance not more than 50 years old, he has this fall husked and cribbed, alone, fifteen hundred bushels of corn which he raised and tended this summer. Mr. Katzenberger's friends are willing to match him against any cornhusker in the state not more than fifteen years his junior, for money, marbles or chalk.

Harley Kennedy is the new quantity champion. Sometime ago James Kelley, of O'Neill, husked and cribbed, unaided, 150 bushels of corn in a little over eight hours. About the same time John Davis, of Page, took out 175 bushels in nine hours and thirty-six minutes. Both of these records are very fair and probably could not be equalled anywhere outside of Holt county, but investigation discloses that Mr. Kennedy has both men out-classed. Kennedy shucked and cribbed his 175 bushels in nine hours and ten minutes, which is twenty-six minutes better than the Davis record.

LEONARD HALES, OF EWING, KILLS FIVE DUCKS AT ONE SHOT

Unless some other hunter can present a better claim to the honors, properly substantiated with affidavits, Leonard Hales assistant cashier of the Pioneer State bank of Ewing, is hereby proclaimed the champion duck hunter of Holt county, which of course means of the state and adjacent territory. Mr. Hales Sunday while out duck hunting south of Ewing, knocked down five butterball ducks, an entire flock, with a single shot. Hales and several companions were concealed along a by-way when the flock of five birds passed over them. Three of the ducks were killed outright and the other two crippled so that they were easily secured. The remarkable shot is duly attested to by Mayor Dave Gimmel, Newt Trommershauser, Art Snyder, L. E. Skidmore, B. P. Smith and E. L. Davies, whom as affidavit men there are none better.

ROAD BOOSTERS MEET (Brown County Democrat.)

A meeting of Blue Pole road boosters was held here Tuesday night with representatives present from Wood Lake, Johnston, Long Pine and Ainsworth. The Cherry county delegation reported that the county commissioners had secured the right-of-way, laid out the road, etc., and that it was now a state aid road and practically completed from Wood Lake east to the county line. It is expected that the Brown county commissioners will work the road from the west county line to Johnston with the opening of next spring. The Blue Pole has already proven quite a popular roadway, and with the work now promised will be excellent clear through to Wood Lake, and on west.

EMMET ITEMS.

Father Byrne was in O'Neill Monday.

Bert Gaffney, of Casper, Wyoming, is visiting with his parents three miles west of Emmet.

William Malloy has rented the Ed Colligan farm one mile south of Emmet and has moved thereto.

Joseph Jurgensmeier has purchased the old Mike Lyons residence and five acres adjoining in the village of Emmet and will occupy the same soon.

George Pongratz is erecting an eight room house on his farm four miles northeast of Emmet. Some carpenters from Atkinson are doing the work.

Rev. P. J. Vanderlaan, the Catholic priest of Amelia, is erecting a new eight-room residence. Curren & Monahan, the Amelia carpenters, are doing the work.

Father Byrne has put down a new 81-foot well at his residence. The old one caved in some time ago. John Crandall from over on the north end of the Eagle did the work.

George O'Connell, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Con O'Connell, who was thrown from a horse last week, has entirely recovered and is as well as ever again.

The O'Connor Brothers, Ed and Will, have rented their farm of 200 acres to Mr. Pharr, of Newport, and with their sister, Miss Katherine, expect to leave soon for Colorado where they will make their future home.

Fred Tenborg opened up a new garage and blacksmith shop in Emmet Monday morning. Mr. Tenborg has just returned from Wisconsin where he has been making his home for several years. Mrs. Tenborg died about two months ago while they resided in Wisconsin.

Zeb Warner has erected a large and commodious barn on his place five miles north of Emmet. Mr. Warner has the foundation laid for a new residence 24x28 which he will erect as soon as the necessary help can be secured. A new well and windmill and some other improvements have been placed on the place. We understand that one of his sons will occupy the farm when the improvements are completed.
