been born at Rock Island, Illinois. His early education was remarkable in that he did not enter public school until he was eleven years old, when he passed to the seventh grade. His previous education had been given him by his mother. He entered Yankton college at the beginning of the ninth grade, working his own way through preparatory school and college. He will be twenty-one in July. He is now in Oxford.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS VOTE THEIR PREFERENCE FOR FUTURE LIFE WORK

Of one hundred fifty-six students in the O'Neill high school asked to express a choice of their life's work but one would be a politician. And even this one does not care to devote much preliminary work to a political career. He wants to be a congressman right off the bat. Many politicians of state and national reputation have made their start in O'Neill and it may be that the lone political aspirant has it figured out that by starting well up on the scale as a congressman the presidency eventually may come his way. With the other one hundred and fifty-five however politics apparently is not much more attractive than the clergy or the newspaper profession, for none expressed a preference for these. Twelve boys and one girl in the high school, not included in the 156, expressed no preference at all and from these a couple of more politicians may develop and perhaps a clergyman and a journalist, or even a plug reporter.

"What is your choice of life work? If you have not decided the matter, what is your preference now?" was the question submitted to the school. Eight of the girls would like to be stenographers, 45 teachers, 5 nurses, 5 musicians, 1 a movie actress, 1 an elocutionist, 1 an author, 1 a doctor of medicine and 1 undecided.

Six boys would be doctors of medicine, 8 electrical engineers, 4 lawyers, 2 dentists, 1 hotel proprietor, 1 musician, 7 farmers, 6 mechanical engineers, 3 salesmen, 4 civil engineers, 2 merchants, 3 railroad engineers, 1 a baker, 3 stockmen, 1 a congressman, 3 bankers, 1 carpenter, 1 cobbler, 1 teacher, 1 bookkeeper, 1 business manager, 1 train dispatcher and 12 undecided.

Twelve boys were absent when the vote was taken, and one girl.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS BY CONGRESSMAN SIMMONS

The organization of the 68th Congress was effected Wednesday the 5th. The opposition to the election of Speaker Gillette, was directed in no way against him personally, his qualifications or fitness for the office, but the Nelson group by preventing his election, hoped to secure certain concessions.

It developed during the voting that the Nelson group demands were not as originally given to the press, but they asked only that they be given an opportunity to offer amendments to, and debate the rules under which the House conducts its business. It also was made known that the Republican leaders had contemplated amendment and liberalization of the rules, which would allow the progressives the opportunity which they asked. When the situation became known, the House majority elected Gillette and organized on December 5th.

The public generally is of the opinion that the parties elected to Congress in November, 1922, became members March 4, 1923. This is not the case. The members of the present Congress, took their oath of office, December 5, 1923, before which time they were members-elect. Thus thirteen months expired between the election and induction into office. Five months only remain until Nebraska primaries and eleven months until a general election. The unfairness of this situation both to the members elect, and the country, is apparent. The Senate last year passed a bill correcting this situation, but it failed to reach a vote in the House. It will be again proposed this year, with very good chances of passage.

As a result of the contest between Representative Graham and Longworth for Floor Leadership, an agreement was reached, which gave the leadership to Mr. Longworth, who is well qualified as a parliamentarian for the position. His work and policies, and the order of considering legislation, will be directed by the steering committee, which, by said agreement in this Congress, is to be composed of seven members, four of whom are to come from agricultural state. Thus for the first time in any recent congresses, agricultural representatives are in a position to control the course of legislation.

The Call of the Southland

Perhaps only a faint sound now, will become insistently audible presently. The magic spell of waving palms, the blue of the summer sea, and the fragrant air of semi-tropical nights will prove irresistible, and the South—winter play-ground for Northern people—will again witness her astonishing influx of visitors.

If you are susceptible, might as well start planning now.

Reduced winter tourist fares are authorized and THE BURLINGTON is ready. Whether you travel via Chicago, St. Louis, or Kansas City, THE BURLINGTON can serve you well.

Let me help plan your trip, going one way—returning another.

Real News Paramount

In the country newspaper, sensations, scandals—the recording of human misery—is almost taboo. At least it certainly is secondary to the printing of real news about people and things.

For the province of the country paper—your HomeTown Paper—is to give community interests first place, printing the more or less sensational personal items only when necessary to keep faith with subscribers who pay for ALL the news.

Therefore, your Home Town Paper can give you, in full measure and overflowing, 100 per cent pure news about the people in whom you are interested—your relatives and friends of the Old Home Town.
