"Waves of Ether."
Many persons have wondered about the so-called waves of ether which, we are told, transmit sound by the wireless telephone. Mountains do not obstruct them, but how is it when the distance is such that a straight line between two stations would pass below the surface of the earth. An authority in such matters declares that the path of the ether waves is not a straight line, but follows the earth's curvature. Ordinary obstructions do not interfere with wireless waves.

MAN SHOTS HIS WAY OUT THREE TIMES

Fugitive Cornered in Swamp—Posses Plan to Fire Hiding Place

Universal Service.
Drew, Miss., Dec. 14.—Two prominent planters met instant death another is missing and is believed dead, and seven others were wounded, two of them seriously late Friday when Joe Pullen, 46 years old, share chopper on the plantation of W. T. Sanders, three miles southeast of Drew, ran amuck with pump gun and revolver.

After slaying Sanders and receiving wounds himself, Pullen shot himself out of searching parties at point blank range in three different fights.
Late Friday night Pullen was surrounded in a swamp by 1,000 men northeast of Drew. Members of the posse carrying 500 gallons of gasoline to set the swamp on fire to burn out the fugitive, as well as light the neighborhood.

The trouble started over the division of the crop, Pullen drawing a pistol during the argument and killing Mr. Sanders instantly.
The dead are:
W. T. Sanders, 45 years old, a possessor.
R. L. Methin, 55 years old, a possessor.

CLIMAX NEAR IN TRADE FIGHT

Many Nations Seeking Favor and Business of South America

Universal Service.
Washington, Dec. 14.—A spirited competition for the favor and trade of South American republics by the leading powers of the world will soon approach a climax in the opinion of well informed observers here.

Following are some of the developments:
1.—Great Britain has dispatched a financial commission from Southampton to the South American countries, to recommend loans.
2.—France has a military commission in Argentina, and seeks to extend her power and influence.
3.—Italy and Spain have entered into an understanding whereby they will go after a share of South American business, and will combat the efforts of France and possibly Britain.
4.—The United States has, for some time, maintained a naval commission in Brazil and Peru, and late this month will send to Peru, Lieut. H. B. Grow to build up an aviation unit.
If all these moves do not bring the Monroe Doctrine to the fore, in the opinion of observers, there will be cause for surprise. They also mean that the South Americans are getting up on their toes and demanding a place in the sun.

GERMANS WORK LONGER HOURS

Short Shifts Thing of Past—National Ownership Declared Failure

Universal Service.
Berlin, Dec. 14.—Germany, which heretofore has been held up as a model for successful national ownership of means of production, finds the system going to smash in emergency.
Following the move to sell the state owned railways to a private group headed by Hugo Stinnes, the denationalization movement has been given another boost by the action of the Prussian government in turning over state owned mines, smelting works and salt mines to a stock company especially formed for the purpose.

The stock remains in the hands of the government but the management is freed from bureaucratic limitations and put in the hands of men drawn from business life.
Great increases in profits are expected.
The eight hour day which German workers held sacred as their greatest gain in the revolution, has gone.

Agreements signed before the labor ministry, reintroduce the nine and 10 hour day as before the war in the iron and steel industry in all Germany and also in the coal mines in Silesia and Saxony.

BRYAN DROPS WRENCH INTO HOUSE PLANS

Activity Behind Scenes Blocks Organization Program

BY WINDER R. HARRIS
Universal Service Correspondent
Washington, Dec. 14.—With William Jennings Bryan prominent in the background, democratic presidential politics was injected Friday to further complicate the organization fight in the house of representatives.
Bryan's activity behind the scenes had the surprising effect of blocking plans of the republican leaders to have the committee states of both parties ratified and of forcing consideration of this last act of the organization process over to Monday.
More important from a political standpoint, the three-time presidential candidate's intervention has confronted the democratic leaders in the house with the necessity of following his advice or laying themselves open to his charge that they are reactionaries.

Candidates Uneasy
This phase of the situation has brought the friends of William G. McAdoo and Senator Underwood, the two most active aspirants for the party presidential nomination, to the fore. They foresee grave dangers ahead for their candidates, should either be nominated, and for the party if it is given the stamp of conservatism or reactionism in the house.
The whole fight, which took this new turn Friday, revolves around the powerful rules committee. The issues are the ratio of democratic representation and the demand of the progressive republican bloc that a place on the committee be given to Representative John M. Nelson of Wisconsin, their chairman.

Request Refused
The republicans turned down the democrat's request for five out of the 12 places on the committee and also refused to put on Nelson. The bloc leader and his associates, who demonstrated their balance of power by holding up the election of a speaker until they won a victory on liberalization of the rules, charged the committee had been packed and started a fight to upset the old guard slate. They made overtures to the democrats to join in a plan to put one more democrat and Nelson on the committee.

Bryan, learning of the situation, invited a number of his friends in the house to his hotel apartment. Among those who conferred with him was Cordell Hull of Tennessee, chairman of the national committee. Bryan urged that the democrats should join with the progressives to overturn republican control of the house at every point possible.
He gave out an interview in which he said the democrats who refused to join in such a move to overthrow republican "reactionary" control should be made known to the democratic voters over the country. Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the party leader in the house, and his chief lieutenants have opposed any combination with the insurgents.

SENATOR WILL FIGHT FOR SEAT

Mayfield of Texas Will Oppose Attempts to Oust Him

Washington, Dec. 14.—(U. P.)—Senator Earl B. Mayfield of Texas will retain his seat in the evbkgkjgkq upper house of congress.
Breaking his long silence on the attempts made to oust him, Mayfield told the United Press Friday:
"I am here. I am duly and legitimately elected senator from Texas by a majority of 132,000 votes.
"I intend to continue to serve the interests of the people who elected me to the best of my ability."

Although Mayfield does not wish to be placed in the position of taking cognizance of the attacks made against him at this time, it is learned on indisputable authority that he will present a vigorous defense to the proposed senate investigating committee.
Mayfield will base his defense on the following points:
1.—Before the primary contest for the senatorship he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan but he resigned and is not now a member.
2.—Campaign expenditures certificates now on file with Tex state officials show disbursement in Mayfield's campaign of only a little more than $9,000 when $10,000 is permitted by law.
3.—The name of his opponent, George E. B. Paddy, was not on the election ballot because courts held that Paddy was not in the primary contest he had no right to a place on the ballot.
4.—In two primaries and in the regular election he defeated all opposing candidates.

LOYAL TROOPS ROUT MEXICAN REBEL FORCES

Federal Soldiers Recapture Capital of Nayarit—Indians Offer Services

Universal Service.
El Paso, Tex., Dec. 14.—Loyal soldiers commanded by Gen. Heriberto Carus have recaptured Tepic, capital of the state of Nayarit, on the west coast from rebels, who have retreated toward Guadalajara, says a dispatch to Mexican Consul General E. D. Rulz from Consul J. Terrazas at Nogales.

Gov. Alejo Bey, of Sonora, reported state of Sinaloa without disturbances. He said the Yaqui Indian Chiefs Mori and Mapun have offered the services of 2,000 Yaquis to the government to be moved wherever wanted.
Gen. Alfredo Garcia, who rebelled against Obregon in Zacatecas and marched the garrison to join Estrada's rebels at Guadalajara, forced a loan of 80,000 pesos upon property owners and took with him every available automobile in Zacatecas and a carload of gasoline.

Friday's federal advices said loyal troops of the Amaro command has routed Estrada rebels 50 miles east of Guadalajara and were moving rapidly to invade that capital.

ARMISTICE PROPOSED
Universal Service.
Tampico, Dec. 14.—A dispatch from Mexico City to the newspaper El Tiempo here Friday night stated that deputes representing the Huertistas and the federal government have proposed an armistice pending efforts to arrange a settlement of the revolution.

In the event that the proposals to conciliate are accepted by President Obregon and the government, immediate steps will be taken to extend the movement to the entire nation in the hope of restoring immediate peace.

While the news of the proposed armistice was received with considerable skepticism in some quarters, there is a genuine expression of hopefulness of early fruition of the project.
The initiators of the movement state they desire to prevent bloodshed throughout the nation. It is pointed out that the proposal was probably inspired by the thought of the imposing struggle between the opposing armies when they meet in the region of Guadalajara, which meeting, if not prevented, will likely result in great loss of life.

Rebel Leader Surrounded
Skeptics say the acceptance of the proposal by President Obregon might be construed as weakness on the part of the government, adding that it is necessary to quell by force once and for all, the uprising.

On the other hand it is declared that a cessation of hostilities and a settlement of political differences will have an influence on the congress of the United States in considering the conditions for recognition of Mexico.
Reports from Linares state that Lopez De Lara, abdicating governor of the state of Tamaulipas, is hiding in the mountains surrounded by federal troops, and that escape is impossible. He is reported as being in a half dozen different places at the same time, however, and his present whereabouts are in doubt.

Revolt Spreading
Reports from inland sources state that Colonel Marquez, in the state of Durango, has joined the rebels, as also has Gen. Romula Figueroa, in the state of Guerrero, but both are said to have only a small following.

Woman Who "Staked" Miner Given $20,450

Jury Returns Verdict in Suit for Estate of Colorado Man

Universal Service.
San Francisco, Dec. 14.—A jury in the federal court late Friday handed down a decision in the suit of Miss Sadie W. Pritchard against the estate of the late Fred G. King, Colorado mining operator, awarding her $20,450. Miss Pritchard sued for half of the million dollar estate left by King.
Miss Pritchard testified she had "grubstaked" with King with $30,000 more than 25 years ago when he was a penniless mining engineer in Denver and she was a thrifty dressmaker, and that he had made millions out of that grubstake. She introduced scores of letters written by King to her up to the time of his death in support of her claim that he acknowledged their "grubstake partnership." The letters tomed with endearing terms and with references to "our $400,000" and "our $1,000,000" and it was upon these allusions to alleged "partnership property" that Miss Pritchard based her claims upon the estate.
An appeal will be taken by lawyers for the estate.
