

THE FRONTIER.

VOLUMN XLIV.

O'NEILL, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1924.

NO. 36.

Former President Wilson Died Sunday Morning.

Entire Nation Mourns The Death Of One Of Its Greatest Statesmen.

Woodrow Wilson died at his home in Washington, D. C., Sunday morning at 11:15 Eastern time. His wife and his daughter, Miss Margaret, were at the bedside when death claimed the former president.

Woodrow Wilson was president of the United States from March 4, 1913, to March 4, 1921.

During those eight years the life of President Wilson was filled with action. Because of the World War and the many complications that occurred during and after that trying period Mr. Wilson was called upon many times to exemplify his forceful character which he did fearlessly. No other president has ever been called upon to do many of the things that fell to the lot of President Wilson but he arose to the situation and performed the duty fearlessly in his own way, while perhaps many people may have taken exception to his mode of procedure yet he carried the respect of the masses of people because he did his duty without equivocation.

The funeral services for Woodrow Wilson were held Wednesday afternoon at the Wilson home at 3:00 o'clock followed by chapel services at 3:30. The body was consigned to the marble vault deep beneath the cathedral. The funeral was a quiet one due to the request of Mr. Wilson.

On the inside pages will be found a more detailed account of the life of the late president.

Judge Robert R. Dickson, Wednesday handed down a decision in the case of the Central National Bank, of Lincoln, Nebraska, against the defunct South Fork State Bank, of Chambers. The claim was based upon a $6,000.00 certificate of deposit. Judge Dickson held that the claim did not come under the protection of the Guaranty Fund.

Thomas J. Cabbler was arraigned in county court last Friday charged with obtaining money under false pretense from Rudolph Funk of near Ewing. Cabbler acted as his own attorney and from the way he handled the case it was plain to be seen that he was thoroughly familiar with court procedure. The county judge found him guilty and imposed a sentence of ten days in jail.

There does not seem to be any argument as to whether or not the ground hog saw his shadow, the weather immediately took a decided change for the worse soon after the appointed time for the animal to make his supposed appearance. Even the most skeptical must admit that the evidence is against them. The most deplorable part of the whole situation seems to be that "Scarface Billy" was about four days late in his encounter with the groundhog.

Miss Al'egra Wilken, of the Extension service, College of Agriculture, Lincoln, has been in O'Neill Wednesday and Thursday of this week, meeting with the girls sewing club. Wednesday she met with Mrs. E. H. Suhr's club and today she is with Miss Meta Martin's club girls. Arrangements had been made for Miss Wilken to visit with the "Hot Lunch" clubs of the rural schools, but, owing to the drifted condition of the roads that part of her visit here was abandoned.

For the benefit of those who live elsewhere we will say that the weather turned decidedly colder Sunday with a heavy wind and considerable snow causing a regular blizzard which lasted until Monday night, several inches of snow fell during the storm. East and west roads are almost impassible and as a consequence not many farmers are coming to town who are compelled to travel these roads. The thermometer registered 10 below zero Tuesday morning and 8 below Wednesday morning.

Sidney (Neb.) Telegraph.—Mrs. Pettibone was hostess at three very elaborate parties this week at her home. On Monday evening she entertained at a seven o'clock dinner party. Married couples were her guests. After the delicious dinner the evening was spent in playing bridge, four tables being used. High score was made by Mrs. Phelps and second prize was awarded to Dr. Witham. On Wednesday afternoon she was hostess at a one o'clock luncheon, after which bridge was played. First prize was won by Mrs. Kepler and second by Mrs. Barger. Mrs. Pettibone entertained again on Friday afternoon at a one o'clock luncheon.

MANY CARLOAD SHIPMENTS LEAVE O'NEILL LAST YEAR

Many people do not stop to think or can they readily comprehend the large number of carload shipments that are assembled and are shipped from O'Neill every year. According to the figures compiled by R. M. Sauer, agent of the Chicago & North-Western railroad, and by L. E. Downey, of the Burlington, which we publish complete below, it will be seen that there were 325 carloads of hogs shipped from O'Neill during the past year, an average of more than a carload each working day. There was 956 carloads of hay shipped from O'Neill last year, which was an average of 79 2-3 cars each month or more than three cars per day for each working day throughout the year. Following is the itemized report of the shipments and receipts of carload lots to and from O'Neill over the North-western and the outgoing shipments only over the Burlington:

SUMMARY OF RESULTS IN BIG ROUNDUP OF STOLEN AUTOMOBILES

Deputy State Law Enforcement Officer G. W. Gates and W. W. Spain, representing the United States Department of Justice, who has been conducting the silent round-up of the alleged auto-thieves in Boyd county and northern Holt county as well as along the state line of South Dakota, went to Lincoln the first of the week because of the blizzard that swept over this part of Nebraska, and their search for stolen cars in this locality has come to an end for the present. We understand that the work will be resumed as soon as the traveling conditions become normal.

The efforts of the officers disclose one of the most extensive and well planned auto thieving gangs ever uncovered in the state.

A summary of the raid made in this territory is as follows:

Nine men bound over in Holt and Boyd counties for receiving, handling, selling or possessing cars with mutilated numbers.

Cases against two others pending in Boyd and one in Holt.

Fourteen cars recovered. Total number of recoveries may run to forty.

Liquor violations, made in connection with illegal auto transactions, result in fines of $1,630 and costs.

Not only will this disclosure, when completed, expose the biggest swindle of the sort in Nebraska history but it will open the eyes of citizens to the possibilities where one lives in a section near a border line. This swindle is a tristate affair, according to the investigators. South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska being involved.

N. A. Hagenstine, notary public at Spencer and a justice of the peace for many years, voluntarily surrendered his seal and commission. He was bound over to the district court on a charge of aiding and abetting auto thieves. He was also fined $200 and costs for sale and possession of liquor.

Antone Sedlacek, Hagenstine's partner in the harness business, was bound over for handling a car with defaced number. He too was fined $200 and costs for sale and possession of liquor. Some other bindovers in connection with the round-up.

William T. Abbott Holt county farmer, bound over for possession of car with mutilated number.

"Bud" Colwell, bound over at O'Neill for handling car with defaced number.

Fred Tesch, Holt county, for possession of car with mutilated number.

Mathew L. Hines, Holt county, same charge.

Horace Henefin, receiving car with mutilated number.

Calvin Henefin, possession of car with mutilated number.

Andy Hafsass is in jail at Sioux Falls in the hands of federal authorities on the charge of transporting stolen cars. He had been previously arrested at Sioux City and Mitchell on similar charges.

The state and federal officers in charge of the raid have secured eleven affidavits from men now under arrest.

FIVE RAILROAD CASES FIRST WEEK OF COURT

Judge R. R. Dickson called the docket last Monday. There are many cases to be tried this term and if they all come to trial court will extend over at least three weeks. Court will convene Monday, February 18th.

The first case to come to trial is Edward Hanson vs. the C. & N. W. Railroad. In this case Hanson is suing for $100,000 for personal injury received while in the employ of the company while at work at Scribner. Hanson claims to have fallen into the track in such a way as to crush and bruise his left side. M. F. Harrington, George and Gerald Harrington are the attorneys for Hanson.

The case of Asbury T. Clevinger vs. The Burlington Railroad Company is scheduled as the second case for trial. This is also a personal injury case. Clevinger is suing for $50,000. The defendant claims to have been struck by a piling that was being removed.

Other cases that are scheduled to come up during the first week of court are:

John W. Sorenson vs. the C. & N. W. This is a suit for property damage.

E. N. Purcell vs. The C. & N. W. Damage to shipment.

Frank Drew vs. C. & N. W. Personal injury suit in the sum of $50,000. Drew was a station helper at Wisner who claims to have been injured while in the discharge of his duties.

Two cases scheduled for the second week are:

The Page State Bank vs. Joe Noble. Charles Dougherty vs. Zimron Butterfield.

THREE MORE PARTIES ARE BOUND OVER

William T. Abbott waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court under $500 bonds on the charge of having a car in his possession with a mutilated number. Mathew L. Hynes and Fred Tesch were each found guilty and bound over to the district court charged with having cars in their possession with mutilated numbers. J. J. Harrington appeared for each of the defendants. Abbott was arraigned in county court Friday and Haynes and Tesch were before the court Saturday.
