

1924 Durant and Star Models

STAR COUPE

A new addition to the Star line of closed models. This new model has two doors, one on each side, exceptionally wide, permitting easy entrance to the very attractive interior.

In the Star Coupe the arrangement has been refined to such a degree as to eliminate all the little inconveniences which heretofore have been the only objection to this kind of a car.

1924 STAR TOURING

Star cars are now the lowest priced standard fully equipped cars on the market. Stop and think. Can you name any car on the market near the Star price that has—

- A Red Seal Continental Motor.
 - A Dry Disc Clutch.
 - Floating Rear Axle.
 - Timken Bearings.
 - Positive Oil and Water Pump.
 - Stewart Speedometer and Vacuum System
 - Gas Tank in Rear.
 - Spicer Universal Joints.
 - Warner Transmission and Steering Gear.
- These mentioned units are found in such cars as the Packard and Cadillac, as well as on the Star.

Durant and Star Cars represent a high purpose in conception and execution.

There are many minds and there are many automobiles of many characters—a piece of machinery, like man, has character. Each thing made represents the ideas—honesty and purpose of those making the article.

DURANT COACH

This Durant model is ideally designed to satisfy those who prefer the more compact type of five-passenger closed car with only two doors. The doors are of ample width and both individual front seats tilt forward so that entrance and egress may be made with great comfort on either side.

The body lines, finish and equipment complementary wood wheels. Interior trim is in fine woolen cloth.
