

SWEET TRAILS BROOKHART IN IOWA PRIMARY

Burbank, Klan Candidate Has Lead—Governorship To Convention?

Des Moines, Ia., June 2.—(Special)—With only scattering returns coming in very slowly, United States Senator Smith W. Brookhart held a slight lead over Burton E. Sweet in the senatorial nomination. The vote from 153 precincts stood: Brookhart, 13,470; Sweet, 12,956. The 1924 Iowa primary vote of Monday was extremely light.

Returns in the contest for gubernatorial nomination showed W. J. Burbank, reputed Klan candidate, stood in the lead in the field of six candidates, the vote standing: Burbank, 4,954; Hammill, 4,912; Haynes, 3,569; Anderson, 2,827; Banks, 823 and Buser, 718. On the democratic ticket, Murtough had 513 votes and Unsicker, 299.

Practically all the returns are from the larger cities. Late closing of the polls, and special issues of one kind and another, all tended to delay the returns. Four of the candidates for governor are running so close that it is conceded that the nomination will have to be decided in convention.

Dan F. Steck, of Ottumwa and John D. Denison, of Des Moines, were leading Dr. Charles R. Keyes, of Des Moines, according to early returns in the democratic senatorial contest.

High Court Dismisses Doctors' Rum Dispute

Hold Suit Improperly Brought—Case From California

Washington, June 2.—A case from California raising the question whether pharmacists can be restricted in the quantity of alcohol withdrawn for medicinal use, was dismissed by the supreme court today on a legal technicality.

The court held that the prohibition commissioner should have been made a party to the case, and that therefore no decision could be rendered because the litigation had not been properly brought.

A drug company of San Francisco, which brought the suit, contended it was entitled to sufficient alcohol and intoxicating liquors to conduct its business in conformity with the federal prohibition laws, but that the prohibition director for California had refused to permit it to obtain an adequate quantity.

BOIES GIVEN BIG MAJORITY

Republicans of Eleventh District Swamp Former Mayor of Sioux City

Sheldon, Ia., June 2.—(Special)—Returns from yesterday's primary election came in slowly during the early part of the evening, but from the start indicated the renomination of Congressman W. D. Boies of this city, over Wallace M. Short of Sioux City. At 1 o'clock this morning it was claimed by Congressman Boies' friends here that he has carried the district by 5,000 to 8,000 votes and some placed it as high as 10,000.

While returns at this hour are far from being complete, it appears the congressman has carried every county, with the possible exception of Lyon.

Returns received here from Sioux City indicate that 26 out of the 30 precincts gave Boies a lead of 12 votes, while it had been anticipated Short might have a lead well along toward 1,000 or possibly more.

Mr. Boies was well pleased with the showing and issued a short statement thanking his friends throughout the district for their loyal support.

BOY SLAYERS TO BASE FIGHT ON INSANITY PLEA

New Phrase Coined to Describe Defendants in Franks Murder

Universal Service

Chicago, June 2.—"Not guilty by reason of insanity."

That will be the defense of Nathan E. Leopold, Jr. and Richard Loeb when placed on trial for kidnapping and slaying Robert Franks, 13 year old school boy.

The trial is expected to be the most sensational in the annals of the country, according to attorneys who were lining up for defense and prosecution.

The defendants are sons of millionaires. It was estimated the combined fortunes that will be available in the attempt to save the youths from the gallows aggregate $15,000,000.

A new phrase already has been coined to describe the mental state of the defendants—it is "dementia Americana." It is an offshoot of "dementia Americana" which held public attention a generation ago when Harry K. Thaw was on trial for the slaying of Stanford White. Thaw was found not guilty of murder because of insanity.

State's Preparing Case

The new type of insanity, according to alienists, exaggerates the ego of the individual until he imagines he is mentally what Jack Dempsey is physically—a sort of super-self.

The state is already preparing to combat the insanity plea. State's Attorney Crowe has had three well known alienists observing the youths—Dr. Hugh T. Patrick, Dr. William O. Krohn, and Dr. Archibald Church.

These alienists are said to be, as a result of observations already made, prepared to swear that the youths are sane and that they were sane at the time the crime was committed.

Inquest Disappointment

The case will be laid before the grand jury Tuesday, according to State's Attorney Crowe. He predicted that indictments would be returned tomorrow.

The defendants will then be arraigned on the indictments and a date set for their trial. An early trial was predicted.

Leopold and Loeb were lodged in the county jail where their attorneys, relatives and other interested persons might confer with them without interference. The move was made by Clarence Darrow, noted criminal law.

PAINTINGS SELL AT HIGH PRICES

Rembrandt Canvases Prove Unpopular at French Government Auction

Universal Service

Paris, June 2.—Eighty-seven paintings, forming the collection of the dealer Deridder, sold Monday by the French government for the benefit of the reparations fund, brought 11,698,450 francs. This is nearly double the record for a one day auction by Doucet in 1912.

One extraordinary feature of the sale was the apparent unpopularity of Rembrandt pictures. The "Flora" acquired by Deridder for 1,200,000 francs in 1914, brought only 300,000, while the "Portrait of a Man" fetched 710,000 francs or $9,000 less than the official estimate.

Honors for the day went to the "Portrait of a Young Woman" by Franz Hals, which was purchased after a hot fight for 2,100,000 francs by Edward Duveen. The "Portrait of an Old Lady" by the same artist went for 920,000 francs.

Duveen, on behalf of a London buyer, and M. Knoedler, for a New York client, engaged in a stiff duel over "A Farm In The Sunshine" by Hobbema, the latter finally winning with a bid of 1,320,000 francs.

yer, and Benjamin Bachrach, appearing respectively for Leopold and Loeb.

State's Attorney Crowe fought vainly to prevent the victory for the accused youths, but Judge Caverly allowed their recommitment on writs of habeas corpus and adjourned the case until June 6, meantime permitting the prisoners to be held in the county jail.

Inquest Disappointment

The scene at the Furth undertakings parlors where the inquest was to have been held provided only a keen disappointment for the throng which had gathered, hoping to hear more of the gruesome details of the death of young Franks.

The confessed slayers arrived in a police car, both seeming unconscious of their predicament and smoking lazily at cigarettes. They appeared wholly disinterested in the proceedings.

Leopold's father and his brother, Michael were on hand, as was Jacob Loeb, former president of the school board. Samuel Etelson, friend of three families, stood by the bereaved father of the murdered boy.

State's Attorney Crowe with two assistants arrived early and conferred with the coroner. The inquest was formally opened and as suddenly came to a close, while the crowd gasped in disappointment. Crowe moved for an adjournment until June 27, and there being no objection from the defense. Coroner Wolff granted the delay.
