The Emmet ball team will play the Shamrocks here next Sunday. This game will be a good one. If you are at all interested in base ball you should see this game.

W. D. MATHEWS SENDS CHECK FOR FIVE DOLLARS

W. D. Mathews, the founder and former editor of The Frontier, sends a check to the treasurer of the organization recently organized for the removal of General John O'Neill from its resting place in Holy Sepulchre cemetery in Omaha, to the plot of ground between Calvary and Prospect Hill cemeteries in this city.

Following is the letter accompanying the check:

June 18, 1924.
Editor The Frontier: Forty-four years ago (July, 1880) I got out the first issue of The Frontier, and from that time to now, no matter where we lived, Mrs. Mathews and I have by its columns kept posted on the doings in O'Neill and Holt county, rejoicing in the many good things that have come and sympathizing in the adversities.

It is with pleasure that I note that a movement has been inaugurated looking to the removal of the body of General John O'Neill from Omaha to the town he founded a half century ago, and the erection of a suitable monument to perpetuate his memory. Good. And we want to in a small way be identified with this splendid and proper idea, hence please hand to Neil Brennan, the treasurer, the check for five dollars. By the way good old Neil Brennan, (God rest his soul) was always my friend through evil as well as good report. Sometimes we disagreed in our party matters, but friendship was never broken.

I am interested in this movement for various reasons, among them because the General's youngest daughter, sweet little Kitty O'Neill, was for some time my deputy in the postoffice, and also because I owned the O'Neill homestead, laid it out in an addition, and built my home on corner of Main street. This was the scene of very many happy gatherings of our good neighbors, the remembrance of which yet afford us much pleasure. Fact is that the years we lived in O'Neill were the happiest of all years. There our children were born, and there two of them are sleeping the long sleep—right near where the proposed memorial to Gen. O'Neill is to be erected.

The "gude wife" and her worse half talk of making a visit up there sometime in the not very distant future, and we know we will enjoy the renewal of old friendships with the very best people on earth.

Very truly yours, with kind regards to all,
W. D. MATHEWS.

THE NORTHWESTERN MUST OPERATE TRAINS

The State Railway Commission have decided, as a result of the hearing recently held in Norfolk, that the Northwestern cannot remove their passenger trains No. 2 and No. 11, on week days, as asked for by the company. The early morning passenger, No. 6 from the west, now arrives in O'Neill at 2:15 a. m., and the afternoon passenger from the east arrives here at 3:35 p. m. The schedule is as follows:

East Bound—	West Bound—
No. 6—2:15 a. m.	No. 13—7:16 a. m.
No. 22—10:00 a. m.	No. 11—3:35 p. m.
No. 2—2:00 p. m.	No. 3—11:25 p. m.

CHECKER CHAT.

The disc pushers enjoyed a treat one day last week when Elmer Seeley of Lincoln, dropped into the city looking for entertainment. Mr. Seeley is one of the topnotchers in checkerdom. President Henry Waterson Tomlinson, Councillor L. C. Chapman and the Rev. J. A. Hutchins divided honors with the champion.

"Foxy Grandpa" Eager writes the secretary of the club that he is longing for a game with the gang. He says that Arlington is alright but they don't know how to play checkers down there.

"AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL"

(By Uncle Pete in Omaha Bee.)
O'Neill, Neb., June 22.—Unless Charley Martin relents and merely files a civil action against his owner, Scar-Faced Billy, big pet pickerel belonging to Frank Barrett, may have to go to jail for violation of the state game laws. Judge Kirwin of Beaver Flats, in whose court the complaint against the pet fish was filed, has recommended that the criminal action against Scar-Faced Billy be withdrawn and the civil action substituted, to keep Beaver Flats from being bankrupt through building a fish tank in the local basile.

Scar-Faced Billy is charged with killing wild duck out of season, which is not only a serious offense, but a federal one also. The Beaver Flats fish and game association however thinks that it has enough influence at Washington to prevent a federal indictment of the fish at least until after election.

It seems that the big pickerel, which Mr. Barrett uses to keep the carp out of his trout streams and hay meadows, recently was loaned to the fish and game association and placed by them in Waller's Lake to keep the carp from entering that body of water during the June floods which have so swollen both the South Fork and Dry creek that their flood waters have connected with the lake.

Mr. Martin, whose ranch borders on the south shores of the lake, is engaged in duck raising and a number of his tame ducks have intermarried with the wild ones nesting in the vicinity to such an extent that his flocks are of sufficient percentage of wild blood to bring them under the protection of the state and federal migratory bird acts.

A carp became panic stricken the other day while being chased by the pickerel and took refuge among a flock of Mr. Martin's duck which were swimming in the lake. The pickerel in the excitement of the chase and while snapping at the carp accidentally bit one of the young birds, wounding it severely.

He thereby acquired a taste for a duck diet and since has been dining profusely off of Mr. Martin's birds. Mr. Martin to protect the flocks immediately swore out a warrant in Judge Kirwin's court for the arrest of the fish. Judge Kirwin is anxious to have the action changed because he fears that if the fish were incarcerated and should die in jail unless the community installed a fish tank to keep it alive, Mr. Barrett might bring suit for damages.

HOLT COUNTY MASONS HOLT TENTH ANNUAL MEETING AT EWING

R. R. Dickson, L. G. Gillespie, Sam A. Arnold, Clifford B. Scott, C. J. Malone and E. D. Henry attended the Tenth Annual Meeting of Holt County Masons held in the opera house at Ewing, Tuesday evening. About seventy-five masons from different parts of the county were present. The banquet was held in the basement of the school house. The following program was given in the opera house following the banquet:

Toastmaster ..... J. N. Trommershauser
Address of Welcome ..... S. W. Green
Response ..... Clifford B. Scott
Address ..... F. J. Sexsmith
Address ..... C. J. Malone
Address ..... W. L. Philley
Address, Grand Master R. R. Dickson

Following the program "Mud and Sand," a three reel comedy, and "High Sign," Buster Keaton comedy were shown by the theatre management for the entertainment of the assembly.

The O'Neill second base ball nine were defeated at Inman last Sunday by the Inman lads, 6 to 5.
