R. J. Marsh is wondering what important event in his life will happen on next October 15th. This date has played a very important part in Bob's past, among the most important of which are his arrival in Holt county October 15, 1878; moved from the farm to O'Neill, October 15, 1889; Married Kate Menish, October 15, 1895; bought the Bottling Works October 15, 1907; made the contract with the insurance company with whom he is still employed on October 15, 1914. In talking over the early days Bob's mind drifted from the early settlers down to the present time and the following is what he gather from his remarks: "Saw herds of antelope in the northern part of Holt county in the early days; saw packs of prairie wolves; made trips with oxen west to the headwaters of the Niobrara river at the age of sixteen years; saw the prairie fires sweep all grasses from the Niobrara river through to the county line south, in a few days; met Indians on the prairie north of O'Neill; smoked the 'pipe of peace' with Chief 'Honest John' at the Pine Ridge agency thirty-eight years ago; saw the oldest trees, now in Holt county, planted; saw the first white child that was born in Holt county (Joe Ryan) when he was one year old; saw every important event that has taken place in Holt county the past forty-six years.

CHICAGO FIRM LOSES STATE BANK FUND SUIT

Lincoln, July 7.—The state supreme court has decided against the Chicago Title and Trust Co. in its suit for thirty thousand dollars against the state bank guaranty fund, growing out of the failure of the Brown County Bank of Long Pine. It was alleged that some time prior to its failure the bank issued twenty certificates of deposit for the total sum of thirty thousand dollars to H. F. Bird, and that these came into the possession of the plaintiff in the usual course of business and for value, but it is found by the high court that the certificates were not given on a deposit, but on a loan and that they are not, therefore, a lien against the guaranty fund.

Raymond J. Bischoff, who in 1921 cut quite a spurge in financial circles and who failed for more than $4,000,000 of money belonging to Chicago wage earners, who had been induced to invest their small savings, was the original purchaser of the securities of the Long Pine bank which have been declared worthless by the court decision. Bischoff, known as the Chicago Ponzi, attracted much attention at Ainsworth where he instituted suit to recover on the certificates of deposit, by playing bridge for a dollar a point and because of his frequent use of the long distance telephone to Chicago to direct his financial operations. The decision sustains the original decision of District Judge Robert R. Dickson, who presided at the first hearing.

INDICTED GIVE BONDS FOR COURT APPEARANCE

(Norfolk News) William Calvin and Horace Henifin, William Lanzan, Mathew and Austin Hines, R. J. They were indicted by a federal grand jury meeting before Judge Woodrow last September on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property, consisting of automobiles.

This action follows uncovering several months ago of what was called an automobile theft ring in the vicinity of Spencer, which operated mainly, it was claimed, across the river in Holt county.

DAVIS AND BRYAN THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES
