Dickenson, father and mother of the injured man, who were visiting in O'Neill, accompanied by Mrs. S. J. Weekes went to Omaha Wednesday morning on the early train.

SULLIVAN-BARRETT.

The wedding of Patrick J. Sullivan, of this city and Miss Anna Barrett, of Fremont, occurred in St. Patrick's church, in Fremont, Rev. Patrick O'Sullivan celebrating the nuptial high mass at 7:30 on the morning of July 23rd.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Harry Connerly, of Fremont.

The bride wore a tan bark Elizabeth crepe dress with hat to match and carried a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The bride's maid, Miss Anna O'Connell, of Chadron, was attired in a brown airdale crepe dress with a hat to match and carried a bouquet of Sweet Heart roses.

The bridegroom wore a becoming suit of black.

Walter Brennan, of this city, was best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the wedding party, consisting of twenty-five relatives and invited friends, were served a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Barrett.

The bride is not an entire stranger to Holt county people. She is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Barrett, of Fremont, who will be remembered as Mrs. Lawrence Barrett, who with her husband resided four miles northeast of O'Neill until about twelve years ago.

"Pat" is well known by the people of this part of the county. He is a brother of M. R. Sullivan of this city, and a young man of good habits and is industrious and thrifty.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will make their home on their farm four miles northeast of O'Neill.

Following the wedding breakfast the newly weds departed for a short trip east. They returned to O'Neill and are now at home to their friends. The out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sullivan and son, Clotus, and Miss Mame Sullivan, of O'Neill; L. F. Barrett, of St. Paul, Minnesota.

EMMET INVINCIBLES

DEFEAT STUART

The ball game at Stuart last Sunday resulted in a victory for the Emmet boys with a score of two to seven. Stuart has practically an all salaried team and only figured on a practice game with Emmet, but were badly disappointed. The people of Emmet and vicinity should be proud of the fact that they have a home team good enough to go out and compete with the larger towns that are hiring from two to seven of the best men that money can hire. They should attend the ball games and show the boys they appreciate what they are doing to keep their town on the baseball map.

PICNIC AT REDBIRD

SATURDAY, AUGUST 2

A picnic will be held at Redbird next Saturday. A ball game will be played between Verdell and Greenwood Indians. The people of O'Neill as well as residents from all parts of the county are cordially invited.

Hon. W. L. Phillely will make the address about 11:30.

SAVIDGE AMUSEMENT CO.

ARE HERE AGAIN

Plays Are Pleasing Crowds Each Evening. Midway Is Popular Resort For Old And Young.

The Savidge company arrived in O'Neill Sunday afternoon on their special train of ten double-length bats and Pullmans and are occupying the usual location just west of the laundry.

As in former years, the Walter Savidge players are the featured attraction and on the opening night presented the play "It's A Boy" to a large house. The offering was received with applause throughout.

Tuesday evening the company played "Turn To The Right," a play that is familiar to many who have seen it in the movies.

Wednesday night the players presented "She Walked In Her Sleep," which was also very well received. Tonight the play will be "Three Live Ghosts," and tomorrow night the great play "Welcome Stranger" will be the offering and has received considerable favorable comment in the press where the company has appeared.

Saturday afternoon the players will present a matinee entitled "Before Breakfast"—a very delightful three-act comedy.

Saturday evening the players will present "Clarence," a comedy by Booth Tarkington, guaranteed to produce laughs. All of the plays have had long runs in New York and each one is guaranteed to please.

A word here about the players could not be amiss. It can truthfully be said that Mr. Savidge has eclipsed all previous efforts in selecting this year's cast, which is the strongest carried by any company in the middle west. The plays are all produced under the direction of Al C. Wilson, who is also an able character in each offering. The leading man is Raymond Appleby and the leading lady is Bethel Barth. The comedy roles are ably handled by Craig Nelson and the character and business parts by J. Gordon Kelly, Robert, Sherwood, Percy Hall, Adelaide Irving, Nellie Kempton, May Wilson, Phillip Moore and Oscar Olson.

The stage is said to be the largest carried by any company in this territory and is as completely equipped with electrical and scenic effects as any large theatre and each production is presented with all the required effects.

Vaudeville is presented between the acts by Hall and Kimpton, in singing and talking novelties. Phil Moore, the musical saw man; May Wilson in song and dance numbers.

The Savidge orchestra consists of ten pieces and is under the direction of Tom Clark as well as the band and both have pleased the crowds immensely. The morning concerts on the street up town have attracted quite a number so far, and the numbers have pleased all—ranging from popular to classic in each program.

What is said to be the best free act ever carried by Savidge is the stunt put on twice a day by the Wright Duo. The act has the distinction of being absolutely original and consists of a number of clever balancing maneuvers with a chair perched on the top most round of a swinging ladder. The act has been a feature with one of the large circuses.

The midway is up to the usual Savidge standard and is well patronized each evening. A number of new features among the concessions are to be found this year. The four riding lozies are doing a fair business and pleasing the kiddies immensely.

The Savidge company is a good clean show and is popular in O'Neill where the company appears every year and the public appreciates the efforts of Mr. Savidge in bringing this type of high class amusement to O'Neill each season. The company bids for business on merit alone and "drives its own stakes" which puts it in an entirely different class from a certain well known form of entertainment which has preyed on certain communities for several years past.

The company goes from here to Wisner and the many friends of the Savidge folks in O'Neill with the company the best of success and look forward to their return next year.

The Frontier, $2.00 Per Year.

MRS. CHARLES HANSEN

KEEPS HOME FOR AGED IN CALIFORNIA HOME

The following article was taken from the Pomona paper of a recent date and tells of the home life and present surroundings of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hansen, formerly of this city, who have resided in California for the past two or three years:

"Living a carefree, happy, contented life, four women, the youngest of whom is only 79 and eldest 98, are making their home with Mrs. Charles Hansen on East Third street, near Towne avenue, this city. Mrs. Hansen, who is a newcomer to Pomona from O'Neill, Nebraska, is maintaining a miniature old woman's home.

"I can never do anything else," said the jovial Mrs. Hansen, when speaking of the matter yesterday. I love my work and I will never be happy doing another thing."

"The combined ages of the four women is 335 years and if there is a house in Southern California that can boast of but four women with a higher aggregate age. Mrs. Hansen has yet to hear of it. The four women with Mr. and Mrs. Hansen live as one happy family. They have just been together for a few months as the Hansens have only been in Pomona since March 1st."

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Saturday, July 26, being Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Wyant's golden wedding anniversary, seven of their children planned a pleasant surprise for them by going to their home Sunday with a plentiful supply of good things to eat. The tables were spread in the shade of trees and there in the midst of their children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren this estimable couple spent a very enjoyable day. J. Newton Wyant and Miss Mary Lowery were married July 26, 1874, at Eagleville, Missouri. They emigrated to Nebraska April 10, 1884, and homesteaded eight miles south-west of Chambers. From there they moved to their present home in Chambers, where they have won for themselves a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyant are the parents of ten children all living. They are also blessed with twenty-four grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. Three of the children were unable to be present.

The children presented their parents with a beautiful set of dishes decorated with gold bands.

SAVIDGE MUSICIAN

WEDS OMAHA GIRL

Last Monday a wedding occurred at Butte, Nebraska, which united Ernest Wright and Miss Marie Howland, both of Omaha, in the bonds of matrimony. Mr. Wright is one of the musicians with the Savidge company which is appearing in O'Neill this week, while his bride is a former resident of Omaha and met her husband-to-be at this point upon his arrival Sunday.

The couple were the recipients of a suitable wedding gift from members of the band and orchestra.

While strangers to O'Neill people until this week nevertheless they have made numerous friends who wish them well.

Manly Allen and sister, Miss Fay, returned from Omaha, Monday, where Manly submitted to a second operation on his eye that was injured some time ago. They stopped enroute at Norfolk and visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Major.

J. T. PATERSON.

James T. Paterson, of Page, one of the early settlers of the east end of the county, died at his home this (Thursday) morning following a stroke of paralysis Tuesday evening. Further particulars will be published next week.

MRS. GEORGE DAVIS

Mrs. George Davis, of Inman, died in the Lutheran hospital at Norfolk last Thursday evening where she had recently submitted to an operation. The remains were brought to Inman Friday and funeral services were held from the Methodist church Sunday morning at ten o'clock. An obituary will be published next week.

CARL FREDERIC GROSSMAN.

Carl Frederic Grossman was born in Schorndorf, Germany, February 2, 1851, and was baptized and reared in the Lutheran faith. In 1868 he came to America and resided in Philadelphia for four years. From there he went to St. Louis, Missouri. He came to Nebraska, Nebraska, where he homesteaded in 1879, and where he spent the remainder of his life.

On March 27, 1895, he was united in marriage to Miss Madalena Bay. To this union one child was born, Louise Catherine, now Mrs. John Damero.

He leaves to mourn his death, his wife, one daughter, Mrs. John Damero, three grand children, two brothers-in-law, Henry and George Bay of this city, and a host of friends.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Valhe, of Atkinson, Tuesday, July 29th, from the home near Phoenix and interment in the Phoenix cemetery.

"AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL"

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch.)

O'Neill, Nebr.: Charley Harding honey king of Beaver Flats, after several years of scientific experimentation has solved the problem of doubling the output of his numerous apiaries without increasing the number of bees. Mr. Harding's bee ranch is located in the valley of the Calamas River just below the mouth of Skull Creek, a community much infested with large and fierce man-eating mosquitoes.

Some time ago Mr. Harding conceived the idea that if he could lengthen the mandibles of his bees they would be able to extract much more honey from the blossoms of their range by dipping deeper into the recesses of the flower cups. This would enable them to make shorter and more frequent trips from their hives and thus would prolong the life and usefulness of the workers.

With this plan in mind he first sought to establish at least a neutrality if not an actual friendship between the mosquitoes and the bees, which heretofore had promptly engaged in mortal combat on meeting. He gradually accustoms the insects to each other by each evening, introducing mosquitoes into the hives after the bees had gone to roost for the night.

The bees, unlike mammals, does not awaken in a surly mood, but instead greets the day in most cheerful frame of mind, and at that time is a friend to all. After several months of this procedure, the bees and the mosquitoes at last established friendly relations.

Mr. Harding then hung raw meat just outside the openings of the hives so that the mosquitoes would not have to seek afar for food. From then on the bees and the mosquitoes dominated together with the resultant amalgamation of the two species and the production of a long-billed hybrid with the nature and the likes of the bees predominating.

Mr. Harding has sent several hatchlings of eggs of the New Jersey gall-nipper and will seek further to improve his swarms this fall.

"AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL"

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch.)

O'Neill, Neb. Doc Wilkinson, one of the leading scientists of Beaver Flats, will light his ranch buildings and run his sorghum mill and feed grinding machinery on the ranch just north of The Flats, this year from power furnished from growing plants.

Science long has been aware of the enormous power possessed by the growing vegetation and that a germinating seed has energy enough to crack and shatter the strongest rocks and the doctor quietly has been at work for several years on the problem of harnessing this energy. After experimentation with many plants he at last has found the Hubbard squash, because of its hard shell the best adapted to laboring for man.

He will not attempt to patent the machine which he has constructed for utilizing the power of growing plants but will publish its principles and plans for its construction in several leading scientific journals, that all man-kind may benefit as soon as several minor imperfections are overcome.

The squash motor, as it is termed consists principally of a broad metal band, lined with a soft substance to keep from injuring the squash, which is fastened firmly around the young gourd like fruit of the plant and its ends connected with two crossed cables, which each in turn is wound around a drum on the ends of which are geared wheels. The growing and enlarging of the squash causes the bands to transmit energy to the drums. These in turn actuate other wheels and pulleys of sufficient number to transform a portion of the vast energy into the speed necessary to make it commercially adaptable.

The doctor already has pumps in several of his large cattle pastures rigged up with squash motors to furnish water for the cattle and about the only maintenance expense is oil; the usual depreciation on pumping machinery and the cost of a fence necessary to keep the cattle power plant.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

Rev. Hutchins was called to Ponca, Nebraska, Sunday morning on account of the death of a nephew, Joe Dare, who was killed in an automobile accident Saturday evening. Funeral services were held Monday morning.

The Epworth League is sponsoring the Holt County Epworth League Institute, to be held here August 5 to 7. There are ten leagues in Holt county, all of which will be represented. Outside speakers: Rev. A. O. Hinson, Norfolk pastor; Rev. G. M. Bing, Plainview. They will give lectures and addresses during the institute. The pastors of each league in the county will also give addresses. Public cordially invited to attend all services.

STORM DOES DAMAGE

HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

(Atkinson Graphic, July 25.)

A severe wind and rain storm that hit this section of the country last Sunday night about 11 o'clock did much damage on farms north of Atkinson. The rain, .90 of an inch as reported in Atkinson, was driven by a heavy northwest wind and was accompanied by a damaging electrical storm.

Reports are that 26 head of cattle were killed by lightning on the Turner, and Hugh James places north of town. Four head of sheep were killed on the Ed Gosman farm when the wind partly destroyed a cement shed in which they were sheltered. Some damage was done by wind on the Henry Winkler and Robert Fullerton places. Much damage by water was done to roads in the north county.

Some hail damage in the Sunday night storm is reported in the Wm. Blackburn neighborhood. Just a little under an inch of rain fell in this storm in a very short time. There was very little wind locally but in some places there was enough of a gale to lay some of the corn and grain.

CROPS DESTROYED BY

HAIL NEAR DUSTIN

(Stuart Advocate, July 24.)

A very destructive hail storm south and west of Dustin last week did great damage to crops in that vicinity. The center of the storm appeared to be at the Herman Kaupp place. His crops of corn and small grain were entirely destroyed.

John Robertson also lost some small grain, and Alphonse and Clem Oberling were very heavy losers. Part of Mahlon Shearer's crops were also ruined. Many others suffered severe losses, but those named above have been particularly mentioned.

Mr. Kaupp told us that the hail was about a foot deep at his place, and that he waded around in it until his feet got so cold that he had to get out of it.

TAGGART-COOK.

(Chambers Sun, July 17.)

Prof. Paul Taggart was married to Miss Louise Elizabeth Cook, of Waverly, on July 16th. Mrs. Edith Taggart and sons, Ross and Louie, left Monday to attend the wedding ceremony which was to be a big lawn affair. Mr. and Mrs. Taggart will tour the east for several weeks. Then they will visit in Chambers for ten days before going to their home at Barnston, where they will receive their friends after August fifteenth.

Paul, who was brought up in Chambers and is well known here to everyone, has been making good in Weeping Water the past several years and now has the superintendency of the Barnston schools.

We all wish Prof. and Mrs. Taggart a happy life's journey.
