Bloomfield, Neb., Aug. (Special) -During the storm Friday afternoon, Martin Wendell, 48 years old, a farmer living three miles east of Bloomfield, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. He was in the feed lot attending to some of the stock when the bolt struck him in the head and passed down his right side. tearing the clothing from his body and ripping his laced boot wide open His body was badly burned. He is survived by his wife and one stepson, also three brothers, All of Wausa, Neb.

CLAIMS JURISDICTION IN CROSSING CASES

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. \ (Special)-The state railway commission held. in an order just handed down, that it has jurisdiction over rural grade crossings of railroads and power to compel the companies to construct underground crossings where the existing ones are dangerous for travelers. The Missouri Pacific railroad company is resisting an application for an underground crossing near Delphi, on its Prosser branch, claiming that the commission was without power to order anything that involved new construction and that it would be a dangerous precedent to set because it would result in a flood of applications for such crossings,

The commission finds that as it is the duty of county boards to provide safe highways all of the expense cannot be imposed on the railroads. and in this case orders the county board to make the excavation and all necessary preparations for a bridge to be built by the railroad.

OLD CANDIDATES ARE BEING "INTERVIEWED"

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. (Special)-The Nebraska Conference for Political Action, a branch of the national organization that has endorsed La-Follette, is sending out questionnaires to all candidates for state and congressional offices. The latter are asked as to their stand on government ownership of all communication systems, public operation of Muscle Shoals, the Howell-Barkley railroad bill, the Norris-Sinclair Export corporation bill and a number of other measures of like import.

State candidates are asked as to their stand on the repeal of the code, state ownership of water power, nonpartisan election of all state and local officers, making the direct primary a part of the constitution, eight hour day for state and city employes gasoline tax, use of road fund for more strictly rural highways, state income tax, increasing powers and duties of local school boards, one house legislature and rural registration of voters.

Omaha Woman Asks Court To Settle Odd Legal Question

Omaha, Neb., July -(Special)-Mrs. Anna Wedemyer, who was denied in Douglas county, a decree of separate maintenance from her husband, who walked out of court with an absolute decree of divorce from her, has appealed to supreme court for settlement of an odd legal question. She is a professional nurse, and her husband, who had given her all of their property, contended that she could support herself. The legal principle she contends for is that a wife is not compelled to work when her husband earns a sufficient sum to support them both, where he has cast her off. Wedemyer says it was a case of "love me, love my folks," and that she insisted on either living with them or having them live with him.

OMAHA INDIANS TO PUT ON POW-POW

-(Special) Walthill, Neb., July -The Omaha Indians, whose ancestors greeted Lewis and Clark, in their expedition up thet Missouri river in 1806, will hold a pew-pow at their tribal camping grounds, at Macy, Neb., nine miles east of Walthill, from August 2, to August 10. The tepes. the horse drawn pele cart, the flaring colored clothes, will bring to mind the picturesqueness which greeted Lowis and Clark in their adventurous travels. On this occasion, the Indians will bring back to memory the romance of the plains and the sturdy courage which dominated the first settlers of Nebraska.

There will also be broncho busting and primitive dancing and on Sundays parades in full Indian regalia.

WANTS REHEARING OF CONTEMPT CASE

Lincoln, Neb., July ---- (Special)-Dwight Taylor, whose conviction for contempt of court was recently affirmed by the state supreme court, has asked for a rehearing, claiming that every accused person is entitled to a strict construction of the criminal law. Taylor was accused of having promised a dress to each of two girls called by the state in a recent murder case in Omaha, and thus interfering with the due course of justice. His contention is that while the information charged him with promising a dress to both of the girls, the proof was at variance in that is showed that he had offered a new dress to only one of them. He insists that this difference is fatal to a conviction,

State Board of Equalization Has Numerous Things To Iron Out

Lincoln, Neb., July - - (Special) -The state board of equalization will resume its interrupted inquiry into assessed land values and railroad taxes Tuesday, and hopes before it concludes its sessions to adjust what appears to be some discrepancies in the reports of assessors, Many countles of the state have reported a marked falling off in value of farming land this year as compared with that of 1923 and 1922. Some time before August 2 the board plans to certify to counties its decision in the form of the total assessed valuation of all property in each county. Holt county was asked to explain why it reduced the assessed value of its lands from $15.34 an acre to $13.03, a drop of 15 per cent., contrary to the edict of the County Assessors' association. County Attorney Julius D. Cronin did most of the talking for Assessor J. M. Hunter and Supervisor John Sullivan.

"It is reported that a Holt county land-owner has offered to sell 260 acres of land to the state for use as a fishing resort for $30 an acre," sad State Tax Commissioner Smith. "Well, he hasn't sold any yet, has he?" said Mr. Cronin. "Maybe circumstances justify such a price. Perhaps the lake is in the center of a pasture, and the owner does not care to part with it."

Other assessors told of the bad slump in grazing land, Hooker county reported a drop in assessed value from $3.70 an acre to $2.77. The board indicated it will be obliged to raise the valuation not only in Hooker but in other counties where the drop has been unusual.

DRAYMAN IS NOT

A COMMON CARRIER Lincoln, Neb., July -(Special) -The state railway commssion is in receipt of a letter from Alpha Hansen, town drayman of Mullen, Neb., in which Hansen conplains that as a drayman he is a common carrier, and subject to the jurisdiction of the commission the same as are the railroads, telephone companies and the like. Mr. Hansen doubts it, but he wants to be sure. He says these merchants have told him he must haul what they want hauled, and when and where. His principal grievance is that while 90 per cent. of the cream shipments from that town are made on week days, with Saturday as the big day, the creamery company says he is compelled, as a common carrier, to make trips on Sunday, when he

Wayne County Man Was Held in Germany During World War

Omaha. Neb., July - -(Special)-Frank Noelle, a farmer, has brought suit in United States court to recover title to a quarter section of land in Wayne county, seized by the alien property custodian during the World war when Noelle was unable to leave Gormany.

Noelle claims he went to Germany in 1911 to visit and neglected to affirm his American citizenship, although he had been naturalized in this country in 1903. In Germany he margied and lived for a time on a farm owned by Mrs. Noelle. The return to this country was delayed in 1912 and again in 1913 and 1914. each time by the birth of a child. When the war broke out in August, 1014, he was refused passports because he was not registered as an American citizen.

CROFTON MAN HAS

RARE ENGLISH COIN Crofton, Neb., July - - (Special)-All who are contending in the coin contest in northeast Nebraska have been elimiated to date by Lloyd West of this place, who has an old English coin dating back to the time of Queen Elizabeth. Mr. West obtained the coin, dated 1569, during the World war when he served as a telephone lineman with the headquarters detachment of the Second Field Artilery brigade in the famous Second American division. His attention was directed to the old coin in the possession of a German prisoner and he easily secured it in exchange for three sacks of tobacco which was almost priceless to the German prisoners.

PAYS STIFF PRICE

FOR KILLING HORSE. Columbus, Neb., July (Special) Shooting a neighbor's horse, which a jury in district court valued at less than $35 cost Alfred Hittner, Cornlea, Neb. farmer $152. Hittner is alleged to have shot and killed the animal when it strayed on his land. The horse belonged to Charles Bender, a neighboring farmer, who had criminal action brought against Hittner. The sum of $75 was paid by Hittner to Bender in settlement of civil action although the civil suit stated that the horse was valued at $150. In the later criminal action a jury found the horse worth $35 and district Judge Louis Lightner fined Hittner $25 and costs amounting to $47.70.

FAIL TO FIND BODY OF NEBRASKA BANKER

Chicago, Aug. -Failure to find the body of Jack M. Patterson, Union, Neb., banker, who has been missing a week and was supposed to have drowned, has caused renewal of the search on different theories. It is now thought that he may have suffered lapse of memory and wandered away. But the fact that he is supposed to be clad in a bathing suit as he left his clothes behind, and there was a bill for a new bathing suit, also raises doubts,

Reports from Union are that his accounts have been audied and found correct.

WOMAN TOOK HIS CAR Beatrice, Neb., July - -Declaring that he had been "duped" by a woman whom he had innocently known and trusted for years G. W. Jordan, an 80-year-old Civil war veteran of Goff, Kan., related to local police authorities how a Mrs. Blanche White, also of Goff, embarked with him on a cross country automobile trip to South Dakota and subsequently robbed him of his car and $100 in cash.

According to the veteran's story, the couple, one 80 and the other 28, traveled as far as Wymore, Neb., and after spending the night there, proceeded on towards Beatrice. When about eight miles from Beatrice, Jordan said, the woman complained of thirst and asked that he get her a drink.

They stopped near a farm house and while Jordan was getting water. his companion disappeared down the road with the car.

Neither the woman nor the car has been located.

SUE COUNTY TREASURER

FOR ALLEGED SHORTAGE Hartington, Neb., July ... -The board of county commissioners of Cedar county has instructed County Attorney Millard to file suit against County Treasurer Martin Nelson, in an effort to collect a shortage of $1.-876, according to experts who examined the books.

The shortage was discovered following the robbery of the treasurer's office by Scott Millard and Ed Cahoe. of Omaha, September, 10, 1923, Mr. Nelson had been away from his office from July 19, being in a hospital and had resumed his duties only an hour or so before the robbery was discovered. Millard and Cahoe had in their possession $297 when arrested near Council Bluffs, following an accident of their automobile. As the expert accountants' report indicated that a large part of the shortage existed before the robbery, Mr. Nelson is being sued on the grounds that he was elected to protect the funds of the county, the commissioners believing that if he was unable to give the work his personal attention it was his duty to employ competent help who would protect the county from loss.

EDGAR HOWARD EXPLAINS HIS NEAR ENCOUNTER.

Lincoln, Neb., July ; Special) ---Edgar Howard, of Columbus, representative in congress from the Third Nebraska district, has been in Lincoln off and on since his return from Washington, and tells what he insists is the true story of his collision with another member of the House when he thought the short and ugly word was applied. Congressman Howard, who prides himself on his quaker antecedents, says he never picks a fight and very seldom loses his temper, but the recent incident in Washington was one of the rare exceptions.

"My friends," said Judge Howard, "know that there are some things. which when said about me or to me call for action. That was one of the things that happened, so I thought, and the action followed. It is really wonderful what strength a man can have when under a little excitement or laboring under emotion. On this particular occasion a large and vigorous man was holding me by the right arm. Another just as big had hold of my left arm. A mediumsized man jumped on my back and threw his arm about my neck. With these three hanging onto me I walked twenty or twenty five paces down an aisle with their feet dragging and bumping the seats. To make a long story short the other congressman apologized, no blows were landed, and I found he had not said what I thought he said."
