Their little daughter, Patsy who has been visiting here for a couple of weeks, accompanied them home. Mrs. Clarence Zimmerman also went to Hastings with them for a visit.

A card from H. W. Tomlinson, who is attending the state fair at Lincoln this week, states that they were caught in the big rain that visited the south Platte country last Friday. Hank is getting the dope on all sides of the presidential situation. He heard Dawes and Phil La Follette in Lincoln and Davis in Omaha during the previous week.

Martin Cronin writes from his home at 565 West 191st street, New York City, that he arrived there O. K. and has been taking in the sights. In part his letter reads: "We are living on Washington Heights; it is a nice cool place here all the time. This place is principally apartment houses and within three blocks of me there are eight new apartment going up at this time."

Ray Zimmerman has just completed the installation of a large fish pond on his ranch ten miles northeast of O'Neill. The fish emporium has been constructed in a draw with a large concrete dam across the lower end with a concrete spillway. The pond is being stocked with bass, pickerel and croppies, which will be large enough for the table in a couple or three years.

J. M. Hunter, H. J. Hammond, Frank Phalin, Ira Moss and Miss Grace Hammond went to Lake Annes, South Dakota, last Sunday, with the desire and ambition to land a few large bass, but their hopes were shattered by the high winds and other conditions which were not favorable to bass fishing. They returned home Tuesday with a number of croppies and other fish and one bass.

The Frontier is continually adding new names to its already large subscription list. Miss Margaret Alworth, who is teaching school at Tilden, will read its columns during the school year. Floyd Pilger and family have decided the only way to know what is going on over the county is to read The Frontier. It has not been the policy of this paper to brag about its circulation, but we venture to say that The Frontier's subscription list is larger than any two other papers in the county at the present time.

The Holt county fair will soon be here. The dates are September 23, 24, 25 and 26. A number of farmers are arranging to bring in horses, cattle, hogs and poultry, as well as a complete display of grains and forage feeds. The farmers should take an interest in making the Holt county fair the best fair in this part of the state. The crop conditions are as good in Holt county as in any county in Nebraska. Those who have traveled over the country say that Holt county crops will average up with the crops in any part of the agricultural district. Bring your exhibit to the Holt county fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Rose entertained a number of their friends at a wienie roast Monday evening among the ghosts in the Ghost Light Oil District near the James Connolly ranch twelve miles northwest of O'Neill. The ghosts however, failed to join the party, notwithstanding the fact that the many lucid stories were conducive to their appearance. Those who partook of the wienies were: Mr. and Mrs. James Connolly and family; Ed Early; Mrs. A. L. Willcox; Miss Helen Willcox; Mrs. H. E. Coyne; Captain and Mrs. Francis Brennan; Miss Bernadette Brennan; Mrs. J. B. Ryan; Clement Ryan; Miss Loretta Ryan; Miss Ida Chapman; C. W. Conklin; Ed O'Donnell; Miss Katherine Roskoff; Miss Rose Taylor, Orman Kelley and James McPharlin.

The two steeple jacks who spent a couple of days painting flagpoles in O'Neill last week, met grief at West Point Sunday when they were picked up by the police charged with the theft of a Durant car from Lyle Bentz, of Norfolk. Saturday afternoon, while painting a pole in Norfolk these two men told a reporter for The Norfolk News that a car was absolutely necessary in their business. They had left their last in O'Neill, they said, and had one in Kansas City where it had been stored since a trip there two years previous. They gave the names of Irvan Smith and E. W. Hayes of San Diego, California. Monday afternoon they were arraigned before a judge for examination and were informed that their offense would perhaps draw a penitentiary sentence. During the night they dug their way to liberty through the walls of the jail and are still at large.

FEDERAL ENFORCEMENT OFFICER SAMARDICK MAKES A CLEANING

Federal Enforcement Officer Robert Samardick, accompanied by four assistants, traveling in two cars, drove from Omaha to O'Neill Saturday and began collecting violators of the Volstead law for whom warrants had been previously issued. At the conclusion of the raid Sunday afternoon eleven citizens were resting in the county jail and two O'Neill men and three Spencerites for whom warrants had been issued could not be located.

All of the men were arrested upon evidence furnished by stool pigeons who have been working in this territory for the past two months or more. It is reported that there are yet a number upon whom warrants have not been issued on whom the stool pigeons have several "buys."

By special agreement Officer Samardick allowed those taken in the clean-up to give bond in the sum of $2,000 to the County Judge for their appearance in federal court in Norfolk on September 15th. Wednesday Federal Officer Davis came up and accompanied the "boys" to Norfolk where they furnished bonds in federal court.

Those who made the trip to Norfolk Wednesday accompanied by their bondsmen were:

Clair Cannon and Gene Bauman, of Ewing.

Frank Mohr and Thomas Strong, of Emmet.

George Janaszak and John G. Kolkowski, of Atkinson.

James Rosengren, of Spencer.

George Parker, of Stuart.

Frank Summers, Bert Gunn, Joel Parker, Hugh McKenna, Buz Bowden and Wm. Pinkerman, of O'Neill.

A number of the men taken in the clean-up have been under arrest on liquor charges before. Some have cases pending in the district court and also in the federal court. Joel Parker and Hugh McKenna were arrested in the raid made by the state officers about three weeks ago.

Harry Snyder living about twelve miles southeast of O'Neill, has just completed the erection of a large modern residence 28x28 feet with a full basement and a full attic. The farm is modern throughout. Mr. Snyder's farm was among the first farm homesteaded in the county, and was homesteaded by Barney Stewart father of the late auctioneer by that name, and was a landmark from the beginning of the settlement.

The Nebraska State Bank

A daughter was born on August 24th, to Mr. and Mrs. George Stracke, of Stuart.

Miss Agnes Shoemaker spent several days last week at Stuart, Nebraska, the guest of Miss Alice Criss.

J. P. Gallagher and brother, Dr. Joe Gallagher, of Toledo, Ohio, came home Saturday evening from a few days bass fishing at Marsh lake in Cherry county. The editor of this paper can vouch for the fact that they caught a nice string of bass because our table was decorated the following day with a large one that weighed four pounds after it was dressed. They caught about eighty in all.

State Journal: "Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Ruth M. Page to William P. Parker, both of Lincoln, which will take place August 31, at the home of Miss Page's sister, Mrs. O. F. Adams, of Omaha." Miss Page is the daughter of Mrs. S. A. Page, of Page.
