

HOME

(Edgar A. Guest)

Home ain't a place that gold can buy or get up in a minute; Afore it's home there's got t' be a heap o' livin' in it; Within the walls there's got t' be some babies born, and then Right there ye've got t' bring 'em up t' women good, an' men;
And gradjerly, as time goes on, ye find ye wouldn't part With anything, as they ever used—ye've grown into yer heart;
The old high chairs, the playthings, the little shoes they wore Ye heard; an' if ye could ye'd keep the thumb marks on the door.
Ye've got t' weep t' make it home, ye've got t' work an' sigh,
And watch beside a loved one's bed, an' know that death is nigh;
An' in the stillness of the night t' see Death's angel come,
An' close the eyes o' her that smiled an' leave her sweet voice dumb For these are scenes that grip the heart an' when yer tears are dried Ye find the home is dearer than it was, an' sanctified; An' tuggin' at ye always are the pleasant memories O' her that was an' is no more—ye can't escape from these.
Ye've got t' sing an' dance fer years, ye've got t' romp an' play, An' learn t' love the things ye have by usin' 'em each day;
Even the roses 'round the porch must blossom year by year Afore they come a part o' ye suggestin' someone dear Who used t' love 'em long ago, an' trained 'em just t' run
The way they do, so's they would get the early mornin' sun; Ye've got t' love each brick an' stone from cellar up t' dome;
It takes a heap o' livin' in a house t' make it home.

GETS PAYMENT OUT OF GUARANTY FUND

Stockyards National Wins Lawsuit Over Certificate of Deposit In Failed Long Pine Bank.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 21.—The state deposit guaranty fund was hit for $7,400 more Thursday by reason of a decision of the supreme court awarding to the Stockyards National of Omaha recovery from the fund on the certificate of deposit for the sum it held when the Brown County bank of Long Pine was closed by the state.

The Omaha Bank was correspondent for the Long Pine institution, and in the course of business discounted a $30,000 note given by E. M.
Sandy, cattleman, and secured by a chattel mortgage on his herds. Without the knowledge of the Omaha bank Sandy sold a part of the cattle on the market there, and the item went through the Omaha bank, which gave the Brown county bank credit. Later its officials discovered what had happened, and in settlement the Brown county bank, having no cash, issued this certificate of deposit for $7,400.

The district court held that this constituted only a general claim, and was not payable out of the guaranty fund because it represented no deposit of actual cash or its equivalent. The supreme court says, however, that when the Brown county bank received the proceeds of a sale of chattles on which the Omaha bank held a valid first mortgage, with knowledge that the sale was made without the consent of the mortgagee, that the ownership of the deposit was in the Omaha bank. It follows, it says, that the Brown county bank was liable to the other bank for the sum deposited, which went to Sandy's credit, and that when a bank becomes insolvent before paying such a certificate, the mortgagee may enforce payment from the guaranty fund.

The fact that the transaction went through the Stockyards National does not make their claim valid. The court says that where the employment of bank clerks to perform purely ministerial duties does not constitute them such agents of the bank that notice of the transactions passing through it in the ordinary bookkeeping routine is notice to the bank, in the absence of any showing that the clerks told their chiefs or that it was their duty to do so.

JESSE FRIEND.

(Stuart Advocate, Nov. 20.)

Jesse Friend was born at Dawson, Shelby County, Ohio, November 11, 1835, and died at his home near Dustin, Nebraska, on his eighty-ninth birthday.

He and his father were gunsmiths and he pursued this occupation for ten years.

He was married to Susan Trine, May 17, 1866, at Sidney, Ohio.

To this union were born four children, three sons, William, Charley and Harrison; one daughter having died in infancy. They also cared for Sarah Ann Smith, who is now Mrs.
T. W. Berry.

Soon after his marriage he moved to Legionier, Indiana, where they resided for about six years.

Two sons, William and Charley were born to them there.

They then returned to Dawson, Ohio, living there for about three years, one son, Harrison, was born to them there. They moved from there to Petersburg, Indiana, living there for about eight years.

Their only daughter was born to them there, but lived but one day.

They then moved to their present home near Dustin, Nebraska, in the fall of 1883 where he lived until the time of his death.

He was one of the pioneers of this part of the country and witnessed the development of the community.

He had been in poor health for some time and death came as a relief from his long suffering.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, and three sons, William, Charley and Harrison. He being the last of his family to be taken.

Funeral services, conducted by C.
E. McClurg, were held at the home and interment was made in Woodlawn cemetery at Atkinson.

The sincere sympathy of the entire community is extended to the sorrowing ones in their sad hour.

CHARLES R. WELTON.

Charles R. Welton was born at Cohecton, N. Y., March 9, 1855, and died at O'Neill, Neb., November 21, 1924, aged 69 years, 8 months and 12 days.

Deceased moved to Holt county from Cleveland, Minn., in 1879, later filing on a homestead near Clifton Grove. He was a "child of the west," having spent several years on the Dakota frontier previous to coming to this part of the country with the trailblazers who wrote much of west Nebraska's early history. He was married to Nellie Cruise, daughter of Arthur Cruise, at Clifton Grove in the fall of 1882 and to this union was born three children: Barney, Ethel and Edward, all of whom reside in Canada. Mrs. Welton passed away when the children were yet small.

On September 11, 1915, he was married to Mrs. Lucy M. Allen at O'Neill.
Left with his wife to mourn his loss is his aged mother, Mrs. A. A. Welton of this city, three brothers and four sisters. They are J. H. Welton of Mullen, Edward H. Welton, of Josie; Frank T. Welton, of O'Neill; Mrs. J. F. Gunthorpe of Plainview; Mrs. Sam Gaffer of Mankato, Minn.; Mrs. Iva Dale of O'Neill, and Mrs.
Lloyd Pilger, also of O'Neill.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Hutchins, of the Methodist church, from the home of his mother at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and interment made in Prospect Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were: H. J. Zimmerman, George Bay, Emil Sniggs, Jos Wise, Zeb Warner and Henry Mills.

In life Charles Welton was a fine type of sturdy pioneer. He gathered knowledge of much of the important development that has taken place in west Nebraska and he also took part in much of the civic and official activities of the pioneer days. When his father was sheriff of Holt county his services were given as deputy.
For a time he lived in Deadwood, S.
D., where he was a building contractor, and many of the fine structures in the Black Hills are the work of his hands. He was a resident of Dawes county, south of Whitney, and hunted over the present site of Alliance when the deer and antelope, shipped to eastern markets, gave excellent financial returns to the settlers in that part of the country. In those days he was a staunch friend of James C. Dahlgren, mayor of Omaha, when he was a Chadron peace officer, and on different occasions he acted as guide in the western wilds for Captain Parker and Lieutenant Taylor of the Ninth cavalry stationed at Fort Robinson.

He returned to Holt county in 1905 and located near Josie postoffice, where he resided up to the time of his last sickness. His health commenced failing two years ago, but he was able to look after most of his ranch duties until a few months ago. The direct cause of death was Bright's disease, which later developed into dropsy, and although his suffering had been intense during the last several weeks, he bore up uncomplainingly and went to his reward in peace and trust in his savior.

His kind disposition and consideration for his neighbors and fellow-man will make his loss the more deeply mourned by those who have known him throughout the long span of years that he had claimed Holt county as his home.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our dear friends and neighbors who so willingly assisted us in the time of our great sorrow. Such kindness is the seal in heaven of the true christian love and devotion that we shall always hold for you.
Mrs. Charles Welton.
Mrs. A. A. Welton and Family.

TAYLOR-SMITH.

Miss Faye Smith and Mr. Lee B.
Taylor sprung a surprise on their many friends when they were married at LeMars, Iowa, on Saturday, November 15th.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have grown to maturity in this vicinity, and have a wide circle of friends, who with the Reporter extend their best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

JOHNSON-BACHMAN.

(Stuart Advocate, Nov. 20)

A very pretty wedding ceremony took place this morning, Thursday, November 20, 1924, when Mr. Frank B. Johnson of Newport and Miss Sarah Bachman of Stuart were united in marriage at the Presbyterian church at Stuart. Rev. H. H. Beers, pastor of the church, officiated.

Only immediate relatives and a few close friends were present. The altar was decorated with beautiful flowers.

Mr. Lennie Bachman, brother of the bride, and Miss Fern Bachman, her sister, acted as best man and bridesmaid.

As Mrs. Criss played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," the bridesmaid followed by the bride entered by the rear and Rev. Beers, the best man, and the groom entered at the side entrance and all met at the altar.

The bride looked lovely in a simple light blue crepe de chine gown trimmed in white, and wore a veil.

Following a prayer by Rev. Beers the impressive ceremony was preform-ed while Mrs. Criss softly played "Moon Moth," by Kissner.

Mrs. Johnson known to her friends as Carrie, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bachman, living near Stuart.
She is a graduate of the Stuart High school and was a very popular member of her class through her school career. She has an unusual number of friends in this community.

Mr. Johnson is a son of Mr. and Mrs.
F. N. Johnson, a prosperous farm folks living near Newport. Mr. Johnson is very well liked by all of his acquaintances who will join us in wishing the young couple the best that life affords.

LEAVES FROM THE BOOK OF NEBRASKA

Thirty-five men in three boats set out for Nebraska

THOMAS JEFFERSON was President. The Louisiana Purchase Act had just been passed and all formalities completed. Nebraska had become a part of the United States.

Little was known about it. So in the summer of 1803 an expedition consisting of three boats and about thirty-five men under the direction of Captain Meriwether Lewis and Captain William Clark started out to explore the country along the Missouri and its tributaries.

In July they reached the mouth of the Platte where they rested and repaired their boats. Then proceeding up the river to a point about eighteen miles north of Omaha, they had a formal council with six chiefs of the Otoes and Missouri Indians at which the change in government from French to American was formally announced.

The ceremony was conducted with grave formality under an awning formed by the main sail of one of the boats. This was the first public business of the United States ever transacted in Nebraska.

The dim trails of the Indians and the wide tracks of buffalo herds have disappeared. In their place, Nebraska has good roads, cornfields and wheat fields by the square mile, millions of live stock, comfortable homes and busy cities. They are the gift of Nebraska's pioneers whose blood and toil, heroic courage, steadfastness and vision made them possible. The story of those brave days and people is an inspiring heritage. Their spirit lives on.

Year by year Nebraska marches forward establishing new records of achievement. In farm wealth and value of agricultural products per person, no state equals her. Hens and hogs, beef, sheep and grain and other agricultural products provide an income of over five hundred millions a year. Her manufactures yield an even greater sum.

Nebraska prospers. A pioneer in the service of all the people of Nebraska, a Nebraska institution operated in and for Nebraska by Nebraska citizens, the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska takes pride in its record of service. Since homesteading days, the Company has maintained and expanded a convenient system for the distribution of petroleum products that has kept step with Nebraska's requirements. Its measure of success and prosperity depends on the service it renders.
