

At the Grave of Pastor's Wife, Furnace Victim

The last rites for Mrs. Addie Sheatsley are shown here, in the little cemetery at Paris, Ohio. Bowed in the center is the Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, with little Elizabeth, next at the right, Mr. Sheatsley's mother, then Mrs. Sheatsley's mother. The sons stand behind their father.

SEAPLANE ON CATAPULT (at right) VIEWS KIEFER & SELBY, INC.

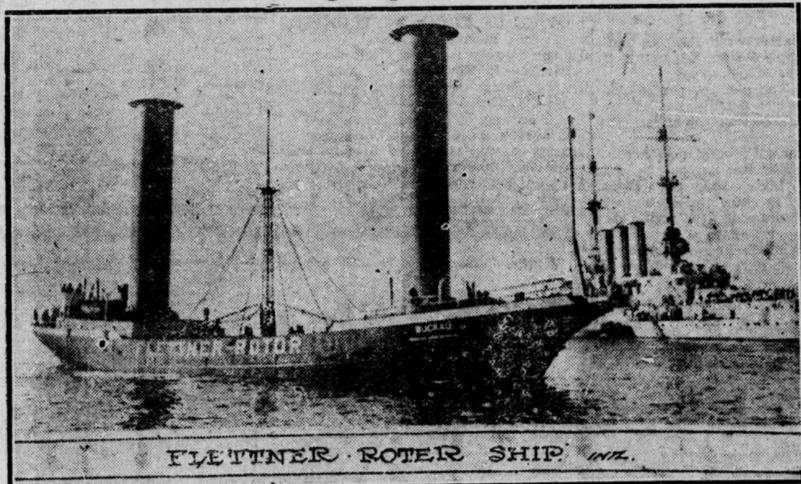

Perfect co-ordination between the air and sea forces and an important development of aircraft as a national defense were achieved in a hazardous experiment successfully conducted by Naval Lieutenants Dixie Kiefer and Malcolm Selby aboard the superdreadnaught California in Los Angeles harbor. For the first time an airplane, shown here in its catapult, was launched at night from the deck of a warship.

When Mexican and U. S. Labor Groups Met

Delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention in El Paso, Tex., met representatives of the Mexican Confederation of Labor at the American gate of the international bridge. Both American and Mexican flags were flying. The visitors marched three miles on foot from their Juarez meeting place, across the bridge, through the streets of El Paso, to Liberty Hall, where the Americans were assembled.

Sailless Sailing Ship Has Wind Turbines

Herewith is pictured the sailless sailing ship, built by the German engineer, Anton Flettner, which has proven the marine sensation of the year. It is shown in Kiel harbor, where it was demonstrated to the Association of Marine Architects. Instead of sails, Flettner uses two revolving towers, smooth and capped at each end to assure the formation of a perfect vacuum. There is no propeller whatever, but the towers are revolved by a small Diesel engine. Only the position of the towers on the ship and the rudder control its direction of travel. Momentum is given by the pressure of wind from an angle on the revolving towers, whose effective speed is regulated to correspond to the velocity of the wind.

Autos Sign of Luxury Taxed High in Vienna

Vienna.—Characterized repeatedly in recent years as the "Dying Fairy City," Vienna, once known for its luxury and which had a strong upward swing into something like prosperity after stabilization of its money, is rapidly again sinking into dire poverty. The best evidence of this is in the rapid decrease of private motor cars within the last few months. In Germany and Austria, motor cars are barometer of prosperity—in fact they are considered the last word in luxury. Automobiles are not recognized as a necessary means of transportation. Particularly are the tax authorities in Germany and Austria, where the ox team is still common, obsessed with the idea that motor cars are nothing but luxury. If you own a car you must be rich and can afford to pay. There is a luxury tax of 15 per cent on each car, new or second hand, in addition to two and a half per cent. sales tax. Then there is a state operating tax that in Vienna runs up to $800 a year for a high-powered car. Vienna with a population of 2,000,000, the fourth largest city in Europe, had at the beginning of the year only 4,500 private automobiles. Taxes and hard times has reduced this number by 1,300, or almost one-third, in the last few months. During October 400 car owners cancelled their numbers, saying they could no longer afford

Held As Bandit

FRANK BURNS, NYC

Frank Burns, dressed as a "blonde flapper," is under arrest in New York City, charged with being a member of a Brooklyn holdup gang. He was the gang's lure in his woman's attire.

Three girls in the American embassy in Berlin are engaged to British officers. Here is one couple, Miss Frances Wahlstad and Captain S. B. Cochrane.

Builds Own Theater

JOHN MASEFIELD

John Masefield, famous British author and playwright, has built a private theater at Boar's Hill, Oxford, England, where his plays are produced by native players whom he is training in the art of stagecraft.

And here's another of those American-British alliances in our Berlin embassy—Miss Margaret Nell and Captain Sydney Daw of His Majesty's troops.

New Governor

SIR MONTAGUE BUTLER

Sir Montague Sherard Dawes Butler has been appointed governor of the Central Provinces of India, succeeding Sir F. G. Sly, whose term of office expires next January.

Flees From Publicity

Mrs. R. E. L. Knight, Jr., prominent young society matron of Dallas, Tex., applied for a part with a stock company in Houston under the name of "Margaret Wilson." She made such a hit that the newspaper reporters got curious and found out who the young actress really was. Then Mrs. Knight fled back to Dallas.

Leads Choir

Dr. J. Fred Wolfe was the creator of the Bethlehem Bach Choir, known internationally as the "best choir in America." He started it 26 years ago and has been its only leader.

Introducing Adjutant Bonnet, France's aviation speed king, who says he will try to break the American record which is equivalent to 420 kilometers an hour. Bonnet recently traveled 389.89 kilometers an hour in France.

Ousted

Edward L. Bader, mayor of Atlantic City, caught in a frolicsome moment. Edward is quite one of the boys when the Atlantic City high school team is on the gridiron. Here he is decorated for the state championship game with Camden.

Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the great First Baptist church of Fort Worth, Tex., charged that the general conference of Texas Baptists endorsed the teaching of the evolution theory. As a result the convention refused to seat the eight delegates from Norris' church and the pastor's charge was denounced as "an insult to this conference."

Baby Member of U. S. Congress

Andrew L. Somers, Democrat, elected to Congress from the Sixth District of Brooklyn, N. Y., is shown here with his wife and their two children. Mr. Somers will be the baby of the Congress, being only thirty-nine years old, just six days younger than Representative V. M. Chapman, Republican, of Kentucky.