A sudden and severe drop in the temperature Tuesday morning while "77" Waid was enroute from town to Mud bridge on what was to have been his first fishing trip of the year necessitated the abandoning of the trip by Mr. Waid. The sportsman was bitten by the fishing bug late Monday afternoon and immediately went down to the river and caught a few minnows, that he might get an early start on the trip. Starting out bright and early Tuesday morning the fisherman discovered on his arrival at the bridge that the can of minnows had frozen up on him on the way. Satisfied that the fish would not care for frozen bait Mr. Waid at once returned to town to consult radio fans on the weather prospects for the remainder of the week.

MRS. GIVE RECEPTION TO ROBERT R. DICKSON

Garfield Lodge No. 95, A. F. & A. M. was host to its members and the Masons of this vicinity at a reception given Saturday evening, March 7th, at the Masonic Hall, in honor of Judge Robert R. Dickson, Grand Master of Masons of Nebraska. Judge Dickson is held in the highest esteem by the Masons of Nebraska, as indicated by his elevation to the office of Grand Master, the highest within the gift of the fraternity. All other officers of the Grand Lodge were invited to attend, and those who were prevented from attending sent letters and messages of regret. Over a hundred Masons and their wives were in attendance.

After a short but excellent musical program arranged by Mrs. Charles B. Scott, the Grand Chaplain, Dr. Charles M. Shepherd, of Lincoln, delivered an illustrated lecture on "Masonry in America from 1704 to 1776." Dr. Shepherd is a speaker of exceptional ability and his address was a masterpiece, the result of many years of research.

A large portrait of Judge Dickson was presented by Garfield Lodge, and the Judge responded in a very pleasant address, thanking the Lodge and its members for the honors bestowed upon him. A delightful luncheon, prepared and served by the Golden Hotel management, and a social half hour concluded the program. Masons from Chambers, Inman and Emmet were in attendance.

H. W. STARLIN TAKES POSSESSION OF GARAGE

H. W. Starlin, of Whitten, South Dakota, assumed possession Monday of the E. M. Hayden garage for which he traded last week. In the trade Mr. Starlin becomes the owner of the garage, building and lots, also the Hayden residence property in the northwest part of the city, formerly known as the M. J. Enright property. Mr. Hayden receives a half section of land five miles northwest of Whitten, South Dakota, and other considerations.

The Frontier welcomes Mr. Starlin and family to O'Neill. Mr. Starlin is a business man of considerable ability and will no doubt be able to get his share of the business.
