Value of Antitoxins

Explained by Doctor

Toxins are the poisons of disease and produce the symptoms common to the disease after circulating through the blood.

Antitoxins are substances that work against or neutralize the toxins in any given cases, and they are produced by the use of the bacteria of the toxins. These are injected into an animal, usually a horse, in increasing doses, until it becomes habituated to them and is no longer made ill by them. The immunity or resistance resides in the blood, which has now developed a defense mechanism against the poison.

The animal's blood is then drawn off in small quantities, filtered and purified. This blood is in turn injected into the blood of a man, where it exerts the same protecting influence against the particular toxin by which it was produced as it did in the horse.

This is very briefly the nature and mode of operation of antitoxic serums. The use of an antitoxin in diphtheria has already saved countless lives and has changed the once dreaded and fatal disease to a rather simple complaint if diagnosed early and treated with antitoxin.

The discoveries of the Dicks and of Dochez promise to give the same relief from scarlet fever when methods, originated only in 1924, are perfected for this particular disease.—Dr. Walter B. James in the Outlook.

"Prettiness" Makes No

Appeal to Normal Boy

When nature hands on the good points of parents she invariably seems to be more generous to the boys than to the girls. Curly hair, long eyelashes and good complexions go to the boys more frequently than to the girls.

Notice the boys with natural "marcel" waves and curling eyelashes, and notice how they value them. A girl would be proud of them, but most men and boys are mortally ashamed to possess these advantages. They blush every time any one mentions eyelashes, while the curls are given frequent applications of water and brilliantine to restrain their wayward tendencies, says London Answers.

All this, while less fortunate sisters try vainly to play the coquette with scanty, sandy eyelashes, and spend a small fortune at the hairdresser's in an endeavor to take the lankness out of their uninteresting tresses!

Real auburn tresses, too, are more often than not handed on to the boys. But there is one consolation. A girl thus endowed may refer to her tresses as "titan red," but a boy is never allowed to imagine that he is anything else but "ginger"!

The Poor Fish

"Has the young man any property?" Her stern papa demanded.
"Well, pa," the blushing girl replied, "I can say that he is landed."

Something Just as Good

The Mayor (retired grocer)—And you take this woman to be your wife? The Bridegroom—Yes.
The Mayor—And is there anything else I can do for you today?—Pete Mele, Paris.

Fly in the Ointment

"Why are you looking so blue, Marie?"
"I was just thinking what a horrid world this is. One must marry to get alimony."

That Was Different

Dora—I'm going to be married.
Cora—But I thought you detested all men?
Dora—Yes, but one of them proposed to me.

He Seizes Anything

"What is an opportunist?"
"One who meets the wolf at the door, and appears the next day in a fur coat."—Gargoyles.

NOT ON BILL OF FARE

Guest (to waiter with noiseless tread)—Waiter, have you rubber soles? Waiter (indignantly)—You'll have to go somewhere else, sir, to get that kind of fish!

Overheard in Society

The human male doth now attain A most submissive lot; A lady may use words profane, A gentleman may not!

Truly, a Land of Promise

"Buy a place out near us, old man; it's the land of promise!"
"I'll say it is—they'll promise you anything to get you to buy out there."

Discreet Optimism

"Are you an optimist or a pessimist?"
"Both. I hope for the best, but I don't bet on it as a sure thing."

STOP THAT BACKACHE!

Many O'Neill Folks Have Found The Way.

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out? Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous; find it impossible to be happy, or enjoy the good times around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Read what this O'Neill resident says:
R. H. Mills, carpenter, says: "I have a word of praise for Doan's Pills because of the satisfactory relief they gave me from backache and lameness in my back that I had when my kidneys were in a disordered condition."
FOUR YEARS LATER, Mr. Mills said: "It has been some time since I have needed a kidney remedy. I have been healthy since Doan's cured me."
Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Mills had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
