WALTER RAY SIMMONS GETS NINETEENTH REPRIEVE

Walter Ray Simmons, under sentence of death for the murder of Frank Pahl, of Spencer, in 1922, has been granted another reprieve which will expire July 9th. Simmons was to have occupied the electric chair sometime last Tuesday.

Governor McMullen announced the new reprieve after he with the other two members of the state pardon board had concluded a conference with Simmons which began at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The governor said the board would meet in special session Tuesday to decide whether or not they will give Simmons another hearing some time between now and July 9. If the new hearing is not granted, and if further legal effort by Simmons' attorneys are unavailing, Simmons must die July 9th.

A threat to carry the Simmons case before the people and to use it as a means of whipping the capital punishment law from the statutes was made by Judge E. P. Holmes, Simmons' attorney.

Later: The state board of pardon Wednesday, granted Simmons a rehearing, which has been fixed for July 10th, at ten o'clock in the morning.

Simmons' attorneys say that they will make a diligent hunt for the man and woman whose testimony, as it is told to them, will be that it was Jack Currier and not Simmons who killed Pahl. The thirty days was made necessary by the law, which provides for a notice to all persons interested. Whatever is done then will be final.

WHY MILK REMAINS SWEET

I have just installed a new Reid Milk Cooler and Aerator. The milk passes over the coils and cold water passes through them. The milk is cooled from 98 degrees to 55 degrees as fast as it is milked. The milk loses all the animal heat before being bottled and will remain sweet much longer. Due to the rapid increase in business since installing the cooler I believe it is a great help to my customers.

I have also built a large cooler holding 1200 pounds of ice for storing our butter and other dairy products. This insures you receiving them in the best of shape.

All the leading dealers in town handle our butter! When buying, ask them for it.
