Charles M. Daly is threatened with becoming an oil magnate. In fact he is exposed and there is great danger of it taking. Mr. Daly is the owner of 240 acres of land seven miles south of Stockton, in Rooks county, Kansas. His holdings are a short distance west of the Eldorado fields and oil also has been struck a few miles to the south of them. A test well now is being sunk to the north and there are oil wells to the west, which makes it a pretty safe bet that there is oil on the Daly holdings.

Friends in O'Neill were shocked to learn Sunday of the suicide at Butte, of H. A. Olerich of the First National bank of that city, which occurred Saturday evening. Mr. Olerich's body was found on a bed in the rear of the offices of David Harrington, the bullet entering immediately below the chin and ranging upward. Ill health is assigned as the cause of the rash act. Mr. Olerich's several banks being in excellent financial condition and his affairs in good shape. Mr. Olerich, with the late Samuel Sample and Harry Mathews, first organized the Butte bank, as a state bank, a number of years ago. It is a coincidence that Mr. Sample also committed suicide soon after the old state bank was organized.

Miss Grace Hammond accompanied by her niece, Miss Margaret Hammond, left for Denver last week. They were joined by Miss Mae Hammond of Omaha. The girls will go to Los Angeles, California, soon for a visit with their brother, Harold, and with relatives and friends.

T. V. Golden and C. E. Stout went to Norfolk the first of the week and participated in the golf tournament.

John T. Smith, of New York, general counsel of the General Motors company, came clear to O'Neill to fulfill the ambition of every golfer's life. Mr. Smith made a hole-in-one on the local golf course last Friday. Mr. Smith, an old friend of the Very Reverend M. F. Cassidy and a cousin of Mrs. John Sullivan, of O'Neill, and Mrs. Nicholas O'Connell, of Atkinson, arrived Friday morning for a short visit with Father Cassidy. The hole-in-one occurred Friday afternoon while he was playing the course with O'Neill's best golfer, P. J. O'Donnell. The remarkable shot was made on No. 7, which necessitated a 135 yard drive. The only other golfer ever to make this hole in one is Charles E. Stout and Mr. Stout has never repeated the performance. Mr. Smith, who is a nephew of Father Smith, the first parish priest of O'Neill, who died in Omaha several years ago, left Saturday morning.
