

WOMAN SO ILL WASHED DISHES SITTING DOWN

Mrs. Ashcroft's Remarkable Recovery After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Covington, Ky.—"I was so weak and nervous I could hardly do my housework as I could not stand because of the bearing-down pains in my back and abdomen. I sat down most of the time and did what I could do in that way—as washing dishes, etc. One day a book describing Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine was put in my mail-box. I saw how the Vegetable Compound had helped others so I gave it a trial. I had to take about a dozen bottles before I gained my strength but I certainly praise this medicine. Then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood medicine for poor blood. I was cold all the time. I would be so cold I could hardly sit still and in the palms of my hands there would be drops of sweat. I also used the Sanative Wash and I recommend it also. You may publish this letter and I will gladly answer letters from women and advise my neighbors about these medicines."—Mrs. HARRY ASHCROFT, 632 Beech Avenue, Covington, Kentucky.

John S. Sumner, head of New York's anti-vice crusaders, was asked by a New York reporter the other day if it was true that he had been trying to get the Bible expurgated.

"That story"—and Mr. Sumner laughed heartily—"is just about as true as the one they started last month. They said last month, you know, that I was behind a world movement to do away with vice presidents."

Mr. Sumner gave another hearty laugh. Then he ended:

"I guess they'll be accusing me next of trying to pass a law to prohibit boats from hugging the shore."

Telegraph Wires

To carry on the telegraph system of the United States 1,500,000 miles of wire are required. Next in turn comes Russia with about one-third this mileage. Germany is third and France fourth. Canada, despite its great size, has but 230,000 miles of wire, or about one-half as much as France. The United Kingdom is comparatively poorly off, with 265,000 miles of wire, while British India is somewhat better equipped.—Nation's Business.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
Mr. Rockefeller has given $1,000,000 to Chicago's Divinity school. What will they teach with the money, round or flat earth, evolution of insects, fishes, birds, mammals, plus Jonah and the whale, and the sun that stood still to oblige Joshua? That monkey trial has raised many questions.

Mr. Bryan says evolution is an attack on the church, meaning, of course, his church.

Suppose it is, that should not worry the devout. True religion has Divine power back of it. Evolution has only Darwin, Huxley, Haeckel and other mortals. Why does Mr. Bryan worry?

Does he doubt the power of omnipotence to take care of itself and the truth?

The confidence of those fundamentalists in their Supreme Being seems weaker than that of a colored man in his grave-yard rabbit's foot.

Time upsets old precedents, you'll observe. Bryan, Protestant, represents in that monkey trial the right of one set of men to tell others what they shall think, believe and preach. Dudley Field Malone, Roman Catholic, on the other side, defends the right of man to rely on his own intelligence and think as he pleases.

Quite a change, since Luther nailed his statement to the church door at Wittenberg.

It says in the 10th verse of the 96th Wonderful Behavior.

From the Christian Register.
"Did you behave in church?" asked an interested relative when Junior returned from the service.
"Course I did," replied Junior. "I heard a lady back of us say she never saw a child behave so."

Logical.
From the Kansas City Star.
"But," protested a friend, "don't you cook much more for dinner than we can use, dearie?"
"Of course," returned the young wife.
"Of course, I do. Silly! If I didn't, how could I economize by making leftover dishes?"

Psalm: "The world also shall be established that it shall not be moved."

That is enough for one deeply religious preacher in Tennessee. He denies indignantly that the earth goes around the sun and says earth is flat not round.

A fundamentalist is bound to admit the reasonableness of that statement. If the world was "established that it shall not be moved," of course it can't move.

And that shows how foolish it is to take things literally. The earth is established, so that it cannot be moved out of the orbit.

It is "established" by the power of gravitation, in its path around the sun. It stays in that path, turning on its axis, so that your house moves around 25,000 miles every 24 hours. As the earth turns, it travels hundreds of millions of miles around the sun each year, and with the sun.

As that great organized furnace rolls through space, it travels other hundreds of millions of miles. The figures are rather complicated for a genuine fundamentalist.

Luigi Cornaro, who built handsome palaces in Venice and formulated a plan to drain the Venetian marshes, made up his mind more than 400 years ago to study food and its effect on human beings. When he was 40 years old, having lived hard, his doctors said his life was about over. That interested him. He investigated his own health, ate carefully 12 ounces of solid food, 16 ounces of wine daily, wrote a book on health when past 90, and died at 102, having written to the pope, "I had to live to be 90 to know that the world is beautiful."

Judge Gary, head of the big steel corporation, near 70 years old and in perfect health, is studying the question of diet in 1925 and practicing what he preaches. How long will he live? To 120 probably, if he will remember that the brain also needs rest.

In Henry Ford's own workshop at Dearborn you see as fine a building as there is in the world, a genuine temple to science.

All down the middle of the building, 1,000 feet long, there is a wide strip of highly polished floor. On either side rows of the most highly skilled mechanics in the world are employed, working out new ideas. Nothing is made there to be sold. When the work is over, the long strip of smooth floor is used for dancing.

Henry Ford dances and sets the example. But he doesn't know the "Charleston," a mixture of wiggling and stamping. This man who leads in modern industry is still dancing the polka, in a distressingly jerky fashion. He can waltz too, but he keeps turning one way all the time, he loses his step if he tries to turn the other way.

"The old dances are in the blood of the American people and they will never die," says Ford. However, he is willing to let others wiggle as they choose. In fact he has hired a teacher that his employees may learn modern dances.

You are solemnly warned by Mr. Cyrus H. K. Curtis in the biggest type that he ever uses, and this is the warning: "Every dollar sent to Russia from America to buy concessions there is immediately sent back to the United States to be used in bolshevist propaganda, undermining our government."
Isn't that dreadful?

One million agitators in this country have sworn to destroy the United States government and set up bolshevism.

It is at least a comfort to know that all money sent to Russia is sent back to be spent here. As for the "1,000,000 agitators that have been sent over to destroy this government" remember, for your own comfort, that there are 10,000,000 owners of corner lots who have sworn to keep the government going, at least until they have sold their lots for what they think they are worth. And that won't happen for a long time.

While you hear aimless, foolish and highly ignorant court discussion about evolution, it might interest you to read a little book called "The Mongolian in Our Midst." In that book, a learned biologist demonstrates the theory that the three races of men, African, white and Mongolian, are descendants of the three great apes, gorillas, orang-outangs and chimpanzees.

One way to cure the reckless driver might be to sentence him to walk for a while.—Canton Daily News.

Patriotism's Cash Dividends.
From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
In May the Elk Hills oil properties showed a total revenue of $194,374. Operating expense for the same period amounted to $5,419. These are the lands which Mr. Doherty leased from the government in a burst of patriotic fervor. If patriotism is, as Dr. Johnson said, the last refuge of scoundrels, it is also the first resort of the oil magnate in search of handsome cash dividends.

When Alaska was bought by the United States, the names Wlarrussia, American Siberia, Zero Island and Palario were suggested.

Recalls Fox's Remark

About Sour Grapes

Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee was talking about Muscle Shoals.

"These trusts now turn up their noses at Muscle Shoals," he said. "They insult Muscle Shoals. Sour grapes."

"It's like the chap who proposed to the pretty girl at Palm Beach. The pretty girl, to his astonishment and rage, turned him down. Then, seeing his face all pale and contorted in the moonlight, she said gently:

"Oh, don't take it so to heart, Mr. Featherstonhaugh. There are other girls, you know. There's Mae Winterbottom, Temple Montmorency, Eleanor McGillicuddy and E. Mayne Blaunering. Any one of them would make you a better wife than I."

"L. C. Brace Featherstonhaugh muttered a low oath.

"Don't I know it?" he growled. "And if they'd said yes—if any one of them four queens had said yes—do you suppose I'd have come snooping around here after you?"—Detroit Free Press.

Adequate Admiration

The late Julius Fleischmann, the yeast king, was a lover of music, and at a dinner at the Lotus club in New York he said one night:

"Few people are able to appreciate music. It would take a Wagner to appreciate Wagner adequately. Most of us are a little like the tailor.

"A tailor had a great desire to hear one of his patrons, a famous tenor, sing. So the tenor gave him tickets for a performance of 'Tosca,' and asked him the next day how he liked the show.

"Well, how did you like it, Mr. Snips?"

"Oh, it was awful, simply awful."

"Awful? How so?"

"Your coat," the tailor growled, "was too tight under the arms."

German Dairies

A good market in Germany for American Holstein dairy aires of good milk-production ancestry is reported by the United States Department of Agriculture. There were 18,400,000 cows in Germany before the war, but only 17,200,000 in 1924. This reduction, coincident with an increased demand for dairy products, resulted in imports of 118,000,000 pounds of butter and 95,000,000 pounds of cheese in 1924, as compared with pre-war imports of 111,000,000 pounds of butter and 47,000,000 pounds of cheese.
