Prices Recently Paid in Vicinity of Wakefield Indicate Advance

Wakefield, Neb., ... (Special) -As an indication that the recent decline in popularity and price of farm lands is passing, several sales have been consummated in northeast Nebraska lately. An 80 acre, well improved farm, south of town, brought $300 an acre. A 160 acre unimproved plot near town brought $200. An 80, unimproved southwest brought $200 and an improved 80 southwest, $200.

The 160 acre Hans Peterson farm near here was sold to Milton Miller, of Craig, for $170. The Neuman farm, sold here recently at auction brought $145 an acre. It is well improved and would have brought more but it is 2 1-2 miles from

The old Coad farm, located near Fremont, was sold at auction, for $191 an acre, a total of $53,862. It is one of Dodge county's best level farms. Bidding was spirited.

WOULD HOLD UP PAY OF FORMER SECRETARY

Lincoln, Neb., 4 (Special)-It has been rumored at the state capitol that Secretary Griggs of the state department of commerce, will try to prevent K. C. Knudson, former secretary, from drawing pay for acting as receiver of the American State bank and the Pioneer State bank of Cmaha and for services performed by Knudson as receiver of the American State bank of Lincoln. It is also declared that the department will attempt to get back the $70 drawn by Knudson when acting as receiver of the Bank of Waverly. A like action is possibly to be taken in regard to the $750 drawn by J. E. Hart, former secretary of the department of trade of commerce, all Knudson's predecessor in office, for money Hart is alleged to have drawn as a receiver of a bank at Blair.

OMAHA INDIANS PUT ON ANNUAL POW WOW

Winnebago, Neb., -The yearly pow wow of the Omaha Indians is being held in a grove-near Macy. started Saturday. It will extend over next Sunday.

The event, in addition to being a continuation of an old custom of having one great annual meeting in which the ancient rites and traditions of the tribe were recounted and revived, is the source of considerable income to the tribesmen. Receipts from concessions and admission fees go to swell a tribal fund which is used to pay expenses of delegations to Washington and for other tribal purposes.

There will be dancing, both day and night, by Indians in full regalia, horse and pony racing, wrestling and other athletic contests. Indians from other reservations will take part.

The office of "chief of the powwow" is an honor much esteemed by the Omahas. Ed Kline is chief this

RECOVERS PART OF

CASH IN LAND DEAL Hartington, Neb., (Special.)-David E. Garrigan has recovered $16,500 paid to F. W. Barnhart for land, by order of the federal court at Wichita. Barnhart was former county treasurer and local selling agent dealing in farm lands near Scott City, Kan. This is the consummation of a five year fight by Gerrigan to recover $18,500.

A scheme was evolved by a group of Chicago speculators in the boom time just after the war to sell land in the hot wind belt of Kansas. A special appeal was made to turn over liberty bonds in the deals. After Garrigan bought the land he was advised to investigate. He then filed suit before accepting the deed, alleging that the land was not unusually fertile but poor land producing exceptional crops in rare instances. The case was bitterly contested.

Ole Klandrud was another Cedar county victim, paying out about $20,-000 for land. Due to the fact that he accepted a deed before filing suit, the case was thrown out of court.

E. E. Swihart of Coleridge, and others also bought land in Kansas but found after the first crop was marketed their invested money was

DRY RAIDERS MAKE

BIG HAUL IN "DEVIL'S NEST" Lincoln, Neb., (Special.) -In their island stronghold in the Missouri river, 19 alleged makers and peddlers of booze were captured Tuesday by officers from three states.

The "Devil's Nest" has long been known as the center in the campaign of bootleggers, its product serving Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota The boat captured has been plying between the island, Sioux City, Yankton and the river boundry of Cedar county.

Bert H. Barrow, of Sioux City, Albert C. Lane, of Cedar county; Arthur R. Kritz of Yankton, and Carl Erickson of Meckling, S. D., were taken before the United States commissioner at Norfolk on charges of owning and operating stills.

Albert C. Lane was fined $100 in the state court at Hartington for possession of liquor, as were Dewey and James Mines, Earnest Halleen, L. Saylor, Fred Wiebelhaus, John Ritter, Jr., Casper Jueben, H. S. Zechlen and Emil Brig. Arthur W. Lee and Jack Lee were each fined $100 and given 60 days in the jail at Hartington for the sale of liquor. Pate Lane was turned over to the Iowa authorities and Frank Poppenhagan and Henry Wolfe to South Dakota officers. These three were charged with possession. Two of State Sheriff Condit's men took part in the raid.

NEBRASKA BANK ROBBER MADE DARING ESCAPE

Lincoln, Neb., (Special.)-It was due to a very clever bit of work, that John Brown, Nebraska bank robber and former resident of Uehling, managed to carry out successfully a getaway from the Kansas penitentiary Sunday night. When he pushed a gun into the face of a guard he used the guard as a shied to make his escape. Other guards saw Brown make his dash for liberty but were unable to fire upon him because they feared to kill the guard used as a shield. When Brown reached Lansing he commandeered an automobile and dashed out of town with his auto owner prisoner at the wheel.

INDIAN RELICS TO BE SOUGHT

Member of Nebraska Historical Society to Make Hunt Near Fullerton

Fullerton, Neb., (Special)-Curator E. E. Blackman, of the Nebraska State Historical society will hunt near here within the next week for an unbroken piece of pottery, used by Indian tribes. He will confine his search to the banks of the Loup, near here.

Blackman desires to ascertain the identity of the potter. The temper of the vessel he expects to find will be tested. This is the method used by experts to determine the trib making it. Blackman believed most of the pottery found here was manufactured by the Pawnees.

CITY PURCHASES LANDING FIELD

Omaha Expecting Several Hundred Planes During Legion Convention

Omaha, Neb., (Spectal)-So many airplanes are coming to the American Legion national convention to be held in October that the city of Omaha last week purchased a special landing field for their accommodation. The field cost $165,000. It is located less than three miles from the heart of the city. A trolley line goes within two blocks of the field and a paved road within one block. Electric lights and telephone service are available.

According to reports so far received by the convention committee, between 300 and 500 planes will be on the field during the convention.

The air mail service is sending 25 planes and the army will be represented by as many more.

Practically every plane manufacturing company in the country is sending a full line of its airships and many private individuals have written expressing desire to come to the convention by plane.

Omaha is already provided with an airplane landing field at Fort Crook, which is used by the transcontinental air mail service but because of the big demand for facilities during the convention the city purchased this new field.

NORFOLK ATTORNEY IS

BEING INVESTIGATED Lincoln, Neb., (Special)-Governor McMullen is said to be investigating reports that Hugh Boyle, city attorney of Norfolk, has appeared as attorney for persons chaged with violating the liquor laws. Mr. Boyle and the governor are alleged to have held conference but the governor has given nothing out.

Attorney General Spillman said that it would be doubtful if the law authorizing the governor to remove or suspend officials for failure to enforce the liquor laws would apply to the case of a city attorney who may have appeared for persons outside of the city who were charged with liquor law violations. Mr. Spillman said also that officials take an oath to support the laws and the constitution and he would not advise any of them to defend persons charged with violations of the law.

OMAHA'S MAYOR ISSUES

CHALLENGE TO COWBOYS Norfolk, Neb., -Omaha's cowboy mayor, Jim Dahlman, has issued a challenge to any cowpuncher or any other manipulator of the lariat his age to a calf-ropin' contest on August 30, the last day of the second annual frontier day exposition at Norfolk.

Although no opponent has officially been secured, someone is expected to try a hand with the mayor in the western art. Mayor Dahlman is well known over the middle west and his early life was colorful, his career running from a Texas sheep herder to deputy sheriff, sheiff and finally mayor of Omaha. Reminiscensing of the "good old days," Mayor Dahlman said it was in the spring of 1878 when he landed his title of "Nebraska's greatest cowboy" out in the sandhills of Boyd county. "This stretch of country is still a cattle country, but today it not surrounded with superstition and mysticism," Mayor Dahlman said. "Its interior has been settled with prosperous fenced mnches and its cattle

no longe come from the trail herds of the Texas ranges. It is a land of happy ranchers." Mayor Dahlman still has an uncanny skill at making accurate casts over stubborn calves and wild steers as shown by recent demonstrtiaons he has made at rodeos.

HEAVY PENALTY FOR

DRY LAW VIOLATORS

(Special) Loup City, Neb., . -The heaviest penalty given anyone in this part of the state for violation of the prohibition law was meted out to Stanley Wrobleswki, farmer near Rockville, who was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $1,000 and costs.
