CHICKEN THIEVES SENTENCED TO THE DOUGLAS COUNTY JAIL

Six chicken thieves, ranging in age from 64 years to 17 years, last Saturday were sentenced to stiff terms in the Douglas county jail by District Judge Robert R. Dickson in the judge's announced campaign to clean up chicken stealing in the Fifteenth judicial district.

Steve Payne, aged 64, and Charles Allman, aged 36, both of Stuart, drew six months each, Charles Cole Jr., aged 27, of Stuart, drew five months; James Hoffman, 34, of Stuart, and Lee Orr, 22 residing northeast of O'Neill, were sentenced to four months each and John Addison, 17, residing northeast of O'Neill, was given three months.

Orr and Addison have been in the Holt county jail since July awaiting trial, which was the judge's reason for giving them light sentences. The men were ordered taken to the Douglas county jail because the capacity of the Holt county jail is only four committed prisoners. All six of the men pleaded guilty and two others of one of the gangs are still being sought by officers.

Judge Dickson, who several years ago sent several Boyd county chicken thieves to the penitentiary, scathingly denounced the prisoners, characterizing chicken stealing as lower than bootlegging and of almost equal magnitude in its financial returns. Chicken stealing is attractive to petty criminals, he said, because of the difficulty rightful owners have in identifying their property and the ease and quick financial return with which the loot can be disposed of for this reason. The prisoners were taken to Omaha for confinement by Sheriff Duffy of Holt county Sunday morning.

MRS. JULIA COWPERTHWAITTE.

Mrs. Julia Cowperthwaite died in St. Joseph's Home, at West Point, Nebraska, Friday morning, September 18th, at about eleven o'clock following an illness of about four years, two years of which time she was under the care of trained nurses at the St. Joseph Home.

Julia Yant was born December 21, 1848, in Pennsylvania. She was married to Joseph A. Cowperthwaite at Bushnell, Illinois, January 16, 1867; to this union were born two children, Etta, who died in infancy, and Arthur L. of this city.

Mrs. Cowperthwaite came to this city with her husband and family in 1900, from Beaver Crossing, Nebraska. Her husband and son, A. L. engaged in the cattle and hog shipping business which they continued until the death of J. A. Cowperthwaite in January, 1920.

She was a member of the Presbyterian church of this city and a lady who was always willing to aid and assist those in need.

Funeral services were held at West Point and the remains were taken to Omaha Saturday, September 19th, where her body was cremated at Forest Lawn cemetery.

MRS. SARAH ANN WILLIS.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Willis, one of the early settlers of the northeastern part of the county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Osborn, in Norfolk, on September 16th, at the age of ninety-two years.

Sarah Ann Coleman was born August 16, 1833, in New Jersey. She was married March 17, 1852, to Augustus Willis at Oak Grove, Wisconsin. She came to Holt county with her husband and family in the spring of 1880 and located upon a homestead on Lost Creek where they made their home for a number of years. For the past thirty-five years she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Osborn. Her husband died in 1897.

The funeral services were held in Norfolk, and burial was made in the cemetery at Dorsey, Nebraska.

BRICK BATS.

A wonderful future, full and bright, loomed up for Johnny Dart. He was prepared for life's long fight. He had a lucky start. Well trained in schools with high ideals, his great success was sealed, with every chance to earn his meals in any work or field. His first endeavor was to try at selling real estate, but buyers didn't seem to buy, or else he was too late. Yet other agents seemed to sell their house or building site, because they studied prospects well, and did their duties right, while Johnny, merely passed the buck and found another field, where things did not depend on luck and fortune had to yield. Yet every place he had to leave, because it didn't pay. His dreams, he didn't quite achieve, and so he wouldn't stay. The fault belonged to Johnny Dart, if he had only known. He reared, despite his lucky start, the very crop he'd sown. For any task beneath the sun, that's worth a widow's mite, its worth the cost to get it done, and worth the doing right.—Brick Smith.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Eighth Grade.
The eighth grade has an enrollment of eighteen; nine boys and nine girls.
The class devoted a period last week to the poem of Edgar Guest. Evelyn Pinkerman spelled down the class.
The class is drilling on the diacritical marks in connection with their spelling.
The eighth grade welcomed eighteen members of the seventh grade to their class room the first of the week.
(From last week.)
The teachers of the high school and grades are giving a series of educational and intelligence tests. Tuesday afternoon the entire high school took the Terman intelligence test. From the results of these tests the intelligence quotient of each high school pupil will be determined and become a part of the permanent records of the school.

The intelligence quotient is a numerical value obtained by dividing the mental age of a pupil by his chronological age. The mental age being determined by the score made in an intelligence test. The average normal pupil has an I. Q. of approximately 100. I brighter than average his I. Q. will be above 100, if dull his I. Q. will fall below 100. Educators who have made years of study in this field have found the I. Q. to be very nearly constant. Children who have been reexamined after intervals of one to three years have varied very little in their I. Q.

Those pupils in the high school who have a very low intelligence quotient will not be permitted to carry a heavy schedule. Only those who have higher than the average will be permitted to carry more than average number of high school subjects. Pupils with I. Q. below 95 will be placed whenever possible in those classes in which their success is fairly probable. As an example. A student with an I. Q. of 95 if his work in plane geometry and begin algebra has not been carried successfully, should be discouraged from attempting solid geometry and advanced algebra. The student with a low I. Q. who has had difficulty in mathematics should not enroll for physics. If he does the result almost invariably will be failure and discouragement in his school work.

With the I. Q. of the high school pupils available the high school teachers hope in the future to eliminate the great number of failures that have resulted in the past years.

Fourth Grade.

The enrollment for the fourth grade is now 24.
Hazel Walton enrolled for classes last Monday.

Miss Mae Leod and Miss Dillon are giving the National Intelligence test to the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Miss Gilligan, Miss Biglin, Miss Hall and Miss Caffrey will give the Otis Primary Intelligence test to grades, Kindergarten, first, second and third grades.

Miss Horiskey and Miss Trihy are giving the Terman Intelligence test to the seventh and eighth grades.

The Stanford Achievement test will be given to all the grades this week.

Land Sale!

TWO QUARTERS IN HOLT-COUNTY

Tuesday, Sept. 29, 2:30 p. m.

On the above date on the premises we will sell at public auction to the highest bidder the following described real estate situated 9 miles north of Page, Holt County, Nebraska: The SW 1/4 of Sec. 30, and the NE 1/4 of Sec. 31, all in Twp. 30, North of Range 9 West of the 6th P. M. containing 320 acres, more or less according to govt. survey.

The SW 1/4 of Sec. 30 as above described is all pasture land of first class grazing land, well grassed, all fenced, and lies nearly level. There is a well with windmill which supplies plenty of water for the stock. The time is not far distant when grazing land will be worth real money, and now is the time to buy when land is cheap.

The NE 1/4 of Sec. 31 as above described has no improvements, but is a number one hay quarter. This quarter will cut from ninety to one-hundred tons of hay in ordinary years, and is a piece of land that should be owned by several farmers who are so situated that they do not have the hay land on their farms.

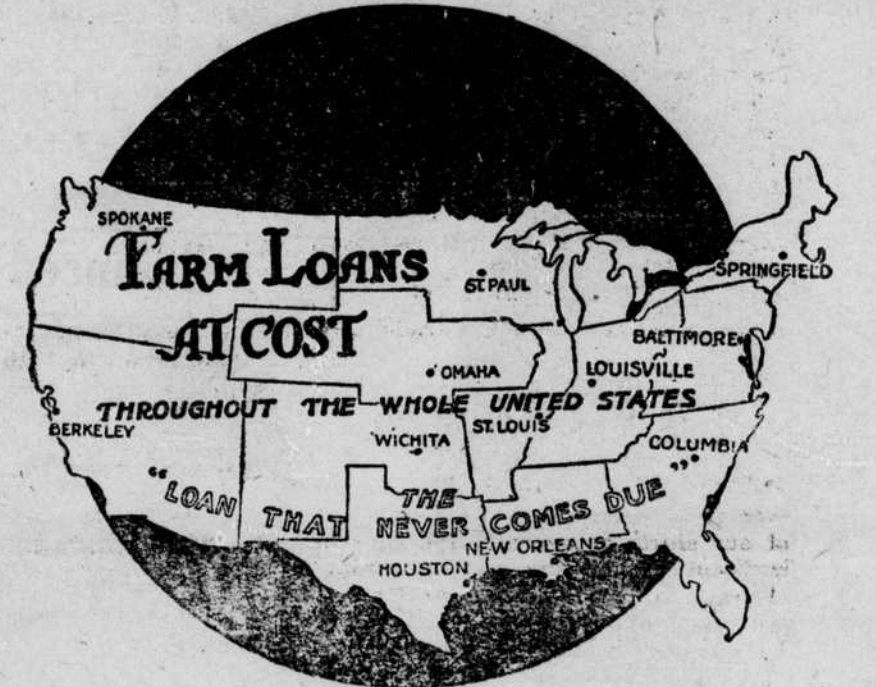

TERMS—Ten per cent of the purchase price date of sale. Forty per cent on March 1st, 1926, and the balance will be carried for a term of five years from March 1st, 1926, by mortgage back on land at option of purchaser. Good and sufficient abstract of title together with warranty deed will be delivered to purchaser on day of settlement.
