S. F. McNichols went to Omaha Wednesday morning to take in the American Legion convention.

Simonson post of the American Legion, of this city, was well represented by some forty odd members at the national convention of the American Legion at Omaha this week. The boys began returning this morning and report a grand and glorious time.

Earl Moss, of Chicago, came last week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moss, of Atkinson, and with other relatives. Mr. Moss and brother Ira, of this city, went to Inez the first of the week for a visit with relatives and to bag a few chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Holcomb returned home last Saturday evening from a visit with their son, Frank, at Mitchell, Nebraska, and with friends at Douglas, Wyoming. Mr. Holcomb says that his son raised 1,280.40 lbs. of potatoes which he sold at $1.60 per bushel, amounting to $2,048.64.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Freel and daughter, Helen, and Mrs. Freel's mother Mrs. C. H. Crispin, all of Boone, Iowa, visited from Saturday until Thursday at the home of Mrs. Cromwell, a sister of Mrs. Crispin, and with her father, Mr. Huff, who resides at the Cromwell home. This is the first time that Mrs. Crispin has seen her father in forty years. He will return with them to Boone for a visit.

O'Neill will have three east bound trains on the Northwestern in the morning, beginning Sunday, instead of two in the morning and one in the afternoon as at present. Under the new time card No. 14 leaves at 1:53 a. m., No. 12 at 5:15 a. m. and No. 22 at 10:36. No. 12 is the train that formerly returned to Omaha in the afternoon immediately after the arrival of the afternoon train from the east. No changes are made in the time of west bound trains.

The chicken stealing industry continues to thrive in Holt county and in the vicinity of O'Neill regardless of the drastic action of District Judge Robert R. Dickson in sentencing several of the thieves to long terms in the Douglas county jail recently. Mrs. P. H. McNichols, residing northwest of the city, is the latest to suffer from the depredations of the thieves. Three hundred chickens were stolen from her farm last Friday. This is the third raid made by chicken thieves on the McNichols farm this fall.

Mrs. Emma C. Diehl, son Frank, and daughter, Mrs. Ed Steskal, and Mrs. Steskal's daughter, Mrs. Alvin Walnofer and her daughter, little Viola Mae Walnofer, returned last week from Arlington, Neb., where they visited Mrs. Diehl's father, who although past the age of 95 years is still hale and hearty. He daily walks the five or six blocks from his home to the business section of Arlington. A five generation picture was taken, during their visit, which appeared in the daily press of the state.

Holt county residents tried in the federal court at Norfolk last week on the charge of violation of the Dyer act in the purchase of stolen automobiles all were acquitted by the jury and have returned home. Ross Jackson, who was brought from the Sioux Falls penitentiary where he already is serving time on an auto charge, pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary. Bud Caldwell of Holt county, who also pleaded guilty, will be sentenced by Judge Woodrough later. Several liquor cases from Holt county are being tried as we go to press.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stout and Mrs. J. P. Gilligan were called to Tekamah Saturday afternoon by the serious illness of Mr. Ed Latta, who suffered a stroke of paralysis Wednesday of last week. Dr. J. P. Gilligan was summoned to Tekamah Tuesday morning by receipt of intelligence of the death of Mr. Latta at 5:30 the same morning. The funeral service was held from the family residence at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, the Masonic lodge conducting. Mr. Latta was a brother-in-law of Mr. Stout and Mrs. Gilligan and had many friends in this city, which he frequently visited. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Arthur and Kenneth, his daughter, Elizabeth and one brother, Rur Latta. Miss Latta taught at St. Mary's Academy in this city last year.

The right of the state to condemn privately owned land for state highway purposes as well as the power of county boards to secure right of way over farm holdings by eminent domain is involved in a suit that has just been briefed to the supreme court by attorneys for the county board of Sheridan. In locating a state highway there it was deemed advisable by the county board to change the location of the road, in the public interest and put it across land owned by Joseph Hand. The latter objected, and secured at the hands of District Judge R. R. Dickson an order permanently enjoining the county board and also Secretary Cochran of the state department of public works from attempting to cross his lands.

Judge Dickson held that Sections 8334 and 8335 of the statutes providing for deviations in constructing state highways was invalid.

Miss Margaret Donohoe came up from Omaha Friday evening to attend the St. Mary's Academy alumnae banquet, returning early Monday morning.

Ray Law, and son Rollie, of Lincoln, cousins of Mrs. Wm. Grothe, of near Emmet, spent from Tuesday until Saturday at the Grothe home, visiting and hunting chickens.

A family reunion of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pruss, their children and grandchildren was held Sunday at the home of their son, Henry. It being the first in several years that all were together at one time. Twenty-five were present. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pruss, Mr. and Mrs. John Pruss and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Martfield and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Crandall and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Caster and family and Henry Pruss and family.

JOHN HENRY HORISKEY

John Horiskey, one of O'Neill's best known and best loved citizens, died at his home in this city Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock of a heart attack with which he had been stricken less than an hour before. He had suffered a similar attack about a year ago, before which he had been in almost perfect health from which he apparently had suffered no serious ill effects. Mr. Horiskey would have been 77 years old on November 22. He was born at New London, Connecticut, and at the age of ten years removed from there with his parents to Elkader Clayton County, Iowa, where he grew to manhood and where on February 17, 1873, he was married to Kathryn Kennedy. Mrs. Horiskey passed away several years ago. Of their nine children two died in infancy and Joseph C. last year. Those surviving are Mary C., Michael H., Walter and Dorothy at home and John C. of Cody, Wyoming, and Mrs. W. H. Miller of Salina, Kansas. One sister, Mrs. Margaret Harley, now with her daughter, Mrs. Thos. Hopkins of Osage, Wyoming, also survives him. John Horiskey was one of the real pioneers of Holt County. He came to the county in 1879 by covered wagon and filed on a homestead about 11 miles northeast of O'Neill. He returned to Iowa late in the same year and came back to Holt county with his young family in the spring of 1880, again making the trip in a covered wagon. The family lived on the homestead undergoing the hardships and vicissitudes of pioneer life until the great blizzard of 1888 which practically wiped out all of their possessions, after which they moved to O'Neill which has been the family residence since.

John Horiskey was truly one of O'Neill's best loved citizens. He was a man's man, a young man's man and a children's man. Whom the children love is good, and the children loved him. He was well read, as active mentally as any young man, lived in the present instead of the past and was possessed of a keen wit, a true sense of humor and a big heart which made his presence agreeable and desired wherever men were assembled together. He was a raconteur of rare ability. His stories of the pioneer days and his account of the first kerosene lamp that came to Iowa were vivid portrayals and classics of humor. One lived them as he recounted them. He was about the streets until a short time before his sudden and fatal illness. Hearts tightened and there was sadness when word came that John Henry Horiskey was dead. It still is hard to realize that he is gone. He will be missed and his memory long cherished by those who knew him.

The funeral services were held on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, from St. Patrick's church, the Reverend M. J. Brady celebrating the Requiem Mass and delivering the sermon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery. All of the children were present at the funeral service, and also John W. Horiskey of Orchard, a nephew, and Miss Kathryn O'Connor of Lyons, Nebraska, a niece.

ALLINGER-BOYD.

Harvey W. Allinger of this city and Miss Ruth Boyd of University Place, Nebraska, were united in marriage at University Place at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, the Reverend A. J. Graft of that city reading the marriage lines. The groom is the manager of the J. B. Byars store of this city and the bride is the daughter of Mrs. T. A. Boyd of 117 West 17th street, University Place. The happy young couple left for a brief visit with Mr. Allinger's parents at Tulsa, Oklahoma, and to Texas and Colorado and will return to O'Neill about the middle of the month. The Frontier joins their many friends in best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

The basis of Red Crown's POWER

For forty years the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska has been working in this state, extending and improving its service. Born in Nebraska, the company has grown up with the state—grown with its needs because it studied and cared for those needs. It is deep-rooted because its strength is drawn from years of service.

The automobile industry has moved far and fast in all those years, but Red Crown Gasoline has kept step with the changes. It is a balanced gasoline, built to definite specifications, with the low boiling point fractions that insure quick starting in the coldest weather and a wealth of the higher fractions that insure maximum heat and expansion—the real driving force.

Do as experienced motorists have done since automobiles first came to Nebraska. Pull in wherever you see the Red Crown sign. There you will receive obliging, courteous, prompt service and full measure of gasoline balanced to give quick starts, clean, complete combustion and full power on a lean and economical mixture. Get the Red Crown habit and save money.
