A MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

What is the neighborhood like is a question which comes as naturally as the air itself and it was fully demonstrated Saturday evening, January 14th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ernst, when a large enthusiastic crowd gathered and gave a miscellaneous shower in behalf of the newly weds, Charlie Ernst and Velma Hough.

It is needless to comment on the standing of this young couple as the numerous gifts that were stacked high on the table was selfevident of the esteem which they enjoy in this locality.

A reception committee had the rooms cheerfully decorated and arranged so that everything went like a clock and by 8:30 the melee was in full blast. The Benson, Ernst and Thorson orchestra furnished the music. The evening was spent in dancing and card playing. Mike Curran and Joe Marring took the consolation prizes. A short intermission while the various articles were presented in view and the following gifts were received: Tea spoons, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kimbraugh; spoon tray, Adeline, Eileen and Velma Johnson; tea spoons, J. R. Rhode; blanket, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ernst; towels, Bernice Ernst; blanket, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ernst; linen table cloth, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Curran; serving tray, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marring; roaster, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Benson; casserole, Mr. and Mrs. John Grutch; combination kitchen set, Max Hough; nest of mixing bowls, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Grutch; cups and saucers, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kilpatrick; syrup pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. E. Givens; rocker, Gertrude Ernst; pair of pillows, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Ernst; a 300 pound spotted Poland China hog, Mr. and Mrs. James Curran; coffee pot, Edward S. Early; olive server, McClellan family; chamber set, Bert Peterson; another useful gift, Freddie Ernst.

Next in order was a speech an intelligence test is usually more effective when given during the first part of the evening though they express themselves and felt it a great honor on this occasion to be privileged to speak briefly in response to the very generous invitation and extended their best wishes to the many friends that participated in the happiest event of their lives. Lunch immediately followed consisting of sandwiches and coffee which was graciously donated by Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ernst.

Those present from other places were Art Ryan, O'Neill; Tracy McClellan, Utah; Mike and Gertrude Curran, Amelia; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hough and family.

In closing the young couple stepped forward and thanked all who have been present and aided in celebration of this eventful occasion. When home Sweet Home was played by the orchestra after which the crowd departed for their respective homes, wishing the bride and groom many years of health and happiness and thanking Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ernst for the hospitality shown them during the evening.

The Mediterranean, Cradle of Culture and Art

The world of today with its radio, television, telephoned photographs, and wireless navigation, towers, skyscrapers and other wonders has numerous to mention, prides itself naturally upon its progress, but the Mediterranean, with its antiquities, its architecture, astronomy, science and commercial developments and the Christian religion. Those who have taken a cruise to the Mediterranean on the Empress of Scotland, which leaves New York again Feb. 4, 1928, see the art of Greece, Italy and Egypt, and the "glory that was Greece" and the grandeur that was Rome," as well as the Holy Land, cradle of Christianity. Sixteen countries, 19 ports of call, 18 days in Palestine and Egypt—a liberal education!

Untold thousands are comparing the progress of the west with the ancient civilizations of the Mediterranean. The Empress in her calls runs the whole gamut of the Mediterranean from Madeira, Spain, Gibraltar and Algiers, Naples, Pompeii, Venice, Athens, Constantinople, Jerusalem and Bethlehem back through Egypt with Cairo, the Pyramids and the Sphinx, La Turbie, Nice and Monte Carlo and other attractions on the itinerary.

The Mediterranean has so many attractions that there is space but for one—Egypt, the sphinx and the Pyramids; Egypt knew a lot that our civilization does not yet know. For centuries the Sphinx hid her face covered by sand. Recently excavations have shown what they looked like, but the riddle of the Sphinx is yet unsolved. Cairo save for the fact that its medieval quarter—the city of Aladdin and the Arabian Nights remains—has modern hotels and spacious boulevards. Days spent in Cairo are days remembered. People of every station and nationality are in the crowds; their garments of varied colors add to the picturesque settings of brilliant colored mosques; and the scenes with their beautiful waifs are a delight to travelers. Hipping could have written "Ship me somewhere West of Hue."

When The Thermometer Hits Zero

Motordom turns to Oak Motor Oil for it puts June in the crankcase. Even at 30° below zero when other oils are stiff as rubber or hard as ice, Oak flows freely, lubricating every part and bearing. No frozen motors or run down batteries with Oak—only June starting and June service.

No Carbon

This marvelous oil whose performance has amazed oil experts everywhere does not form carbon. It burns cleanly, preventing sticky valves and many repair bills. It lubricates thoroughly, for its viscosity (or "body") is greater than that of the heaviest of oils under summer heat.

Try a crankcase of it today. Many of your troubles will be over. Find out from your motor what oil experts learned from rigid tests against all other oils.

A peppy, smooth running car awaits when you fill its crankcase with Oak.
