

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules Keep You Healthy

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It cannot harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

TWO HOMES MADE HAPPY

By Women Who Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried," is the statement made by Mrs. Goldie Shoup of St. Joseph, Illinois. She declares that after taking the Compound she is in better health than before.

Mrs. J. Storms of 29 Lane Street, Paterson, N. J., writes: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends." These statements were taken from two enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from using the Vegetable Compound. Both Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. When women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness, their own life and that of their family is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their household easily, happy homes are the result.

Thousands of testimonial letters have been received from women in different walks of life, stating that the Compound has helped them.

The BABY

Why do so many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful spells and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night?

If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distasteful dose of castor oil does so much good.

Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely, at first sign of colic; or constipation; or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor, always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria.

The doctor often tells you to do just that; and always says Fletcher's. Other preparations may be just as pure, just as free from dangerous drugs, but why experiment? Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold!

And This Is Counted Good Legal Defense

"Criminal trials are involved with so many technicalities nowadays," said Attorney L. G. McCann, who at one time was a noted prosecuting attorney, "that unquestionably a great many criminals escape their just deserts. Leniency to women witnesses was largely responsible for the opening wedge; and precedent, the bugaboo of all trial lawyers, has done the rest.

"What could be more absurd than the testimony of Mike the Killer, re-arrested shortly after doing time under the name of Jones?"

"Now, Mr. Jones," coos the prosecutor, "isn't it true that you were released from the penitentiary only a month ago, after doing ten years for murder?"

"And Mr. Jones, alias Mike the Killer, who has read the newspapers, promptly answers, 'I don't remember.'"

Flood Brought "Gifts"
Many persons returning to their homes after the flood waters had receded in Vermont found unusual "gifts." In one house a cow was found, alive and contentedly reposing on a sofa in a second-story room, and in the dilapidated library in another dwelling stood a small, white marble statue of the Venus de Milo, unharmed and as beautiful as ever, but it had never been there before and no one knew where it came from.

IF I FORGET
I've been too much alone of late,
Too long adrift in starry skies;
I feel a drowsiness that numbs
All earthly pain, weighs down my eyes.

As though dark opiate I had sipped,
Distilled from night's emurpured dew,
Oh, what if I forget to hide
My high romance, unknown to you?

When Day folds up his red gold tent,
I seek his sandaled footprints, made
Upon the western dun of Time,
And soon I join his cavalcade.

By chance some night if I forget
To glide back home from popped dream,
Look up where comet swiftly flies,
A part I'll be of its silver stream.
—Marcia Lewis Leach in the New York Times.

Dons Man's Attire.
From London Daily Mail.
A beautiful princess, 19 years old, clever and accomplished, who has been banished from Japan and returned to her relatives in Pekin, had just returned to Japanese territory.

She is the Princess Chin, daughter of the late Prince Su, of the former reigning house of the Celestial empire, who proved too big a handful for her Japanese foster parents to handle.

Princess Chin was adopted by N. Kawashima of Dairen, a friend of her father, and brought up as a Japanese girl, attending a girls' finishing school in Tokio under the name of Miss Yoshiko Kawashima. She blossomed in culture and beauty, but in the past three or four years she has developed the principle of self determination to a marked degree.

She scorned all offers of marriage
Not a Paying Concern.
From the Weekly Scotsman.
Visitor—Do you find poultry-keeping pays?
Farmer—Well, no, I can't say it pays me, but it pays my son Mike.

Visitor—How's that?
Farmer—Well, you see, I bought him the fowls, I have to pay for their keep, and buy the eggs from him and he eats them.

Q. What does the importation of jewels for watches and clocks amount to?
A. R. R.
A. Imports of jewels for watches and clocks for 1926, amounted to $1,783,973, and of this amount Switzerland furnished $1,559,555 worth.

with both Japanese and Chinese suitors and announced that she intended to devote her life to the task of replacing the deposed boy emperor of China upon his throne. Finding that she could accomplish little or nothing as a girl, she kicked her silken kimono and her broad-based sashes into a corner and donned man's clothes, scandalizing her foster relatives by wearing these on all occasions and by choosing only young men as her associates.

Her foster father was obliged to abandon the task of looking after this too lively princess, and she was sent to Pekin. Recently she returned to Dairen, traveling by steamer to Tientsin, having had fellow passengers and crew by the ears because of her behavior enroute, when she insisted upon being a man for the time being.

The Women of Iceland.
From the New York Sun.
In recognition of their political freedom, the women of Iceland are engaged in their greatest joint undertaking. This is the erection of a hospital already under construction at the largest in the country. It is at the capital, Reykjavik.

So writes Fraulein Aslang Agustsdottir, president of the Y. W. C. A. in Iceland. "Every year we celebrate June 19, the day we got our vote," writes Fraulein Agustsdottir. "All through the years we have been collecting money for the fund on that day. We felt we could not show our appreciation better than by raising this fund."

Women in Iceland have the same legal right as men to fill municipal and state offices. There is one woman member of the atting, Iceland's parliament. There are several women physicians and a number of other

Return Engagements.
From the Wichita Eagle.
"Well, have you ever seen me with more than I could carry?" growled a husband one day recently when he was having something of an argument with his wife about the few little drinks he did take just now and then.

"Well, perhaps not," sighed the wife, trying to calm things down a bit, "but I have seen you when you should have made two more trips for your load."

Q. How long have President and Mrs. Coolidge been married? F. H. P.
A. They were married October 4, 1905.

women have taken university degrees. While girls are employed as clerks and stenographers, most of the agricultural work and the cleaning and drying of fish for exporting is done by women. The Y. W. C. A. has a center in Reykjavik and is a member of the world's committee, the international movement of the Y. W. C. A. It reaches girls and women of many classes and occupations.

Q. Why was the custom of driving on the right side of the road established in America? J. F. E.

A. Gould in his "Right and Left-Handedness" is of the opinion that it is due to the fact that the earliest colonists were not preponderantly English. Among the first Puritan settlers there were many Dutch and to this France added her complement. They were from the continent where the custom of passing to the right had long been prevalent. During the early period of colonization, the people were accustomed to traveling afoot and ever in England it was customary for pedestrians to go the right even while vehicles went to the left. This custom of going to the right probably became fairly well established in America before vehicles were used to any great extent: When large wagons or "schocners" came into use, the driver being right-handed sat upon the near wheel-horse. He therefore sat on the right to operate the brake with his right hand or foot. This was important in traveling over hilly country or ungraded roads. It can thus readily be seen that under these various influences the custom of going to the right at all times became firmly established.

Millionaire President.

By Gerald W. Johnson, in Harper's
Republican leaders, now six months before the convention, are so strongly convinced of the possibility of electing a millionaire president of the United States that they are giving scant attention to anyone else. Mr. Mellon is perhaps the second richest man in the country. Mr. Hoover is said to have made his first million at the age of 27. Mr. Lowden married a Pullman. Mr. Dawes, before he entered politics, was a power among the great bankers. Mr. Longworth's family owns the heart of Cincinnati's business district.
