

Are You Really Well?

To Be Fit There Must Be Proper Kidney Action.

Do you find yourself running down—always tired, nervous and depressed? Are you stiff and achy, subject to nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizzy spells? Are kidney secretions scanty and burning in passage? Too often this indicates sluggish kidneys and shouldn't be neglected.

Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Doan's are endorsed everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

The BABY

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was perfectly harmless, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will right a baby's stomach and end almost any little ill. Frequentness and fever, too; it seems no time until everything is serene.

That's the beauty of Castoria; its gentle influence seems just what is needed. It does all that castor oil might accomplish, without shock to the system. Without the evil taste, it's delicious! Being purely vegetable, you can give it as often as there's a sign of colic; constipation; diarrhea; or need to aid sound, natural sleep.

Just one warning: It is genuine Fletcher's Castoria that physicians recommend. Other preparations may be just as free from all doubtful drugs, but no child of this writer's is going to test them! Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold.

Admiral Not Informed

From the Milwaukee Journal. Admiral Brumby, who had charge of the fleet that was trying to rescue the men on the S-4, didn't know what it was all about. On the witness stand he admitted that he was not versed in the construction of submarines, that he knew nothing about the details of what was going on down below. He had no explanation to offer as to why the buoy lines parted and the position of the submarine was lost for hours—precious hours. He didn't know why, when an air line was finally attached to the salvage compartment to the torpedo room, where the tappings of the men had been heard, was not also connected. In fact, he seemed not to know that there was such a line in the construction of a submarine.

So far as Admiral Brumby is concerned, judging by his own admissions, he might as well have been ashore. He did not have the knowledge to keep his hand on the operations at a time when hours, yes, even minutes, may have meant the difference between life and death for men in the service of the country.

We submit that this self-revelation is about the worst that has been made by any admiral. It lends color to what Admiral Magruder said about "swivel chair" flag officers of the service. If there are many more like the head of the salvage fleet, it is no wonder we have naval accidents, and after the accident, so our rescue efforts come to naught.

Defensible Reforms
From the Des Moines Tribune. To put cigars on the same level with opium or morphine would be manifestly unwarranted. To put them on the same level with alcohol would be equally unwarranted. Do we not weaken our fight on the narcotics by creating the impression that we do not draw scientific lines?

The use of tobacco, however, we may feel about it personally, is to be put with the use of coffee. Both tobacco and coffee are injurious to some people, and perhaps everybody would be better off without either. But neither one has been taken over

WORDINESS

John Galsworthy, whether by journalists, poets, novelists or clergymen, is bad for the language... and by over-expression I mean the use of words running beyond the sincere feeling of writer or speaker or beyond what the event will sanely carry. From time to time a crusade is preached against it from the text: "The cat was on the mat." Some Victorian scribe, we must suppose, once wrote: "Stretching herself with feline grace, and emitting those sounds immemorially connected with satisfaction, Grimalkin lay on a rug whose richly variegated pattern spoke eloquently of the Orient and all the wonders of the Arabian Nights." And an exasperated reader annotated the margin with that shorter version of the absorbing event. How the late Georgian scribe will express the occurrence we do not yet know. Thus perhaps: "What there is of cat is cat is what of cat there lying cat is what on what of mat lying cat." The reader will probably annotate the margin with "Some cat!"

Revolutionary period. Golfers will hold that his pioneering advocacy of golf is still another title for fame for Dr. Rush. But his urgings failed to implant here the game which he had seen played in Scotland in his medical student days at Edinburgh, the game which he declared would add 10 years to a man's life.

Dr. Rush's plea for golf was made in a book which he published in Philadelphia in 1772. He was then professor of chemistry in the College of Philadelphia, and in 1789 by the state as alcohol and the narcotic drugs.

In the end we have got to keep all our reform movements on defensible lines.

We are resorting to mere prejudice when we proscribise things we are not used to ourselves, merely because we do not like them, such as the length of women's skirts, and the like.

Q. Who wrote the song, "Garry Owen?" S. O. C.
A. "Garry Owen" is the name of an old song by Hamilton Clark. It is found in Hitchcock's Collection of Old Songs, published in 1853.

was to become professor of medicine in the first medical school in the United States, the institution from which developed the present medical school of the University of Pennsylvania.

Walking was a form of exercise which Dr. Rush recommended above all others, and swimming next, in this book of 1772, entitled "Sermons to Gentlemen Upon Temperance and Exercise," now treasured by the Historical Society of Pennsylvania in its great library. Fencing he praised too, and skating, jumping "and the active plays of tennis, bowls, quoits and golf."

Golf, however, was so little known in the America of his day that Dr. Rush felt obliged to explain what the word means. Here's an explanation of the ancient and honorable game:

Golf is an exercise which is much used by gentlemen in Scotland. A large common in which there are several little holes is chosen for the purpose. It is played with little leather balls stuffed with feathers and with sticks made somewhat in the form of a brandy-wicket. He who puts a ball into a given number of holes with the fewest strokes gets the game.

The late Dr. McKenzie, author of "Essays on Health and Long Life," used to say that a man would live 10 years longer for using this exercise once or twice a week."

Q. How many shoes of persons working with Portland cement, and other such substances, be protected? N. S.

A. Lime, Portland cement, lye, and other alkaline substances quickly ruin leather. Shoes worn by people working with such substances will last much longer if kept well greased.

From head to heel she was exquisitely modern, and the shopwalker to whom this fair young thing had beckoned felt his heart beat all the faster at the honor done him.

She asked him where she could get "pernells for the eyebrows."

The shopwalker was inclined to deafness, and he misunderstood her. "The stationery section is upstairs, madam," he began.

"But I want them for eyebrows," interrupted the slim young woman, somewhat puzzled.

"Oh, highbrow stuff! Better ask them at the book counter."

ATWATER KENT RADIO

It never goes back on you

Sam Pickard says:

"Radio is probably the greatest boon to education since the printing press was invented." Mr. Pickard, formerly chief of the radio service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is now a Federal Radio Commissioner. The Department of Agriculture is the largest user of radio for informative purposes in the world. Countless families are profiting by its market and weather reports and educational programs for men, women and children. Entertainment—travel—adventure, too—all at your finger tips as you turn the Atwater Kent Own Dial.

YOU can trust Atwater Kent Radio as you would a faithful friend. Your neighbors down the road or over the hill—they know. The dealer in town—he knows. Everybody with radio experience knows.

Knows what? Knows that Atwater Kent Radio will never go back on you. This is its reputation. This is the reason for its leadership. This is why most farm families—buying prudently, selecting carefully—have chosen Atwater Kent as their Radio.

Because so many do buy, the price is low. You, too, can benefit by the economies of careful mass production. Note the new low 1928 prices. Compare our radio with others—for tone, range, selectivity, workmanship—see for yourself that you can pay much more for radio and not get Atwater Kent performance.
