CATTLE TESTING LAW HELD GOOD

Nebraska District Judge Rules Against Objectors-Must Submit to Work

Lincoln, Neb., (UP)-The state law permitting testing of cattle for tuberculosis was found constitutional by Judge W. G. Hastings in district court of Washington county. A permanent injuction was issued against two cattle owners of the county who refused to allow state veterinarians to test their herds. The injunction will permit the work in Washington county to be completed.

Prior to the decision of Judge Hastings, Judge Charles Leslie in the same court found the state law constitutional and issued an injunction against another cattle owner who interferred with state cattle

The eradication of tuberculosis among cattle under the county area plan on May 1, 1928, had been es-tablished in 43 different counties in Nebraska. The counties: Adams. Boone, Buffalo, Burt, Butler, Cass, Cedar, Clay, Colfax, Dawson, Dakota, Dinon, Dodge, Douglas, Fill-more, Frankling, Frontier, Gosper, Hall, Hamilton, Hitchcock, Jefferson, Johnson, Kearney, Lancaster, Nemaha, Otoe, Pawnee, Perkins, Polk, Phelsp, Red Willow, Richardson, Saline, Sappy, Saunders, Seward, Thayer, Thurston, Washington, Wayne and York.

Of these 43 counties cattle testing has been completed to such a degree that 29 have been certified tuberculosis-free accredited areas. The means that tuberculosis among cattle at the time the last complete test of all herds was made was shown less than one-half of one per cent. of the cattle tested.

During the year 1927 there were tested for tuberculosis 34,283 herds comprising 413,721 cattle. As a result of the tests applied 3,876 cattle was classified to be reactors and certified tuberculosis. Tuberculosis cattle thus determined were slaughtered under the meat inspection service of the United States bureau of animal industry at the different market centers, principaly Omaha. The owners of the cattle thus slaughtered received an indemnity from the state and federal governments $100,021.65 of which amount $56,125.65 was paid from state funds and $43,896 was paid from federal funds. In addition to the money paid to the owners of tuberculous cattle as indemnity, there was received by the owners from the same cattle a total of $143,894.08 as salvage from the sale of such cattle to slaughter.

FATE OF BANK GUARANTY LAW IS AT STAKE, SAYS

Lincoln, Neb., (Special) -C. A. Smith of Tilden, president of the Nebraska Bankers' association, addressing Group No. 1 bankers here today said that unless the bankers of Nebraska, state and national, laid aside their petty prejudices and jejalousies and got behind some plan for rescuing the state deposit guaranty fund, there could be no real solution of the problem that threatens its coninued existence.

He said that the next legislaturewould witness the presentation of dozens of different plans, and that in the public interest the bankers should, unselfishly and with the public good only in mind, get behind some feasible plan that will afford real relief.

Secretary Peck of the association said that the state and nationa! bankers alike, regardless of whether they favor or oppose the guaranty system, are agreed that its collapse must be prevented, since that would be a hard blow to all interests in the state.

At War On Prohibition

THE LONG-RANGE debate between Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York (left) and William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, continues, with the latter declaring the one fundamental issue to be: "Shall a State be permitted to disregard any portion of the Constitution which it elects not to obey?" The Governor had asserted the Volstead Act was a part of the laws of New York State, and no further enforcement laws were necessary there. Said Mr. McAdoo: "Police enforcement is the principle and normal function of the State Governments. Deprived of the effective cooperation of the police of the States, the Amendment becomes a nullity. This is what happened in New York and Maryland."

BEST KNOWN OPERAS SCORED IN ENGLISH WITH WOMAN'S HELP

-A seductive Car-Chicago, men enticing Jose in Americanized English; a dying Mimi recalling past happiness in the language of the United States, and a disillusioned Ponio lamenting in words that need no libretto, now are available to American grand opera producers.

Through the financial aid of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, the American Opera society has had "Carmen," "La Boheme," "I'Pagliacci," and 17 other standard and best known operas translated into English.

The American Opera society believes that grand opera will be appreciated and understood by greater audiences if its rendition is Americanized. The McCormick translations remove the objection of producers that scores in English are
