FAMILY REUNION AT THE ZIMMERMAN HOME

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Zimmerman was the scene of a merry time last Tuesday evening when all their children gathered at their home for a reunion. This was the first time that all of the children had been at home at the same time for more than fifteen years. A seven o'clock dinner was served to the sixteen members of the family. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Zimmerman and daughter, Miss Ruth, Hutchinson, Kansas. Dr. John Zimmerman, and daughter, Miss Frances, Chicago. Harold Zimmerman, daughters, Patsy and Betty Jane, and son, Bobby, Hastings, Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nemic and son, Robert, Spencer, Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zimmerman, daughters, Lois Jean and Shirley Ann, Ann. Pictures were taken of the family during the evening.

OLD SETTLERS PICNIC.

The Holt County Old Settlers picnic in the Morrow grove has been in progress yesterday and today. A large crowd of O'Neill people as well as people from over the county have been in attendance. Arthur F. Mullen delivered an address at one o'clock. The remainder of the afternoon was occupied with a base ball game between Redbird and Lynch which was won by Lynch; other minor sports were enjoyed by those who did not attend the ball game. The O'Neill band furnished the music.

O'NEILL BLANKS REDBIRD AT REDBIRD, SUNDAY

One of the best ball games of the season was played at Redbird last Sunday when the O'Neill boys shut out the Redbird team 2 to 0. Honeycutt allowed two hits for O'Neill while Tomlinson submitted to three safe ones. A large and enthusiastic crowd witnessed the game.

BIG AUTOMOBILE CAPITALIZATION

The General Motors company is incorporated for more than a billion dollars; next comes the Ford plant worth $750,000,000. The Chrysler-Dodge consolidation represents if completed a capitalization of $245,000,000 and the merger of the Studebaker-Pierce Arrow automobile companies will make a capital pool of $160,000,000.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, D. C. August 7. The spontaneous sentiment for Hoover and Curtis visible in every direction during the first month of the national presidential campaign has surprised even Republican leaders at the party headquarters here. Not only has the ticket stirred up an unusual degree of enthusiasm among Republican voters for this stage of the contest, but the number of Democrats who are leaving their party to declare allegiance to the Republican candidates is unprecedented.

The combined popularity of Mr. Hoover and Senator Curtis seems to have a nation wide appeal to voters of all parties. This is said to be particularly true in the middle west, where voters are inclined to view the record of Tammany Hall as an outstanding issue of this campaign, according to every visitor from that section. Reports to that effect have been brought to Washington by callers from Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, Indiana, Illinois and a number of other states.

One of the leading Democrats to endorse the Hoover-Curtis cause has been former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, author of the federal reserve act and of the farm loan act, who announced that he would support Mr. Hoover for president, because of the Republican candidate's monumental record in preserving human life, during and after the war.

"Herbert Hoover in my opinion, is the best qualified man ever presented by any party in America for the presidency during my lifetime," declared Senator Owen.

He asserted that Tammany is the only issue of the campaign as between the candidates, and urged his fellow Democrats to join him in the fight to prevent "the Tammanizing of the government of the United States."

Another nationally-known Democrat who followed Owen's lead was Vance C. McCormick, of Harrisburg, Pa., national chairman of the Democratic party in 1916.

Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University, one of the country's best known economists, who supported Woodrow Wilson in both 1912 and 1916 and has voted for Democratic residential candidates since, came out with a ringing statement for Herbert Hoover, in which he emphasized the various counts on which the Republican candidate deserves the nation's support.

The resignation of Senator F. M. Simmons, veteran Democratic leader of North Carolina from the Democratic national committee, on which he has served for 30 years, is regarded by political observers as one of the most severe thrusts yet made at the Democratic national ticket. Senator Simmons, whose influence in his own state has been equalled by few leaders in the country's political history, gave no reason for his action, but his uncompromising opposition to control of his party by the Tammany wing in the past supplies a probable cause.

The determination of the Republican leaders to carry the fight to the opposition party on the tariff issue was expressed by Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Senate finance committee, who challenged the sincerity of the plank in the Democratic platform which purports to guarantee protection to industry and agriculture.

The country had a bitter experience with Democratic promises on the tariff when it elected Grover Cleveland president, Senator Smoot recalled.

AL SMITH REPUDIATES EQUALIZATION FEE OF McNARY-HAUGEN BILL

The friends of Al Smith who have been depending on him for farm relief through the McNary-Haugen bill are going to be sadly disappointed in their man.

The Omaha World-Herald of last Saturday in an interview carries the following, in part:

"Governor Smith put his foot down today on the equalization fee feature of the McNary-Haugen farm bill, declaring that it was unacceptable to him.

"The democratic presidential nominee reiterated that he recognizes the principle of controlling the sale of agricultural surpluses, the cost to be borne by the group benefited, but he has no definite plan in mind for carrying out that principle.

"Smith was led into a brief discussion of his farm relief views today by newspaper men who sought more light on his statement issued yesterday after his conference with George N. Peek, Illinois farm leader, who has swung to his support.

"One reporter asked whether in stating 'control of the sale of the agricultural surplus is recognized by our platform as an essential need, cost to be imposed on the unit benefited,' he had endorsed the equalization fee proposition, which President Coolidge contended was unconstitutional.

"The lead editorial in this morning's New York World sums up my views correctly," Smith responded. A reporter furnished him a copy and the nominee read aloud:

"We take it that Governor Smith's declaration comes down to this:

"(a)—That the democratic party is committed to the principle of controlling the sale of agricultural surpluses, the cost to be born by the group benefited."

"(b)—That the plan for applying this principle contained in the McNary-Haugen bill is not acceptable to him.

"(c)—That he has no plan of his own for carrying out that principle."

BLANCHE MOHR.

Blanche, the fifteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mohr, residing a few miles southwest of O'Neill, dropped dead Monday afternoon about three o'clock while assisting her mother in driving some cows into a lot near the home. Blanche had apparently been enjoying good health and her sudden death came as a shock to her parents and friends who had known her as an apparently healthy girl.

Blanche was born October 28, 1912, on a farm six miles northwest of O'Neill, and has spent all of her life in the vicinity of O'Neill, two years of which was in O'Neill prior to two years ago; she while a resident of O'Neill the family resided in the northern part of the city. Last winter she attended school in Atkinson and was a member of the girls glee club of that city; she was a young lady who enjoyed a host of friends.

Besides her parents the deceased leaves two brothers, Johnnie and Francis, and three sisters, Doris, Lois and Alice.

The funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10:00 from the Methodist church at Atkinson, conducted by Rev. S. M. Omart; burial was in the protestant cemetery at Atkinson.

The pall bearers were six girl friends from Atkinson. Biglin Bros., undertakers, had charge of the funeral.

E. S. NICKERSON WRITES.

Papillion, Neb., July 8, 1928. Mr. J. B. O'Sullivan, O'Neill, Neb. Dear Sir: I was much interested in your article appearing in the Bee-News, of July 1, describing an ancient village of the Pawnees in Holt county, particularly as to the pottery fragments discovered.

I do not profess either very extensive or intensive study of the Pawnees, but did some 30 years ago make some study of the pottery found on the Upper Loup site, along the Cedar and the Skidee sites.

A considerable part of the collection made at that time by myself, Mr. William Brown, of Fullerton, are now at Lincoln, in the museum of the Historical society, and which we turned over to Mr. E. E. Blackman in May, 1899.

The fragments of pottery as I recall them now after these many years, were mostly black, a few specimens were gray and of reddish gray. Many showed the impressions on the outside grass lining to keep the clay from sticking to the wicker work.

In no case was it glazed, the baking lot being sufficient to fuse the sand.

Other Specimens gave the appearance of having moulded in a hollowed out stump, and most of the specimens were without handles, appearing to have been on the bowl.

Several pieces showed attempts at decoration, but the ornamentation being very simple, some with several straight parallel lines apparently running around the top of the vessel, others ornamented with short slanting parallel lines as [|||||]. A few fragments showed design quite artistic.

The composition or peculiarities of these fragments showed they contained small quartz pebbles, mica and tempered with fine sand.

I was also interested in the de-

Indifference costs money

WHEN your motor starts slowly and your acceleration is weak, when you get gas knocks and shift to second or low gear for every little hill, you are wasting gasoline and money. Such indifference is expensive.

Better change to balanced Red Crown Gasoline, if your motor is free from carbon. It will give you quick starts, plenty of power and big mileage per gallon. It is uniform, power-full, economical gasoline.

But if you have one of the new high-compression motors or a motor that is heavily carbonized, use RED CROWN ETHYL GASOLINE. It is ideal high compression fuel—a combination of always-reliable Red Crown Gasoline and Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound. It eliminates gas knocks, runs the motor more quietly, develops more power. Costs more by the gallon but less by the mile. Use it in truck, tractor and passenger car.

Buy your gasoline and oil where you see the Red Crown Sign—the sign of quality products and prompt, obliging, courteous service.
