PLAINVIEW BOY, 16, KILLS SELF IN BARN

Worry Over School Work Said to Have Caused Clifford Ogg's Act.

The following account of the suicide of Clifford Ogg, of Plainview, appeared in the Tuesday issue of the Norfolk News. Clifford was a nephew of Mrs. George Bressler of this city, and has visited in O'Neill a number of times; his last visit here was during the summer:

Plainview, Neb., Oct. 2: Worry over school work is believed to have caused Clifford Ogg, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Maud Ogg, living in the east part of Plainview, to kill himself by firing a charge from a 410 calibre shotgun into his head yesterday afternoon while in the barn near his home.

About 5 o'clock, Mrs. Ogg, while walking toward the business section to do some shopping, met her son who was returning home from school. She asked Clifford to accompany her while she made some purchases, but he told her he did not care to, saying he was going home.

Upon her return home, Mrs. Ogg noticed that her son was not in the house. She then went to the barn where she discovered the door had been fastened from the inside. Going to a side window, Mrs. Ogg saw her son on the floor with the weapon beside him.

The school boy, some time between 5 and 6 o'clock, placed the weapon against the side of his head and pulled the trigger. A small hole in the side of his head was caused by the charge, and powder burns could be seen about his skull.

A coroner's inquest was held at the home last evening, and it was decided that young Ogg committed suicide. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

JOHN BARRETT.

John Barrett died at his home northeast of O'Neill, Saturday, September 29th, following an illness covering several months.

Mr. Barrett was born on June 5, 1870, in Illinois; he came to this county with his parents fifty-three years ago when a small boy and has continued to make this his home ever since.

During the year 1896 he was united in marriage to Mary Larson, in Austin, Minnesota; twelve children were born to this union—seven boys and five girls, Lawrence Barrett, Ardmore, S. D.; Patrick, John, Carl, Richard, Henry, George, Alice, Mary, Eva, Evelyn and Mrs. Irene Hardesty, all of O'Neill.

The deceased leaves a wife, twelve children, two brothers, Arthur Barrett, of Sioux City, Iowa, and Thomas Barrett of this city, and one sister, Miss Alice Minton also of O'Neill, besides a number of grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

HEAD-MAGIRL.

Miss Nell Magirl formerly of this city was united in marriage to Clarence M. Head, of Randolph, at Yankton, last Saturday morning. A Yankton paper carried the following account of the wedding:

At a beautiful church service at Sacred Heart church, Saturday morning, September 29th, at 8 o'clock, Miss Nell C. Magirl became the bride of Clarence M. Head.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Msgr. Lawrence Link, who was also celebrant at the nuptial mass. Miss Rose Adams, church organist, played the wedding march and John Walsh, before the service, sang "At Dawning" and "Ave Maria" during the mass.

The bridal couple were attended by Miss Lucile Head, of Sioux City, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, and Dr. R. F. Magirl, of Jackson, Nebraska, brother of the bride, acting as best man. Miss Magirl wore as her wedding costume a gown of harvest brown flat crepe, fashioned robe de style, velvet trimmed and with accessories to match. Her bridal bouquet was a shower spray of bride's roses.

Following the ceremonies there were automobiles at the church for the wedding party taking them to the Louis Schoenher home, where a three course wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives and a few close friends of the two families. The dining rooms were artistically decorated in a color scheme carrying out the bride's colors of pink and white. During the breakfast WNAX gave a musical program dedicated to the bridal pair. Miss Esther Smith singing "I Love you Truly" and other selections. The guests viewed the many handsome wedding gifts which were displayed during the reception hours.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Magirl, of O'Neill, Nebraska, is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy, of that city, and also of the state normal school at Wayne. For a few years she has been engaged in teaching in South Dakota, for the past year being a resident of Yankton, where she has made a large circle of friends, being a valued and willing worker for her church. She is a member of Sacred Heart Council of the Catholic Order for Foresters, and of Willard Court, Catholic Daughters of America. She has also taken an active part in various social affairs.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Head, of Randolph, Nebraska, a well known pioneer family of northeastern Nebraska. Reared in Cedar county, he has a wide acquaintance in the community. He is a graduate of Randolph high school, and also an active church worker in the Order of Foresters and Knights of Columbus.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Head will be at home on their farm near Randolph where the home has been placed in readiness for the bride.

Clayton Thomson, Meek, Nebraska, and Miss Icle Area Wells, Redbird, Nebraska, were married at the manse of the Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Beers.
