The Modern Home"

ELECTRIC lighting was once the "last word" in a modern home. Today everyone uses electric lights and a really modern home uses electricity for many other purposes just as necessary as lighting. Electricity has become the general house servant. It cooks, washes, irons, cleans, refrigerates and does many other tasks.

Your "Electric Bill" may now be somewhat larger than your "Lighting Bill" used to be yet small as compared to the valuable services performed.
