

"Public Ownership" "Private Management" "Government Control"

These three elements combined have proven the most successful in the conduct of America's public utilities.

Public Ownership:

The wide distribution of utility securities among small investors has created true public ownership. Any one may share in the profits of utility companies who will; yet, no one is compelled to invest against his will as in the case of government ownership.

Private Management:

Only under private management is there incentive for personal initiative and effort so necessary for the successful conduct of any business.

Government Control:

Governments have proven eminently effective in controlling the very business enterprises which they cannot successfully operate. Government control protects the interests of both customer and stockholder.

America enjoys the best utility service in the world because of "Public Ownership," "Private Management" and "Government Control."

STUNNING SUMMER CREATIONS TO BE WORN AT SEASHORE

There used to be a time when the well dressed woman depended on the Parisian Fashion Creators for the clothes she wore. Some women who want to be different still get their clothes from Paris. The great majority of the women of America, and they by the way are considered the best dressed women in the world, get that reputation by patronizing the local shops where the product of American fashion creators are on hand. In this series of photographs there are shown a quartette of creations especially planned for wear this summer at the seashore. The upper left shows an extremely modish beach and bathing costume by Mary Mowitzky. The materials are blue and white plaid rayon with a jersey coat of the same material and lined with toweling. The upper right portrays an American designed swimming ensemble of red and white rayon with a wool jersey and a straw bonnet. The lower left is a blue and white rayon gingham creation. Daffodils and dolls and a sailor hat give this beach ensemble just the right salty touch. The lower right is an extremely colorful creation in blue and green striped rayon done in the most modern manner. Insert shows a checkered beach hat. (Herbert Photos, N. Y.)

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET.

(By Anita Liddy.)

The Junior-Senior Banquet was held at the Golden Hotel, Thursday, May 16, 1929.

The scheme used was the Maypole. This was worked out in the four pastel shades, Nile green, heliotrop, light amber and bluish pink. A most effective table was made by using an individual color for every thing at one place.

Small dolls dressed in crepe with full skirts served as favors. Ribbons held by the doll and place cards were fastened from the candle Maypole.

Much fun was had by all from the noise-makers, caps, confetti, and paper ribbon.

Dancing served as amusement for those who cared to dance, while others entertained themselves.

The subject for the program was taken from Browning's happy poem, "Pippa Passes."

Historic Quebec Rendez-vous for Winter Sports Enthusiasts

"On rising steel we rush or wildly
And who can tell, Oh, who can tell the Joy we feel!"
—From "The Skaters' Song."

When King Winter holds both town and country in his frosty embrace the lover of the great outdoors must find some outlet for his energy. What could be more fitting than a trip to Quebec, the historic Ancient Capital, where skating, skiing, snow-shoeing and tobogganing are at their very best from Christmas until well into March? No city in the wide world is more ideally situated than Quebec; no city possesses her natural advantages for winter sports.

Beautiful in summer, in winter she is dazzling! With countless hills serving as toboggan slides, with skating rinks and gentle slopes for skiing; gleaming roads and glistening snow-fields, the city itself seems fashioned by nature for winter play and spectacle. From far and near, winter sports enthusiasts gather at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec's medieval hostelry, there to participate in all the glorious winter pastimes for which Quebec is known the world over. Descending from the shoulder of the Citadel to Dufferin Terrace is the famous Quebec toboggan slide, which runs the length of Dufferin Terrace and past the Chateau. At night the slide is decorated with multi-colored lights, and the breathtaking descent from the Citadel to the protective bunker beyond the Chateau is an experience never to be forgotten.

One of the great attractions during Quebec's winter season is the International Dog-Sled Derby, a classic of the snow usually held late in February. Well known "huskies" and their teams of "huskies" gather from all parts of the United States and Canada to take part in this race which is one of the best means of ascertaining just what breed of dog is most suited to stand the grueling hardships of running mail and supplies to isolated lumber camps and trading posts.

Come to our play, "Suppressed Desires."
