DAIRY FARM
For Sale at Auction

Sale to be held at 10:00 o'clock a. m. in front of the Court House in O'Neill, Nebraska on—

SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1929

For the purpose of closing the Thomas Carlson estate there will be sold at public auction two hundred and forty acres of farm and dairy land. This farm joins the City of O'Neill and is one of the best all around dairy farms in Holt county. The Elkhorn river runs through it, and there is a small lake on it and plenty of timber. It is an ideal place for raising stock.—Terms will be announced when the sale is called.

afternoon to celebrate. Charlene and Halla Hauts took their places in the Findley car going to Spencer. Charlene and Halla Hauts, in company with a bunch of young folks from the M. E. Epworth League of Atkinson, are attending the League Institute at Chadron State park. They will be gone all this week and a part of next week.

The farmers around here are pretty light hearted nowadays. The weekly rains are encouraging. They are thankful that they did not get any of the hail that fell at Atkinson Sunday afternoon, although it didn't do any serious damage. The only thing that is discouraging is the old machinery which will hardly hang together and thus delays the work.

Sunday, June 30th Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson and son Lowell left their home west of Emmet for a vacation trip. They drove to Yankton and then to Akron, Iowa, where they visited nephews of Mr. Johnson. They also visited the Morrison family who recently spent a vacation at the Johnson ranch here and whose home is at LaMars, Iowa. At Sargent Bluff they visited at the home of Walter M. Thompson. Walter is a young man whom Mr. and Mrs. Johnson reared. Mrs. Johnson says that she greatly enjoyed the trip but most of all she enjoyed the clean house when she returned home. Sewell Johnson remained at home to run the ranch and surely did a good job, says his mother. The Johnsons returned home July 4th.

(Too late for last week)

A wedding dance was given for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carrigan at Pat Barrett's last Friday evening. A large crowd attended and seemed to enjoy the evening.

A dandy rain fell her Sunday night. The cut worms have taken their departure and what corn there is left looks fine. Some small grain has already been cut but the majority is not quite ready yet.

The Emmet baseball team was badly defeated by the Atkinson ball team at Emmet Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are staying at the Sam Jennings farm west of Emmet. Mr. Smith is helping gravel the new highway south of Atkinson.

Dean Beckwith, York League ball pitcher, has had several rides in an airplane from York to Lincoln and from Lincoln to Seward and back. He says that when he gets to York Leagues higher he is going to have a plane of his own.

Emmet friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Davis who formerly operated a general store at Emmet and are now taking a vacation trip, received word last week that they had been fishing in the Ozarks of Missouri. This is an ideal place to fish judging from the following extract taken from "Successful Farming": "Fish there are by the hundreds, the thousands, the millions; bass, small-mouth and big mouth, crappie, goggle-eye and sunfish; game channel cat, jack salmon, or wall-eyed pike from six to ten pounds in weight; rainbow trout, and perch, and whatever they all might be."

Tuesday morning the team with which Vern Beckwith was cultivating ran away. He let them stand while he went to count the remaining rows. When he looked around his team was homeward bound. Vern ran after them but when he got almost near enough to grab the lines the horses gave a leap and were gone. The rattling machine frightened them as they rushed onward. When they arrived at the barnyard they dashed through a steel gate. One horse broke loose and the other lay kicking amid broken machinery and bent gate, but finally scrambled out of the mixup uninjured, nor was anybody hurt.

CELIA ITEMS

W. O. James, the village blacksmith is repairing some machinery for Greenwood and Johnson at the Johnson forge.

A nice rain shower fell here Saturday morning and another one Sunday which was accompanied with quite a wind.

Rev. Rasmussen preached to a large and attentive gathering at the J. V. Johnson home Tuesday evening. There will be services again Tuesday evening July 16.

Charlie Fink and Chris Hinkel called at Johnson's Monday. Mr. Fink bought a truck load of shoats from Johnson which were delivered Tuesday.

A heavy rain storm went over this community and vicinity Sunday night with severe hail in Atkinson and Phoenix. The hail in Atkinson demolished several car tops.

Miss Alpha Johnson returned Tuesday from a four weeks visit with her brothers, Elmer, Albert and Stanley and other relatives at Oakland. She reports they had a severe hail-storm few days ago which damaged the crops considerably.

Tinker, Tinker, W. O., a lot of repairing to make it go, hammer and hurry to make it straight, harvest is coming and cannot wait. Hillard's comes first and then J. V.'s, everybody is busy as buzzing bees. Horses on the trot, we're farmers all, and we are listening to the reaper's call.

Rev. Rasmussen and wife called at the Johnson home the other day and while there saw a sight that should appeal to any preacher, likely in honor of the occasion, a lot of Mrs. Johnson's young fries dutifully collected at the kitchen door. They evidently wanted to enter the ministry.

The Fourth was celebrated safely and sanely by most of the neighbors, but not altogether without a mishap. A few of the neighbors had a picnic dinner at Scotts. A number of children were playing and having a good time in the barn on the hay mow floor when Josephine Scott wanted to do a little climbing on the hay rope. She missed her hold and fell to the floor and knocked her left arm out of joint at the shoulder. She was taken to the doctor immediately who put it back in place.
