

A PAIR OF CAMELS AND A PRETTY MAID

It is a strange fact that Camels are very fond of girls. That is one of the reasons why many of the camels used in the great street parade have girl riders. A camel that is used to having a girl rider will raise a great amount of trouble and sometimes balk entirely if one of the men attendants tries to ride them. A great herd of camels is one of the features of Robbins Bros. 4-Ring Circus which will appear soon.

It hardly meets requirements

A five passenger automobile for a family of 15 might not fit their transportation requirements . . . neither would a telephone system be satisfactory if demands upon it should far exceed its capacity. If lines were too few or other equipment less than needed, telephone users would not have the service they require.

The only way to assure having enough lines and equipment to provide satisfactory service is to plan years in advance and build for the future. By doing this, the telephone company can keep pace with your increasing needs and can operate more economically . . . because carefully planned equipment can be used many years before it needs to be replaced.

Telephone men and women serving you study your telephone needs and endeavor to provide service which will satisfy you in every way. Your comments on your service are invited because they aid in determining what we need to do in order to better fit service to your requirements.

TEMPLETON-VANDEEST

The marriage of Miss Lillian Maxine VanDeest, daughter of Mrs. Lydia Miles, of Hastings, Nebraska, and Kenneth Clyde Templeton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Templeton of this city, took place in the First Presbyterian church of Hastings, at 12:30 o'clock, Sunday July fourteenth, Rev. King, pastor, reading the marriage lines.

Their attendants were Miss Helen Colling of Fremont, and Ray Brandes, of Hastings.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served to the wedding party at the home of the brides' mother.

After dinner Mr. and Mrs. Templeton left for a trip to the Black Hills. After August 1st they will be at home to their friends in Hastings where they each hold a position in the business department of the Hastings Daily Tribune.

The 4-H Sewing Club

The Ever Blooming 4-H Sewing club met at the home of our secretary, Erma Black, July 10th. The answer to roll call was whether or not we had our clothes-pin bags started. Fourteen members were present, one absent. The minutes of the last two meetings were read by the secretary. We received a charter from Washington, D. C., which, to our delight, show us that we were all members of the national club.

The pattern for the quilt which we are going to make was decided upon; everyone will bring a piece of paper for the pattern.

The meeting was adjourned to meet at the home of Ella Holz, Wednesday, July 17th; a dainty lunch was served. All reported as having a good time. We all departed for home hoping to meet each member at the next meeting.

GOLDEN MELODY. SPARKLING DIALOGUE IN ALL-TALKER "Syncopation" at The Royal Scores Hit Sunday and Monday

Marking a new era in film entertainment, "Syncopation", first of RKO's hundred per cent all-talkers, with Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians, will burst from the screen of The Royal Theatre in a veritable fountain of golden melody, song and crackling dialogue.

"Syncopation" has been billed as an extravaganza by the producers, the first great musical review ever to be made, an effort to produce what is actually a full blown musical show in film form. And the result is a rousing, roaring, scoring success, making another step forward in the realm of perfect entertainment.

Aside from the technical aspects which are striking in their results, "Syncopation", first of the new Radio pictures, is a genuinely sparkling musical-comedy success. The stars sparkle, the jazz melodies of Fred Waring's famed Pennsylvanians scintillate, the songs melt the heart and a number of them are real hits. In addition there are all the accoutrements and embellishments of an extravaganza in the specialty musical numbers, the peppy dancers and the sparkling repartee.

And just as you leave a musical show humming the song hits so will you go away humming that haunting theme melody, "I'll Always Be In Love With You," and some of the other original hits written for this show which include, "Jericho," "Do Something," and others.

"Syncopation", which was adapted from Gene Markey's novel, "Stepping High," is a gripping heart interest tale of Broadway hoofers that doesn't despise the tear while it inveigles the hearty laugh from its lair. Barbara Bennett and Bobby Watson portray the leading roles. Others who shine in the scintillating cast are Ian Hunter, Morton Downey, Osgood Perkins, Mackenzie Ward, Verree Teasdale and Dorothy Lee.

"Syncopation" is richly staged and superbly directed by Bert Glennon.

them plenty of good music. The wedding dance will be at Pat Barrett's Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are making their home at the Pat Barrett farm at present.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. John Abart, of Bassett, wrecked her new Plymouth car on the highway east of Emmet. Mrs. Abart had been to Emmet on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Lawrence, taking Kathleen Shorthill with her she started to O'Neill for a visit with her brother Ralph. The little Abart boy was in the rear seat playing with a kitten; in diving over the front seat in pursuit of the kitten he accidentally kicked his mother's hands from the steering wheel which allowed the car to tumble into the ditch. Leo Carney, who saw the accident, says that the car turned over at least three times. The occupants were badly shaken up and frightened but were not injured. Observers say that the car body did not receive a scratch but that the chassis and axles were badly bent. The wind storm Saturday night blew down many grain shocks in this neighborhood, but did no damage otherwise. A dandy rain accompanied the wind.

The following account of a recent storm taken from a letter dated July 9th, and received by Fred Beckwith from his brother, Clyde, who lives at Crawford, Nebraska: "We had a big hail storm south and southeast of town 4th of July night and a cloud burst up the river the next night. That put the engine and first two cars of the Northwestern passenger train in the river. They are just getting the engine out today. There was another heavy rain Saturday night. Everyone was kicking about willing to have the rain stop. The flood put our water system on the bum that they had just spent $65,000 to put in good shape. It also flooded the pork, took out the bridges and cut through the banks just below the town, taking out about two miles of highway No. 20, which made the tourists pretty sore.
