ANNOUNCING something better in motor oils the NEW Polarine

the modern motor oil Over half a century of refining experience —years of research, experiment and test— and new refining processes and equipment! Only these made possible the new Polarine.

First in the small amount of carbon deposited in the motor—less than half as much as from old-process oils of similar grades.

First in fluidity at low temperatures—a pour point far below zero for the lighter grades—seventeen degrees below freezing for the heaviest grade.

First in stability when the motor heats—free from wax and other ingredients which run water-thin under heat.

First in clearness and bright color—an indication of purity and superior quality.

First in resistance to wear and dilution—slow-consuming, safe, economical.

An entirely new deal in motor-oil—geared to the needs of modern motors! That is why we call the new Polarine "The Modern Motor Oil." The only old things about the new Polarine are its name and its price—not a penny more than for old-process Polarine. At Red Crown Service Stations and Dealers everywhere in Nebraska.
