

Why does the omelet-recipe say SERVE AT ONCE?

The minute an omelet is hot from the pan, it is puffed up, tender... at its best... And the minute vegetables are fresh from the garden, all their flavor, all their juice are at their high point.

The way to have white wax beans while they are tender; and carrots when so crisp they cook creamy before they are creamed... the way to have all vegetables at their climatic of freshness, is to pick them from a garden of your own. And the way to grow vegetables approaching perfection is to plant Ferry's purebred seeds.

These seeds are perfected the way breeders perfect cattle. A Ferry-bred tomato is no more like an ordinary tomato than Ferry's sweet corn is like horse corn. Find Ferry's purebred seeds at the "store around the corner." And write for Ferry's Seed Annual. This gives you 73 years' experience in gardens before you start—news of much paper—and even of better ways to cook vegetables. D. M. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Michigan. P. S.—THE GARDENER HAS NO SECOND CHANCE. PLANT THE BEST.

Want fresh lima beans with Sunday roasts? These tender varieties are in this Annual. Only purebred seeds can produce their rich, buttery flavor.

DUMPERT—CLEARY

(By Emmet Correspondent)
A pretty wedding ceremony occurred Tuesday morning of last week at 8:30, at the Catholic church in Emmet when Miss Elizabeth Marie Cleary of Atkinson became the bride of Mr. Edward J. Dumpert of O'Neill. The Rev. Fr. M. F. Byrne, Emmet parish priest, performed the ceremony.

Miss Cleary wore a dress of tan crepe, with hat and accessories to match. Her bridesmaid, Miss Stella Dumpert, sister of the groom, was dressed in green and wore a light colored hat and accessories. Each carried a bouquet of pink rose buds and ferns.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Cleary, who live on a farm near Atkinson. She is a graduate of the O'Neill high school and the past five years has been teaching school. Two terms she taught in district 67 near O'Neill and the past three in the Gondering district south of Atkinson.

Mr. Dumpert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dumpert, who operate the West Side Dairy at O'Neill. The past few years he has been farming near O'Neill. He and his bride went to Lincoln and other towns in the south-east part of the state where they visited relatives and friends. They will make their home on a farm one-half mile north of O'Neill.

A CORRECTION

The Frontier wishes to correct an error that appeared in last week's issue in the announcement of the wedding of Edward Dumpert and Miss Elizabeth Cleary.

The article read "the bride was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ernst." It should have read "she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Cleary."

FRANK BITNEY

Frank Bitney, one of Holt county's first settlers, passed away at Battle Mountain Sanitarium, Hot Springs, South Dakota, the latter part of last week and the remains were brought to Atkinson, Nebraska, for burial; the funeral services were held from the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon; burial was in the Atkinson cemetery.

In 1873 a colony consisting of Frank Bitney, William Bitney, William Dickerson and family, H. H. McEvony and family, E. H. Thompson and family, L. Prouty and family, and Jennie Schultz drove in covered wagons from Wisconsin to Nebraska and faced the hardships of entering an unsettled and undeveloped country; at that time Wisner, Nebraska, was off the railroad. The colony remained together and settled at a place one mile southwest of O'Neill, Nebraska, and named it Rockford.

One year later the O'Neill colony came to what is now the city of O'Neill and the name was changed to O'Neill, Nebraska.

The memory of Frank Bitney will linger in the minds of the early settlers and those who knew him as one of the real pioneers who located here and braved the Indians and helped make Holt County the good country that it is today.

Later Mr. Bitney moved to what is now Atkinson and laid out and platted the town of Atkinson and conducted a mercantile store therein for a number of years. He donated sites for many public purposes in Atkinson and became one of the principal factors of the community.

He was born in the year 1845. He and two brothers fought in the Civil War with the Twenty-third Wisconsin.

He leaves three sons, Herbert of Atkinson, who was the first white child born in Holt county; Robert of Fremont, and Fred of Grass Valley, California; his wife and daughter, Phoebe, having preceded him in death.
